COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1949.

138th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 31.

HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, JANUARY 4, 1949.

No. 1.

SENATE

JANUARY 4, 1949, 12:00 o'clock, noon

This being the day and hour fixed by the Constitution for the meeting of the General Assembly, the members of the Senate together with the Senators-elect, chosen at the last general election held on November 2, 1948, assembled in the Senate Chamber.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Daniel B. Strickler) called the Senate to order at twelve o'clock noon.

The PRESIDENT. I wish to bring the greetings of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and to wish all of you a very successful legislative session.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. C. MURRAY YOUNG, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Eternal God, Our Father, unto whom all hearts are known of Thee, and from whom no secrets of life are hidden, be pleased to minister unto us today as we face up to the responsibilities of this session of the legislature of our great Commonwealth. Let us pass into that reasonableness and quietness which are so essential to our vocation. We acknowledge our weaknesses and imperfections, and earnestly beseech Thee to inspire us with the spirit of the Master, that we may deal with all problems in the light of understanding and true wisdom. Widen our spiritual horizons and let us feel and hear the call to higher states of being and blessing. Impress us with the fact, O God, that genuine merit lies in personal effort and sacrifice to make our fellows better and happier. We sincerely pray for the eyes of vision and hope, for the arms of faith and confidence, and for the feet of obedience and loyalty. In the name of our Redeemer. Amen.

ELECTION OF PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

Mr. CHAPMAN. I have been directed by the Republican Caucus to place in nomination for the high office of President pro tempore of the Senate of Pennsylvania, one whom I think best qualified to fill that position. That man I have in mind, because of the following qualifications:

1. Because of his honesty and reputation as a square-shooter.
2. Because of the admiration that each Senator has for him and the reverence in which he is held.
3. Because he is a seasoned Legislator and Statesman, and because of his residence in Harrisburg is easily contacted and available at most times.
4. Because he is one who, as State Chairman, carried the State with the largest Republican Majority of any industrial state in the union.

Also, with the qualifications above mentioned he is well versed in the science of Politics.

It is my pleasure to place in nomination for the office of President pro tempore of the Senate, the Honorable M. Harvey Taylor.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I have the honor and the great pleasure of seconding the nomination of my colleague, the Honorable M. Harvey Taylor, for the office of President pro tempore of the Senate, who has and will continue to serve with marked ability and fairness.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I have been directed by the Democratic caucus to place before the Senate in nomination for the Office of President pro tempore of the Senate, one of our colleagues who has led us on the floor of this Senate since the session of 1943.

May I add, Mr. President, that it is only in a country like this that a condition like this exists.

A son of immigrant parents, he has proven to the people of Pennsylvania his leadership for his party and for the people of Pennsylvania. Not possessed with a college education, but he is possessed with a full knowledge of the needs of the people of this Commonwealth.

In 1946, he was the party's nominee for the office of Lieutenant Governor. He has led us well, and he has the respect, I am sure, of the members on both sides of the aisle. His honesty and integrity is known to all of us.

Mr. President, I present the name of the Honorable John H. Dent, of Westmoreland County.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President and members of the Senate, I am very happy at this time to second the nomination of my colleague, Senator John H. Dent, for the office of President pro tempore of the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. Are there any further nominations?

NOMINATIONS CLOSED

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move the nominations for the Office of President pro tempore of the Senate be closed.

Harvey Taylor of Dauphin County, and the Honorable John H. Dent of Westmoreland County. The roll was called and resulted as follows:

The oath of office was accordingly administered.

The PRESIDENT. Members of the Senate, I present to you the newly elected President pro tempore of the Senate of Pennsylvania, and ask him to make a few remarks.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President and members of the Senate, of course, it is pretty hard to talk when given an honor like this, when you start off as a page boy, but this just shows what you can do in America.

I was thinking, when Senator Chapman nominated me, he said I was a statesman. The only other man who ever suggested that was "Hy" Andrews. "Hy" said, "Why don't that Taylor stop being a politician and be a statesman," so I feel now as if I am getting a start as a statesman.

Thank you gentlemen. I hardly know what to say. I promise you this that I will give you every ounce of energy I have, all the intelligence that the Lord gave me, and that is about all any man can do. Thank you so much.

ADMINISTRATION OF OATH TO MAJORITY AND MINORITY FLOOR LEADERS

The PRESIDENT. The next order of business will be the administration of the oath to Majority Floor Leader, the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, and Minority Floor Leader, the gentleman from Westmoreland County, Mr. Dent.

Oath administered by the Honorable J. Paul Rupp, President of the Court of Common Pleas in Dauphin County.

ELECTION OF SECRETARY OF THE SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The next order of business before the Senate is election of Secretary of the Senate.

I nominate this morning, the Honorable G. Harold Watkins, of Butler Township, Schuylkill County, for the office of Secretary of the Senate.

Mr. WOLFE. Mr. President, I am happy to have the honor of seconding the nomination of our good friend and former colleague in this Senate, the Honorable G. Harold Watkins, of Schuylkill County, for the office of Secretary of the Senate.

The CHIEF CLERK. A majority of the Members-elect having answered to their names a quorum is present.

STATEMENT BY MR. BRUNNER

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Chief Clerk, I desire to make a prepared statement with regard to the administering of the oath to the Members-elect. There are two Members who have presented their certificates of election, certified by the Secretary of the Commonwealth that each received a majority of the votes cast in his respective election district. Despite this fact certain constitutional questions have been raised, and in order to avoid a time consuming parliamentary situation which would seriously hamper the organizational proceedings, the Members have voluntarily agreed to stand aside at this time without prejudice to their rights. On behalf of the Majority, I desire to express our deep appreciation for their consideration and cooperation.

STATEMENT BY MR. ANDREWS

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Chairman, I had it in mind to say what the Majority Leader, the gentleman from Montgomery County, has said. However, he has expressed my sentiments better than I could have hoped to have expressed them myself. The Minority membership of this House joins with the Majority in expressing its thanks to the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Kondrath, and the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Altschuler, who have, as the Majority Leader has pointed out, rescued us from a time consuming parliamentary debate which might perchance have degenerated into a wrangle.

It is the more gratifying that the action upon the part of the gentleman from Berks and the gentleman from Philadelphia has been voluntary, and so we join with the Majority in thanking them, which just about, Mr. Chairman, makes it unanimous.

RESOLUTION

OATH ADMINISTERED TO MEMBERS-ELECT

Mr. HOCKER, a Member-elect, offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 4th, 1949.

Resolved, That the Honorable Robert E. Woodside, a Judge learned in the law of the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County, be requested to administer the oath of office required by Article VII of the Constitution, to be taken by the Members of the House of Representatives.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO ESCORT HON. ROBERT E. WOODSIDE TO ROSTRUM

The CHIEF CLERK appointed Messrs. Hocker and Heatherington to escort the Hon. Robert E. Woodside to the rostrum to administer the oath of office to the Members-elect.

OATH ADMINISTERED TO MEMBERS-ELECT

The CHIEF CLERK. A Bible will be found in the desk of each Member-elect for those who swear by the Bible.

The Members-elect will rise and remain standing at their desks during the administration of the oath of office.

The oath of office was then administered to two hundred and five Members-elect.

ELECTION OF SPEAKER

Mr. BRUNNER offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 4th, 1949.

Resolved, That in accordance with the provisions of Article 2, Section 9 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, the House do now proceed to the election of a Speaker, and that the clerks act as tellers.

NOMINATIONS FOR SPEAKER

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Chief Clerk, it gives me great pleasure to arise today to place in nomination for the highest office that this House can bestow, the Speakership, the name of a Member who has served in this House with honor and distinction. I have had the privilege of knowing this Member, who has been a member of the majority since he was first elected, and a good many on both sides of the House have seen him serve in that capacity.

In 1945 he was chosen as the Majority Whip, and in 1947 he became the Majority Leader. When the then Speaker of the House of Representatives was elected to the Congress of the United States, this man succeeded him and has since that time served as acting Speaker of this House, which has given all of us here today an opportunity to see that man, whom I believe we are certain to select as Speaker, to demonstrate his administrative qualifications since he became Acting Speaker.

It is not easy to be a speaker; some men do not possess the necessary qualifications, but I can assure you, Members of the House, that he possesses the qualifications so necessary for that high office. I am sure that all of you will agree that he has demonstrated that he has the prerequisites, that he is just, that he is 'able, and I think he is patient. I am certain that he will recognize the rights and the duties of the Majority and will also recognize the rights of the Minority.

So, at this time, Mr. Chief Clerk, it gives me great pleasure to place in nomination for the Speaker of the House of Representatives a Member of the Majority, the distinguished gentleman from Elk, Honorable Herbert P. Sorg.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Chief Clerk, ladies and gentlemen of the House, it is with distinct pleasure and indeed an honor, to arise and second the nomination of the gentleman from Elk for the highest office that this House can bestow upon one of its Members. There is little that I can add to what the gentleman from Montgomery has said. I think we all recognize the fact that a leader of the House of Representatives must have certain attributes of leadership; he must be fair and just; he must recognize both the rights of the Majority and the rights of the Minority to be heard at all times.

I recall in the 1947 session, when the gentleman from Elk was the Majority Floor Leader, I believe all of us who had the opportunity to serve in that session are convinced with the way he handled himself, the courtesy which he extended not only to the Members on our side of the House but to the Members on the other side of the House. We feel that in him we will have a leader who will conduct the affairs of this House in a speedy and expeditious manner.

I have seen many Speakers since I first came to this House of Representatives. They were all capable, all excellent, but I feel, as Mr. Brunner, the gentleman from Montgomery, has said, when the gentleman from Elk is elected to this high office and when the record is finally written, I am sure that he will have given a pattern for future Speakers that will be hard to attain. I am positive that both the Members on our side of the House and the Members on the Minority side of the House, when our session has come to a close, will say that we have elected to this high office one of the finest Speakers that this Legislature has had in many years.

Mr. SCANLON. Mr. Chief Clerk, ladies and gentlemen of the House, it is certainly a privilege to rise on the floor of this House to place in nomination the name of a man, who most of you know has done a real job on the Democratic side of this House. He was our Whip and was very diligent in his duties, both as a Member of the House and as a member of the various committees on which he served, and in addition to that he was an advocate of the Square Deal.

I listened very attentively to the remarks of my colleague, the gentleman from Montgomery, eulogizing the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg, about being just. It is our opinion on this side of the House that the gentleman that should be picked for Speaker of the House is that gentleman who always gets up and says "Let's be fair." It is a privilege to place in nomination the name of the gentleman from Westmoreland, the Honorable James E. Lovett, as our candidate on this side of the House.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Chief Clerk, I positively can assure you that it would be safe at any time to dismiss the armed guards because we do not contemplate, notwithstanding our augmented forces, we do not contemplate capturing this Speakership by means of physical force. We are all perfectly safe.

Gathered as we are, in this fairyland of flowers, banked high, with the array of feminine beauty, marred by an occasional intruding masculine face, we are engaged in the serious business of electing a Speaker. I am at a bit of a loss, Mr. Chief Clerk, to interpret these floral offerings. I don't know whether they are a remembrance for the brothers who have departed, or a tribute to the many Members who have returned.

We have had prior to this occasion, a few months ago, a very interesting political game, and I notice as a result of that game there were ninety-one home runs and one hundred seventeen errors. Now, Mr. Chief Clerk, I told them that this would happen, I told them that the G.O.P. was getting too fat,—whether in the head or hips I never said. I told them that they ought to reduce, and they have taken my advice and have reduced. Therefore, I am justified in offering them some more advice. I feel I can function as a sort of elder statesman, counselling this session as I did in the past, the Republican majority, which is still a majority, even though it has followed my advice.

Now, I submit to you, gentlemen, that if you were a football coach and you had a winning combination you would not break it up. You have just heard the testimonial to the victories that have been achieved as a result of the "Sorg to Brunner" and "Brunner to Sorg" combination.

Mr. Chief Clerk, every time that Brunner and Sorg marshalled those one hundred and seventy votes and we arrayed out thirty-eight votes, as a result of their brilliant statesmanship, those one hundred and seventy votes just went through our lines. We couldn't hold them with thirty-eight. After the affray and particularly after such a victory they are going to break up that winning combination, and I counsel against it. You will need that combination.

And now, Mr. Chief Clerk, we all remember, and well remember the occasion when I arose on this floor to make a learned argument about the budget, and the gentleman from Elk arose and in his might he said "Does the gentleman from Cambria mean to assert that two and two don't make four?" I sat down; I was licked. Can anybody else duplicate that performance?

I submit to you, Members of the House, that the gentleman from Elk was the greatest legislative babysitter that this House ever had. Just remember the way in which he handled 481. He nursed it, he wiped it, he cleaned it, he brought his baby through. He burped it, he took it back to committee and eventually passed it, and I say that is a record of achievement that you won't find duplicated by any other Member of this House, however mighty he may be.

I second the nomination of the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Lovett. In the Chair, he will be the sort of a man who will lean over backwards for you; he will give you the benefit of the doubt. I have no doubt that the gentleman from Elk, if he becomes the Speaker, will also lean over backward for us. Wouldn't you rather have our man leaning over backward for you than have your man leaning over backward for us?

The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Scanlon, has pointed out that our candidate for Speaker is the only man who has written his personal slogan into the annals of this parliamentary body. "Let's be fair," "Let's be fair" has been heard in every session of this General Assembly since 1933. What more do you want? He has had the legislative experience, he has the temperament, and God knows how you are going to need that in the man you have up there in Chair!

So, Mr. Speaker, I once again in my role of elder statesman, advise the Republican Majority that they pursue the path of wisdom by electing as Speaker of this House the gentleman from Westmoreland, and permitting the gentleman from Elk to continue with his distinguished career upon the Floor.

Mr. COSTA. Mr. Chief Clerk, I move that nominations for Speaker of the House be closed.

The motion was agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. Tompkins asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Chief Clerk, contrary to the attempt of the opposition to make me a Member of their party by Printer's fiat in the belated issue of the 1947-1948 Pennsylvania Manual, for the record I desire to let it be known that in 1947 I was a Republican and am now a Republican, and, therefore, I am happy to cast my vote for the Honorable Herbert P. Sorg.

The CHIEF CLERK. The Tellers agree in their count and the vote is as follows:

Honorable Herbert P. Sorg received one hundred fifteen votes.

Honorable James E. Lovett received ninety votes.

The Honorable Herbert P. Sorg having received a majority of all the votes cast is hereby declared elected Speaker of the House of Representatives.

ELECTION OF SPEAKER MADE UNANIMOUS

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Chief Clerk, I move that the election of the Honorable Herbert P. Sorg, who has now become your Speaker and mine be made unanimous.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMITTEE TO ESCORT SPEAKER-ELECT TO ROSTRUM

The CHIEF CLERK. The Chair appoints Messrs. Brunner and Lovett to escort the Speaker-elect to the rostrum.

OATH OF OFFICE ADMINISTERED TO SPEAKER-ELECT

The CHIEF CLERK. Members of the House, I have the honor to present the Honorable Herbert P. Sorg Speaker-elect of this House of Representatives.

The oath of office was then administered to Honorable Herbert P. Sorg, Speaker-elect of the House of Representatives, by the Honorable Robert E. Woodside.

THE SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) IN THE CHAIR.

ADDRESS BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. Fellow Members, only a short time ago, I wouldn't have dared even to dream that some day I might be selected to preside over this House of Representatives, and I'm sure that no one could be more grateful to you than I am for this high honor.

There should be great respect for the responsibilities of membership in this House, and there should be full realization of the rights of each and every member, all of whom come here as the voices which speak the will of their own thousands of Pennsylvania people. Whether he be of the majority or the minority each member has the right to expect the highest regard for those prerogatives which are his by reason of his duty to give effective representation to the people of his district. He shall have it.

The chair will also have the greatest appreciation of the position of the leaders on both sides of the House. These are the men who have not only the responsibility of membership, but who, by virtue of their selection to leadership, have a special kind of duty both to the members here and the people from all of Pennsylvania. Not only do I pledge to them the cooperation of the chair, but I seriously recommend the establishment of complete mutual confidence between them and the fullest kind of cooperation with them on the part of all the members.

There's work ahead—and it's serious work. Ten millions of Pennsylvania people—some of them needy, some of them ill, some of them in fear for their security, some having, some not having—all have a special right to look to us here to work in all seriousness toward the establishment of those rules of society which will operate most effectively against the common evil and in furtherance of the common good. We must not lose sight of this basis reason why there are Assemblies like this.

As presiding officer I shall try to do my part as impartially and as fairly as I can, to carry on the duty of enforcing the constitutional provisions and the rules adopted by the members themselves which govern the proceedings of this legislative body, and I earnestly and respectfully plead for the help that is your indispensable part.

It is my sincere hope that all our deliberations concerning the many worthy causes to be brought on the floor of this House will be motivated by a desire to promote the general welfare, and our proceedings conducted in such manner and form as to bring credit upon this the most fundamental kind of American institution.

Nor is this the responsibility of any one or few of us.—It's a job for all of us.

As so aptly put by a former President of the United States, "America is not anything if it consists of each of us, and it can consist of all of us only as our spirits are banded together in a common enterprise. That common enterprise is the enterprise of liberty, justice and right."

Thank you for the opportunity to try to do this part.

NOTIFICATION FROM SENATE

The SERGEANT-AT-ARMS. Mr. Speaker, a committee on the part of the Senate.

Mr. McPHERSON. Mr. Speaker, I have the honor to inform you that the Senate of the State of Pennsylvania is duly organized and ready to proceed to business.

The SPEAKER. The Chair receives with thanks the message of the Committee of the Senate.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor was introduced.

The SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNOR (David R. Perry). Thank you, Mr. Speaker. May I first express my personal and official welcome to you, sir, and then through you, to each and every one of the Members present, our sincere greeting that each and every one of you will have a very pleasant stay during the one hundred thirty-eighth Session of the General Assembly.

To you, Mr. Speaker, I wish to offer my personal congratulations that you may have a very happy and very successful term of office.

I now have the honor of presenting communications in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the Secretary to His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth.

The communications were laid upon the table.

THANKS EXTENDED TO CHIEF CLERK

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to thank the Chief Clerk, William E. Habbyshaw, for the able manner in which he has conducted the organization proceedings of the House.

THANKS EXTENDED TO MR. CONNER

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the Sergeant-at-Arms to present the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Clarence Conner, to the bar of the House.

(Mr. CONNOR was presented at the bar of the House by the Sergeant-at-Arms).

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to direct the attention of the Members to the most capable and efficient work that has been done on our behalf to provide for the convenience and comfort of the Members themselves and the guests who are present here today. Under very unusual and trying circumstances the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Clarence Conner, at the request of the officers of the House and several leaders, has undertaken again without compensation to work out the details of this meeting today. He has done so again very efficiently.

On behalf of the Chair and the Chief Clerk and other officers of the House of Representatives I desire to express to him our very sincere thanks, and because he has refused to accept compensation for the effective work that he has done, we thought it would be fitting on our part that we present to him one little piece of silver at least.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the Chief Clerk, William E. Habbyslaw.

The CHIEF CLERK (William E. Habbyslaw). Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the Members for electing me Chief Clerk of the House. I was very curious today in what the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, said, about home runs and errors, but when it came to the selection of the Chief Clerk I noticed that you came pretty close to my territory by going right across the river into Franklin and Cumberland Counties. So it looks to me as though he came pretty close to home.

I want to say to all of you that I will try, as I have done before, to do everything possible for each and every one of you. There are times, possibly, when you ask me to do things that are impossible, but I will try to do my best for all of you, in cooperation with Bill Roan, the Secretary.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the Secretary of the House, William P. Roan.

Mr. ROAN, Secretary. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, I want to thank you for reelecting me for another term. I assure you it has been a pleasure to work for you. I want to say, as Bill Habbyslaw has already told you, that at any time in the future we can be of assistance to any of the Members, we will certainly be glad to do so.

RESOLUTION

THANKING JUDGE ROBERT E. WOODSIDE FOR ADMINISTERING OATH

Mr. HALL offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 4th, 1949.

Resolved, That the Members of the House of Representatives do hereby extend their thanks to the Honorable Robert E. Woodside of Dauphin County, for his services in administering the oath of office to its Members and Officers.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would like to present a former Member of this House, a former Floor Leader, as a matter of fact. He has come back to us again today to administer the oath of office to the Members-elect, and to the officers of the House. It is with a great deal of pleasure that I present to you, the Honorable Robert E. Woodside, Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County.

ADDRESS OF HONORABLE ROBERT E. WOODSIDE

JUDGE WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, Members and friends of the House, I have participated in the organization of this House on a good many different occasions and in a number of different ways. I was just sitting down there thinking its the same thing and yet different each time.

There are always the new, fresh, energetic, enthusiastic faces of the new Members, and there are always the serene and sometimes even scarred faces of the veterans. There are always procedures which are followed which are somewhat the same, and yet are also somewhat different. I think that the legislative problems with which you are faced each session of the Legislature are somewhat of a similar nature. There is always the same problem of how to raise the necessary money, how much will be needed, and how to distribute that which will be available for distribution. That has been a problem which has been a problem of government ever since the beginning of government, and is one of the serious problems which you and every other session of the Legislature will have to face.

You will have the problem of weeding out the proper legislation. I sometimes think that all you have to do is to look over some of the legislation that has been introduced at the end of the session and you will realize that the fellow who put the brine barrel in the corner of the committee room rendered the Commonwealth a great service. On the other hand, it is necessary for each Member of the Legislature to be in tune with the times in order that this great Commonwealth will develop and maintain its position in the nation.

I have a great many friends in this Legislature; I have served in this Legislature a number of years, but I still welcome the opportunity which the Members of this House have afforded me today of meeting you here again, and of serving you in any way possible, because I look forward to meeting you each session with a great deal of pleasure.

I want to congratulate you upon your selection of your Speaker, because in that selection I think you have made a very fine choice. You have an excellent group of officers, the Speaker, the Majority Floor Leader, the Minority Floor Leader, whose quick wit and fine logic I suffered under when I was on this side of the House.

As to the Chief Clerk, I had the privilege of serving with him in this House as a Member from the same legislative district. As to your Secretary and many of your other officers, the Parliamentarian, I feel that I can say without exaggeration that there is not another body in this entire country that is blessed with as able officers and employes as the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I congratulate you upon choosing these employes, whether they be chosen by the House as a whole or whether they be chosen by a caucus of the respective parties of this House.

I again thank you for the privilege and opportunity of appearing before you and saying a few words. I wish you luck during this session, when you will have very many difficult problems come before you for you to deal with.

FORMER SPEAKER WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair also notices in the House today a former Speaker of this House. Will the Gentleman please rise in his place, the Honorable Ira T. Fiss? The Chair requests the gentleman to make a few remarks?

ADDRESS OF HONORABLE IRA T. FISS

Honorable IRA T. FISS: Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, it seems to me like old times as I appear here today, noticing these many faces, even Hi Andrews and Homer Brown and also many other faces which would take too long to remember.

I am glad to be present here with you today, and I am glad of this opportunity of saying something about the Speaker. With his clear thinking, with his fine sense of fairness and justice, I know that he will make every decision impartially and without any prejudice. I don't know how you could have made a better choice than the selection of the Honorable Herbert P. Sorg as Speaker of this House. I had some little part when he was chosen as Secretary of the caucus, which was his beginning. I am certainly proud of it.

During the session you will not be thinking alike, but I say to you respect one another's opinions. Approach your tasks with diligence and understanding. There are more than ten million people whom you represent in this Commonwealth, and if you do your work fearlessly, courteously, and with common sense, I am sure you will pass legislation which will result in salutary benefit for every person in this Commonwealth. You may use dilatory tactics during the Session but that will only create confusion and delay and will not make for efficiency in legislation.

Again I thank you. I am glad to be here, and I want to say that I am forever grateful for the honors that you in the past have given to me.

JOINT SESSION OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

PRESIDING

Lieutenant-Governor Strickler, members of the General Assembly: We are met here today in a Joint Session of the 138th General Assembly and are about to hear a message from the Governor on the state of the Commonwealth. That message will contain pertinent suggestions for your consideration in determining in a legislative way what will be the future of Pennsylvania's government for the next biennium.

All of you have come here with the fixed purpose, no doubt, of representing your constituents by exchanging ideas, and finally pooling your majority interests to give Pennsylvania sound legislation.

These are days when the needs and demands of the people for propositions of law are many and some are baffling. Therefore, we must neither yield to the tendency to haul down the flag and express defeatism, nor to the tendency to lunge into matters regardless. We must yield to the necessity of making a calculating analysis and allay fears.

The legislative program must not only be interesting enough to attract attention but it must be simple, fair and convincing to get cooperation. Law must be understood. The great law-giver, Blackstone, gave us the best guide in stating "Law in its more confined sense is a rule of human action or conduct, that is, the precepts by which man, the noblest of all sublunary beings, endowed with both reason and free-will, is commanded to make use of those faculties in the general regulation of his behavior."

Regardless of what we attempt to do here, law is not the answer to all things. Thinking and actions of Americans fall into three areas; First, the area of law which compels obedience to do that which is required. Second, the area of freedom, that is, to do as one pleases. Third, the great middle area of the unenforceable, appealing to the conscience. We stress so much the field of the law and we speak about and rely so much on our freedom but in our great nation we must realize that the true final determining factor is the force of public conscience.

As Lieutenant Governor, I greet you. As a soldier of our Commonwealth, I ask you to do all you can for the veterans. The G.I.'s were displaced persons in the American armed forces during World War II. They must be properly rehabilitated. There must be restored to them, if possible, that which they lost or were denied because of their service. As a former member of the House of Representatives, as President of the Senate, as Chairman of the Board of Pardons, as an official of this Administration, as a citizen of this State, I take this opportunity to tell you that I desire to work with you for harmony and service, and for the honor of Pennsylvania. Perhaps what I said here today will help you to do better what you are going to do anyway.

The SERGEANT-AT-ARMS OF THE SENATE. Mr. President, the Committee appointed to escort the Governor to the Hall of the House.

Mr. LLOYD WOOD. Mr. President, I have the Honor of presenting His Excellency, James H. Duff, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR. Members of the General Assembly, I have the honor and privilege of presenting His Excellency, James H. Duff, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, who will now address you.

ADDRESS OF GOVERNOR JAMES H. DUFF

GOVERNOR DUFF. Members of the General Assembly:

The two years ending January 1, 1949, have been the busiest and most prosperous in the history of the Commonwealth. Both income and employment have been at an all-time high. More new businesses have been located in the Commonwealth than in any similar period; and the expansion of business already here has similarly eclipsed any previous record. While this tremendous activity in Pennsylvania has occurred coincident with the greatest national income and employment, it is nevertheless true that Pennsylvania has resumed her position as the leading industrial State. As evidenced by the latest United States report published in August last, Pennsylvania's manufacturing payrolls for 1947—which is the latest year reported—increased 26% and in that rise we were neither equaled nor excelled by any important industrial State in the Nation.

One of the important features of the unanticipated expansion in the business and income in the Commonwealth was an increase of revenue over and above what we had a right to anticipate for the period. This excess of revenue over anticipation will amount to $58,000,000. With this and an adjustment of lapses there will be a surplus of $63,000,000. This surplus will be decreased by about $19,000,000 of deficiencies, leaving a net of $44,000,000 surplus for the biennium.

In endeavoring to anticipate the income and expenses of the Commonwealth for the next biennium we labor under the same difficulties as in the previous biennium, by reason of the impossibility of being able to forecast with accuracy what the trend will be. There has been the fear that an increase in the existing inflation would reflect itself in greatly increased governmental expenditures. But that fear has been allayed in part by the recent hardening of the price structure. However, opinion is still in balance as to whether or not there will be a fourth round of wage increases. Should there be such increases they would reflect themselves in every phase of government outlay, in the cost of everything that we buy, and everything that we use. As we are bound to endeavor to anticipate a situation that will exist over the biennium with respect to our budgeting for the coming period, we have assumed a price structure and income in the general neighborhood of that which now prevails.

It is not my purpose today to enter into a detailed statement of the financial situation. That I expect to discuss with you in my budget message shortly after you reconvene. But for the purpose of a general over-all statement, I think I should point out now that the net surplus which we will have at the end of this biennium will not be as fortunate for us as it would have been were we not obliged to anticipate immediately very large increases in the coming biennium, by reason of future acting provisions under existing laws, and without any new services that the current session of the General Assembly may decide are necessary. For example, against the net surplus of $44,000,000 there must immediately be charged in the coming biennium under existing laws an increase of subsidies, retirement funds for teachers, and general expenses connected with education, of $34,000,000.

The payment to State employes under an existing increase without any further increase during the biennium, will make a further necessary charge against this account of at least fourteen million dollars more. To this must be added at least seven and a half million dollars in anticipation of the interest for the first year of the Soldiers' Bonus, upon the assumption of the approval of the Bonus by the people of the Commonwealth when it is submitted to them. It is thus evident that the net surplus of $44,000,000 will be entirely eaten up by existing charges under present laws without any new services that may be authorized and directed at the current session of the General Assembly.

When you reconvene I expect to make no recommendations for any increase of taxes for the General Fund. Such a program, however, will necessitate the re-enactment of all existing taxes and the further postponement for the period of two years of the manufacturers exemption. If no new taxes are to be levied, it will also necessarily involve the construction, under a General State Authority, of further permanent improvements for the mental health program; for a maximum security prison; and for a number of other structures and installations, permanent in character, that will be necessary during the coming biennium, which I trust you will authorize and which will be detailed in the Budget Message.

I feel that you will agree that if for any reason you may determine to eliminate any tax now in force that it can only be eliminated by the imposition and substitution of a new tax that may be assured to raise an equal amount of revenue, because whatever use you may authorize for an Authority, it can only properly be used for permanent improvements, and in no case for current operating expenses. Moreover, legislation should be enacted providing for the funding of such funds as may be provided in an Authority.

MENTAL HEALTH

Two years ago the General Assembly recognized the great need for betterment in our mental health program. For generations in Pennsylvania, as well as in most all other States, we had not met the responsibilities that were ours with respect to the proper care for the mentally ill.

During the past two years there has been carried forward in this State the greatest program for the solution of that problem that has ever been undertaken in any similar period in the history of the Commonwealth. A vast program for the physical development of the properties of the Commonwealth used in mental health is now vigorously under way. But there is much more to be done. Or responsibilities were neglected for so long that when we entered upon them they have proven greater than we may imagine they would have been. Nevertheless they remain an inescapable challenge to us.

I feel that you will agree that for those unable to take care of themselves, we must all be advocates to see that they are adequately provided for. But, in addition to that, we must raise our sights on the whole mental program.

In the past the problem of the mentally ill has largely been considered the problem of putting away for safe-keeping those who had mental affliction. In other words, custodial care has largely been both aim and end. However, in recent years, and particularly since the outbreak of World War II, developments have indicated that there is a far more hopeful and better attitude that can and must be taken with respect to the problem of the mentally ill.

Statistics show that under the impact of the tremendous stresses of today there are more people suffering from nervous disorders and mental illness than ever before; that if current conditions continue to maintain themselves one out of every ten of all citizens at some time in their lives may be expected to need the attention of a psychiatrist; and that one out of every twenty citizens at some time may be expected to need attention in a mental institution. It is impossible to escape the obligation placed upon us by an understanding of these statistics.

If we are to treat the problem merely on the basis of custodial care, without seriously endeavoring to restore to their families and to their ordinary vocations many of these nervous disorders, we may presently find ourselves with a problem with insurmountable difficulties. On the other hand, if we will adopt the new measures and treatment that are being found so remedial, we may find that we can restore to their families and to society a vast number of those who heretofore would have been consigned merely to custodial care in some institution. Cures for many persons which have completely restored them to full health have been so spectacular as to seem almost miraculous. We owe it to ourselves, we owe it to the people of the Commonwealth, to see that everyone, irrespective of his or her means, has the benefit of the kind of attention that gives him or her the opportunity of being restored, if restoration is possible—and in a vast number of cases it undoubtedly is possible under proper care and treatment.

A part of the program necessarily concerns more study of the causes of mental illness and treatment for the mentally ill. It necessitates doctors specially trained for such treatment, as well as specialized training for nurses, attendants and all those having to do with the mentally ill. For that reason I suggest that a direct approach to the solution of these constantly mounting difficulties confronting us be attempted.

In western Pennsylvania, at Pittsburgh, the Commonwealth has already built the Western Psychiatric Institute. I recommend that an Eastern Pennsylvania Psychiatric Institute be built immediately in Philadelphia, and that both these Institutes be turned over for operation and control to the Medical Schools in the areas in which they are located. Thereby, doctors may receive the same clinical training in mental diseases that they do in general medicine and surgery. In the same Institutes nurses and attendants may also be trained in the best practices for the care of mental patients. In the plan proposed, all this training will be on a purely professional basis, and will meet the imperative demand for the highest skilled training for those entrusted with the care of the mentally ill.

The effect of such a program in the final analysis will revolutionize the approach to the care of the mentally ill. It will afford persons so afflicted the best possible chance for restoration to health—and those chances are infinitely better than we have heretofore been inclined to believe.

Entirely apart from the social implications of the benefits to be obtained from these methods, it will also result, in the long run, in a tremendous financial saving to the people of the Commonwealth. Because if we are to continue to approach this problem largely on the basis of custodial care, we will, every biennium, be building more and more buildings for custodial care for a constantly increasing number of patients.

Our progress in the solution of the problem of the mentally ill will be measured not by the increase in the number of mental patients in custodial care, but by the number of those suffering from mental illness who have been restored to their normal selves, to their families and to useful and productive places in society.

GENERAL HEALTH

Pennsylvania's public health program has been advanced vigorously since the last meeting of the General Assembly.

Our school health program, providing complete medical and dental examinations every two years for all children of school age, is now operating in high gear, with better than 90% coverage of pupils, teachers and school employees. This program, with its provision for follow-up treatment of pupils found to have remedial physical defects is making noteworthy contribution to the health of the Commonwealth's children.

The continued rise in the death rate from heart disease and cancer makes these two diseases leading public health problems. The States cancer control program has laid the foundation for an effective campaign to aid the victims of cancer, and should be substantially extended.

Rheumatic fever causes more deaths among young people than all communicable diseases put together, including pneumonia. The campaign against rheumatic fever and rheumatic heart disease, launched two years ago, is proving its worth in finding cases and bringing them under treatment. Twelve heart clinics have already been established by the Commonwealth, and more are urgently needed.

There should be immediate and continued attention to the problem of the crippled child in Pennsylvania. It has been estimated that there are 12,000 cerebral palsy patients in the State who are in need of special care and education. There is also need for legislation to provide increased clinical treatment and rehabilitation programs for persons who suffer from cleft palates and other facial deformities. Every crippled child should have the chance to become self-supporting and whole, and it is our obligation to see that they have this opportunity.

Pennsylvania's public health activities and services, as administered by the State Department of Health, have been under study for the past year by experts, in an effort to discover wherein it may be strengthened to give the taxpayers the best return for the money and the best services to those of the public who need it. Recommendations contained in this survey, which will soon be available, should help develop new methods and procedures covering all phases of the health program.

HIGHWAYS

Pennsylvania has an unrivaled system of highways. These highways are so extensive and have afforded such manifold advantages to the citizens of the Commonwealth that we ought to strain every effort to continue to advantage ourselves of the benefits that have so substantially affected the welfare and prosperity of our people.

Our highway problems cannot be compared with the problems of any other State, because no other State has a State system of highways in the same category with ours in Pennsylvania. When it is realized that the State highway system of Pennsylvania has more miles of road built, repaired and maintained at the State level than the States of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland combined, and 1,300 miles more than all those States combined, it is clear that our highway problem in Pennsylvania cannot be compared with the highway problem in any of the other great States, because they have no mileage even remotely close to ours.

The State tax on gasoline is the same today as it was in 1930. Out of gas tax funds the appropriation to political subdivisions in the Commonwealth, namely, counties, cities, boroughs and townships, have increased so that today they take 39 million dollars every two years from this gasoline tax money. Meanwhile, the State highway road mileage that has been constructed by the Commonwealth has increased 300 per cent, and the cost of building roads has also increased in the same great percentage of 300 per cent.

It is, therefore, manifest that if we are to continue with the policy that has distinguished our highway system in the past, we cannot longer continue to do it on the basis of the present gas tax, with our present great mileage and with the vast increase in the cost, both of building and of upkeep.

The fact that this problem is not peculiar to Pennsylvania is evidenced by the fact that in other States, with no mileage comparable to our own, tax increases are being considered and will probably become effective.

However that may be, the fact remains that we have a tremendous number of problems confronting the Highway Department that demand solution. In almost every congested industrial community of the Commonwealth, both large and small, there is a morning and evening traffic tie-up that we have to do something about. Take Harrisburg for example, because this is a community where the members of the General Assembly may verify the problem from their own experience. During the time of peak loads of traffic both morning and evening it frequently takes more than an hour to cross the City. Yet during other periods of the day the same course may be followed in ten to twelve minutes. This means a great loss of time both morning and evening by everyone caught in this congestion. Everywhere about the Commonwealth demands are made that the solution of these traffic congestions be worked out.

Then, there is the problem of our main highways throughout the Commonwealth. Much even of our main systems are still only two lanes, which causes endless congestion and loss of time on hills and in bad weather.

Another problem is the farm-to-market roads. As part of a balanced highway program during the past two years the Commonwealth has spent more money in building rural roads to take the farmers out of the mud than in any two-year period in our history. This program should be continued.

But with costs more than doubled since the beginning of the War, it is imperative that we have more money for the Motor Fund if we are to continue to carry forward this balanced program.

I feel that we all have the responsibility to see that we do not fall back in this program. And the degree to which we will fall back will be determined by the degree to which funds may not be available to the Highway Department.

Under present Motor License Fund revenues the Department of Highways will have $120,000,000 available for construction in 1949-1951, which compares with $171,000,000 in the present biennium. The chief reason for this large difference is that during the present biennium the Department of Highways has financed a large share of its program with surplus funds accumulated during the War years when road construction was practically at a standstill. Because of high road building costs and war-deferred projects the Department feels that $100,000,000 a year, or $200,000,000 for the biennium, is necessary.

This amount can be provided by a two cents per gallon increase in the Liquid Fuels Tax; or it could be provided by a one cent increase in the Liquid Fuels Tax, and using a State Authority to provide the balance for large costly projects such as bridges and limited access and express highways.

I am convinced that the additional funds are necessary, and I leave it to your judgment in providing those funds.

AGRICULTURE

We must continue the forward-looking and constructive program that is being carried on by the Department of Agriculture. Great progress has been made in the elimination of certain plant insects and diseases which have caused heavy economic loss.

The Gypsy Moth has been almost eliminated in north-eastern Pennsylvania after a number of years of unremitting effort. The control and eradication of this and other plant pests must continue.

Great advances have been made in the maintenance of health in farm animals which are of great importance to our citizens. The incidence of tuberculosis in dairy cattle has been reduced from 9.27 percent of all cattle to twenty-four one hundredths of one percent. A similar campaign to eliminate brucellosis or Bang disease of cattle, an ailment which may cause undulant or Malta fever in humans, is now going forward. Pennsylvania is a leader in this world-wide campaign of eradication. However, the battle is only half won. We must get rid of this menace, and we must provide the funds to do so.

It is very evident that we are approaching a period of heavy competition in the marketing of farm products. Our growers need the assistance of the Department in maintaining Pennsylvania's enviable position as a producer of quality foods, and in encouraging the best marketing practices.

We must continue soil conservation in Pennsylvania as well as soil analysis for the purpose of determining the best use to which lands may be put. As the result of this program we are finding new uses for lands in certain areas which may make large areas valuable for certain types of use which had been almost idle for many years. Research and development must continue to be expanded for the benefit of the farmers of the State.

HOUSING

As a result of the failure to build during the War, of the natural increase of population in Pennsylvania, and the necessity of providing better living accommodations in the low income group of people already here, the housing situation in the Commonwealth—in keeping with like situation in all other greatly compacted communities of the Nation—requires a definite program for action. One of the responsibilities of this General Assembly will be to meet the challenges of that situation.

I feel that we should have action at this session of the General Assembly that will provide a building program, especially for rental properties in the low income brackets, that will be coordinated with the program of the Federal Government and of the local communities in the Commonwealth. But it will not be enough merely to have a program. We must have houses. At the moment we are engaged in working out a plan for large scale housing development in the Commonwealth, which will shortly be submitted and recommended to you, with the details and method of operation, so that we will not only have a theory as to how this will be done, but that we can actually get the houses built in the places where they are so vitally needed.

SOCIAL LEGISLATION

I feel that this session of the General Assembly should accept the responsibility of providing by legislation equal opportunity to work without discrimination because of race, color, creed, or place of origin—which will require the passage of a State Fair Employment Practice Act. Accordingly, I strongly recommend that the General Assembly in this session enact a Fair Employment Practice Act, containing safeguarding provisions similar to those provided for in the existing laws of sister States in a comparable stage of industrial development to our own great Commonwealth.

LABOR

I recommend further revision and clarification of the Unemployment Compensation Law to correct any inequalities and injustices that exist and to meet changing economic conditions.

We should broaden the Workmen's Compensation and Occupational Disease Laws at a level comparable with other States having similar industries with similar risks.

We should continue adequate appropriation to the Second Injury Reserve Fund for the benefit of veterans and all others coming within its provisions.

We should support increased appropriations to expand inspection and enforcement of the State Safety and Health Laws in order to guarantee men and women a healthful place to work in all classes of industry.

EDUCATION

I do not believe there can be any serious disagreement with the proposition that we must take whatever steps are necessary in Pennsylvania to provide our youth with properly qualified and prepared teachers and adequately compensated teachers. We must have a program in Pennsylvania for education that provides equality of basic educational opportunity for every child in the Commonwealth, irrespective of the financial character of the community in which the child lives; also a formula that places teachers on the basis to which they are entitled to be placed by reason of ability, training and effort.

The perpetuation of our form of government demands equalization of educational opportunity; a continuance of local control upon which our government was founded; and the definite participation of local government in governmental financial needs in accordance with their ability to do so, especially in so far as those problems are particularly applicable to the local community.

It is clear that at the State level of government a constantly expanding program of contribution cannot continue indefinitely in every phase of the activities in which the State is being asked to participate. For example, in the matter of contribution to education, without any new legislation at this session, the contribution by the State to education will vastly increase under the provisions of laws that have already been enacted.

For the support of public schools under existing laws, without any new legislation in the coming biennium over the past biennium, there will be an increase of $22,000,000; for transportation of school children, $3,644,000; and for contribution to the Teachers' Retirement Fund, $7,694,000. In other words, under future operating provisions of existing laws, without any new legislation at this session, the contribution of the Commonwealth to education at the public school level will be increased $33,338,000. A statement of these facts makes it evident that it is imperative that local communities accept the responsibility of contributing substantially to such services, according to their ability to pay. Ability to pay must be recognized to be based, in part, upon the number of subjects that the local community may tax in addition to real estate. This proposition makes pertinent the discussion of Act

No. 481 and legislation passed at the last meeting of the General Assembly relating to local taxation.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT

The problem of additional requests for grants in aid for local communities from the Commonwealth is constantly expanding. This is the situation that prevails not only in Pennsylvania but everywhere in America. In an endeavor to attempt to help solve that problem at the last session of the General Assembly Act No. 481 was passed to broaden the tax base of local communities.

You may be interested to know that at the last Conference of the Governors a round table discussion was had on the problem raised by our Act No. 481, and that this discussion lasted longer than any discussion on any problem that had ever been before the Governors' Conference since its beginning. At the end of that discussion, which lasted well on to two days, a Resolution was passed citing the unanimous approval of all the Governors present of the necessity of dealing with the proposition that this Act concerned itself with.

In my judgment, this Act deals more fundamentally with one of the great problems of our time than any legislation that has been brought to my attention. It endeavors to preserve government at the local level, which has been one of the great distinguishing features of our government in America, by giving local government both the responsibility of maintaining itself and also the wherewithal to do it with.

Local government cannot possibly sustain itself any longer on real estate taxes alone. The time has come when real estate represents only a fraction of the wealth of the community; and to put the entire cost of government upon this one form of property is not only a disastrous and fatal discrimination against real estate, but it is also a confession that we are unfair, and that we no longer have the capacity to make the determinations to keep local government strong.

It is right that there should be criticism of this legislation broadening the base for local taxes, in any particular in which it has been found in operation to be unfair or oppressive. If there are particulars by which it can be improved by amendment, they ought to be made. But in my judgment amendments should not be made that will emasculate the Act or destroy its provisions and purposes.

CONSERVATION

During the period following adjournment of the last session of the General Assembly there has been a more aggressive and farreaching program of conservation carried on in the Commonwealth than ever before. One of the most conspicuous examples of this program is the endeavor to reclaim the waterways of the State.

The first and most difficult waterway to endeavor to reclaim was the Schuylkill River—the most important because it serves as a source of water supply for a greater proportion of the population of the Commonwealth than any other stream; and for the further fact that it probably was the most dangerously polluted and contaminated stream of the State, considering its importance with respect to domestic water supply.

The progress that has been made in this work is beyond the anticipations of even the most optimistic. This project was set up June 25, 1947, following the last meeting of the General Assembly. Allowing for the technical work that was necessary before any work was started on the ground, and the preparation of plans, I am able to report to you that as of the day on which we meet here 880,000 cubic yards of silt have already been removed from that stream during this period. To give a visual picture of the enormous amount of silt this is, I would like to report I have been advised that if this silt had been put in railroad cars, the train of cars necessary to remove the amount of silt that has already been taken from the Schuylkill would reach from Broad Street Station at Philadelphia, in a continuous line of cars, to within fifty miles of Pittsburgh. This is the greatest water reclamation project not only in the States, but, as far as I have been able to ascertain, anywhere in the world. It is demonstrating that the job that many said was too big to tackle is not only feasible but is possible, within a period far quicker than even the most optimistic were willing to predict.

It will take a vast sum of money to complete this project; but I feel it is our obligation to do so, by reason of the dependence of such a great part of our population upon the water from this stream. Now that it has been demonstrated that the job can expeditiously be done, the details of the plan for its continuance will be outlined to you in the Budgeta Message.

The vastness of this job is due to the fact that we allowed these deposits of culm to be made in the stream for almost 150 years continuously without doing anything to prevent it, or doing anything about removing it once it had been done. This is a conspicuous example of the destruction of natural resources without endeavoring to provide a remedy against it or to ameliorate the damage once it was begun.

Some captious persons complain about the expenditure of money for the stream clean-up program in the State; but when it is realized that almost 8½ million of the people of Pennsylvania are obliged to get their drinking water from streams that are so heavily contaminated, it must be clear that the pollution of the streams of Pennsylvania is the number one health menace to our people. Anyone who attempts to become jocular or captious about this program on the ground that it is a fish program, certainly owes it to everyone who is compelled to drink this kind of water to convince them that they know what they are talking about.

The Commonwealth is actively engaged in the development of adequate recreational areas within reach of metropolitan and other heavily populated districts of the Commonwealth. It is also building flood and recreational dams within the limits of the appropriations made at the last meeting of the General Assembly. I urge the continuation of this program, for the reason that we have neglected it so long, the same as we have our mental hospitals and our streams; that it is only by a regular and systematic attention to this program that we will meet its necessary requirements and develop the recreational facilities of the State in the way that is of such great benefit, not only for recreation but in bringing transients into the State, and particularly into counties that have such great natural set-ups for affording recreational facilities, not only for our own people but for visitors from elsewhere.

In reforestation there is a greatly expanded program in operation. This should be continued. During the two Wars the timber resources of the Commonwealth were used up in a way that can only be replaced by a long and continuous program of reforestation. This also should be done on a large scale, and systematically, if we are to give it the appraisal in our values that it should get, particularly in view of the fact that almost one-half of the total acreage of Pennsylvania is more suitable to forest than any other purpose, and much of this land is suitable only forest products.

SUMMER CAMP FOR CHILDREN

I call your attention to what I regard as a tremendous opportunity for public service out of facilities that are already available at Indiantown Gap.

The Government of the United States and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together have invested in the lands, buildings and facilities at Indiantown Gap approximately $85,000,000. During the War this area was one of the great training camps of the Country, and was crowded and used to the utmost. But today these vast facilities and the 63,000 acres in the Camp are used by the National Guard not to exceed one month a year; the remaining eleven months they lie idle, and are under the expense of the necessary upkeep.

In this area there are great mountain stretches, beautiful valleys, two lakes, great spaces for playing fields, and opportunities for all types of wholesome recreation. I suggest that during at least a portion of the summer months in which these facilities are not occupied by the military, that they be used as a summer camp for underprivileged youth of the Commonwealth.

In times of war this Camp was used for developing citizens for the defense of their Country. In times of peace it can be equally well used for developing future citizens of the Country, particularly from those families which do not have of their own the means to give them many of the advantages that should be wholesome advantages for every citizen of the Commonwealth to enjoy. I recommend strongly, therefore, that funds be provided for a summer camp for underprivileged children of Pennsylvania for each summer of the next biennium. I am sure that such a camp will pay tremendous dividends in better health, in better attitudes and in better citizenship for all those who have the advantage of these great facilities.

Members of the General Assembly: This is a program that I am confident is to the advantage of the people of the Commonwealth. And after all, that is what government is for—to do the best for the most people.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR STRICKLER. Governor Duff, on behalf of the Members of the General Assembly, I thank you for the splendid message.

SENATE

MONDAY, January 17, 1949

The Senate met at 12:00 o'clock, noon, Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Daniel B. Strickler) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. REED O. STEELY, offered the following prayer:

ETERNAL GOD, our refuge and our strength, Thou has called us to places of trust and responsibility.

We humbly thank Thee for all the ways in which Thou hast guided us.

We are reminded of the inadequacy of material means, and we confess before Thee all that has been amiss in our experiences.

Grant to us, we pray Thee, the spirit of unselfish service.

We pray for Thy blessing upon all who bear responsibility for leadership and direction in our nation, and in our State, and especially do we seek Thy divine will and blessing upon the members of the Senate. May their determinations be the result of the united wisdom of the people and faithfully executed by their united strength.

Be pleased to give Thy wisdom to those who have difficult decisions to make and important assignments to carry out.

Save us from violence, discord, lawlessness, pride, arrogance, pestilence and famine.

May this body legislate wisely, act with justice and prudence, and themselves set the example of what a good citizen should be.

Make us equal to our high trusts, reverent in the use of freedom, and generous in the protection of weakness. Help us again to hear Thee say, "Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people."

We ask through Jesus Christ, our Lord, to whom, in the Blessed Trinity, be all honor and glory, world without end. Amen.

OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

To the Honorable, the Senate of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

On behalf of the Joint State Government Commission, I have the honor to transmit herewith the General Report of the Joint State Government Commission, 1947-49.

Respectfully submitted,

WELDON B. HEYBURN,

(This will appear in the Appendix.)

GENERAL COMMUNICATIONS

The CHAIR cleared his table and laid before the Senate the following communications which were read by the Clerk:

ASSOCIATION OF HIGHWAY OFFICIALS OF NORTH ATLANTIC STATES

April 7, 1948.

Mr. G. H. Watkins,
Secretary of the Senate,
Harrisburg, Pa.

Dear Mr. Watkins:

I am instructed to forward to you the enclosed certified copy of a resolution unanimously adopted at the annual meeting of our Association held in Atlantic City on March 5, 1948.

The officers, directors and members of our organization respectfully solicit your helpful interest toward obtaining the necessary regulations in each of our member states to limit the maximum axle loading of all vehicles to a maximum of eighteen thousand pounds per axle.

Very sincerely,

A LEE GROVER,
Secretary-Treasurer.

Resolution I

Whereas, the investment in improved roads of our state highway systems amounts to billions of dollars, and

Whereas, the preponderance of this mileage was not designed and constructed to accommodate traffic volumes and weights which are now utilizing these facilities, and

Whereas, the funds, equipment, materials, engineering and construction organizations available for the present and foreseeable future are not sufficient to reconstruct these highways to keep pace with the increased traffic demands and designs of equipment of still greater size and weight, and

Whereas, the deterioration and destruction of our state highway systems, where they are subjected to repetition of heavy loading, are becoming increasingly progressively apparent, and

Whereas, it is of the utmost importance that the facilities of our state highway systems must be preserved to carry, without serious interruption, the principal traffic vital, and most necessary for the continued economic and cultural developments of our Nation;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, that the Association of Highway Officials of the North Atlantic States, assembled in Atlantic City on March 5, 1948, recognizing the responsibilities and obligations of its member state organizations for preservation of our state highway facilities, go on record as favoring a maximum axle loading of all vehicles not to exceed eighteen thousand pounds, and

Be It Further Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be sent to Honorable Thomas H. MacDonald, United States Commissioner of Public Roads, to the Governors of the North Atlantic States, to the recognized heads of the State Legislatures, and to such other groups or agencies as the President of this Association may determine.

The above is hereby certified to be a true copy of resolution adopted by the Association of Highway Officials of the North Atlantic States at its annual meeting on March 5, 1948

A. LEE GROVER,
Secretary.

ASSOCIATION OF HIGHWAY OFFICIALS OF NORTH ATLANTIC STATES

April 6, 1948.

Mr. G. H. Watkins
Secretary of the Senate
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

Dear Mr. Watkins:

I am instructed to forward to you the enclosed certified copy of a resolution unanimously adopted at the annual meeting of our Association held in Atlantic City on March 5, 1948.

The officers, directors and members of our Association respectfully commend to you the necessity for the appropriation of such funds as will enable our Highway Departments to design and construct the safest possible type of highways to the end that the mounting toll of accidents may be curtailed.

Your helpful interest in this connection is respectfully solicited.

Very Sincerely,

A. LEE GROVER,
Secretary-Treasurer.

Resolution III

Whereas, the toll of life and limb and the destruction of property on our highways, while revealing a present downward trend, still constitutes a challenge to a nation concerned with the conservation of human life, and

Whereas, the anticipated increase in motor usage in the days ahead is destined to witness amounting toll of accidents on highways unless we have a coordinated effort of education of the driver, enforcement of traffic laws and engineering of safety into our highways, and

Whereas, the most permanent contribution which can be made to highway safety is by the elimination of the major traffic hazards through modern design and construction, and

Whereas, such engineering improvements to insure safer motor ways is bound to represent a larger capital outlay;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, that we the delegates to the 24th Annual Convention of the Association of Highway Officials of the North Atlantic States do hereby record our conviction that it is the responsibility of the highway department to design and construct the safest type of highways, and

Be It Further Resolved, that we commend to the Governor and State Legislature of our several states the necessity for the appropriation of such funds as will enable our highway departments to construct safer highways.

The above is hereby certified to be a true copy of resolution adopted by the Association of Highway Officials of the North Atlantic States at its annual meeting on March 5, 1948.

A. LEE GROVER.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE CHAIR

The PRESIDENT. I have been asked to announce that the committee room assignments will be the same as the last session and if any of the members do not know the room numbers they can secure that information from the Senator from Allegheny County, Mr. Walker.

RESOLUTION

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. McPHERSON, JR., offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, January 17, 1949.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday, January 24, 1949, at four o'clock, p. m., E.S.T.; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday, January 24, 1949, at four-thirty o'clock, p. m., E.S.T.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS THE SENATE

Mr. WADE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I am in receipt of a letter from the gentleman from Northampton, Senator Yosko, written today, in which he presents a rather novel plan for the Senate.

In that letter he requests that because of his interest in the toll bridge situation within the State of Pennsylvania, we refrain from introducing any legislation until an agreement is reached.

I want to say, first, that we very much appreciate the interest of Mr. Yosko and the members of the Senate on that side of the house, and secondly, that we have been working diligently for the past two weeks on a plan or plans that will eventually accomplish the freeing of the toll bridges within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Now, Mr. President, the democratic way to approach this is for everyone to prepare their bills and present them to the Senate and to the Committees of the Senate for their consideration, and to my mind, the suggestion of the Senator from Northampton would be the wrong approach.

Again I want to say that we on this side sincerely appreciate the interest of Mr. Yosko and his colleagues on that side, and we all want to work together. At present we have a group of four attorneys going through the statutes of Pennsylvania, in order that we can prepare and are preparing a series of bills that will accomplish this once and for all. We are intensely interested in it. Senator Taylor and I have introduced a number of bills in the past and intend to introduce bills this time that we are preparing, and the matter of our holding up the legislation that we have been preparing, working with the Governor, who has assigned one of the members of the Attorney General's Department to that particular duty, would be in violation of our democratic processes of preparing legislation and submitting it to all the Members of the Senate and to all the Members of the House, and laying it before them for consideration.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS THE SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not like to interrupt the regular routine, but before the matter gets cold, I would like to suggest to the Senate, in defense of the letter sent out by the freshman member of the Senate, Mr. Yosko, that his intentions were to try to get the members of the Senate together on a program to eliminate all of the toll bridges, if possible. As Senator Wade has so ably stated, he has on many occasions put this legislation in, but as the rest of the members know, this legislation has always fallen by the wayside. We are so fearful it will do so again, and we hope by collaboration and cooperation on the part of the members, who have toll bridges within the confines of their Senatorial Districts, that we will be able to get legislation through, and once and for all, in line with the thinking of the Senator from Cumberland, Mr. Wade, we will eliminate these toll bridges in Harrisburg as well as others in the State, and since we have been informed that the Attorney General has named a Deputy to work in conjunction with Mr. Wade and Mr. Taylor, we would suggest that the Deputy Attorney General work also with the other members of the Senate who have toll bridges in their districts, and I suggest to the Senator from Cumberland if he is really sincere, and I hope and know that he is in trying to eliminate toll bridges at Harrisburg, he will join with the members from other Counties who have toll bridges and add strength to his position when he puts in this legislation.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS THE SENATE

Mr. WADE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, may I say, in behalf of my colleagues, I sincerely appreciate the attitude taken by Senator Dent and Senator Yosko, as well. However, it does not seem that the right approach to this thing would be to write several members a letter and then give it to the newspapers first, and secondly, I want to say we are perfectly willing and anxious that Senator Dent and all of his associates on that side see the bills immediately when presented, and that they have the benefit of any advice and counsel of or conferences with the Attorney General's Department, so that their approach may be aided by that counsel and advice.

Again, Mr. President I want to say to every member of this body that we are sincerely interested in getting this job done at this time, and we do appreciate the help of the other side, as well as all of the help from the Republican side as well.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS THE SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President we don't want to delay the operations of the Senate, but I just want to say that sometimes in life as you go along, if you do the right thing and it does not work out, Maybe it is time to do the wrong thing. I understand and everyone knows that the present prescription that the Senator from Cumberland is offering the Senate in the matter of toll bridges is the so-called right way to do it. That has been the way it has been done since I have been in the Senate. Now, that right way has failed so may be the new approach, coming from a Freshman Senator, may be the wrong way, but it may do the right job.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS THE SENATE

Mr. TARR asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. TARR. Mr. President, I happen to be the Senator from a county that is very much interested in the freeing of toll bridges. Not having had a chance to talk over the situation yet with Senator Wade, I think it came in very bad taste for Senator Wade to make reference to the fact that the Senator from Northampton had written letters and given them to the press before it had been discussed with him, because I know that the newspapers in a certain section of my county have been carrying quotes from Senator Wade regarding the bridge situation for the past two months. Now, it just so happens that there are interests in Fayette County which are connected with bridges which also have political connections, and I believe that the members of the Senate know what I am talking about without any further clarification.

It seems to me that if any one wants to start off on the right foot, they will contact the Senators direct rather than go to the newspapers two months previously.

We tried to free the bridges before, and we have found that it is unconstitutional. It has been told to me on the streets of my fair city that we in the Legislature don't want to free the bridges; that all we are doing down here is talking about it, putting through bills which we know are unconstitutional, and letting it fall back on the courts. Now, the thing that we have to do, Mr. President, is approach this from a sane angle. Let's get the legislation that will hold up in the courts of the Commonwealth, and quit having these persons accusing us; quit faking the people, and get a bill that will free the bridges once and for all, regardless of our political affiliations or our business affiliations or wherever we may be in the Commonwealth.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS THE SENATE

Mr. WALKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, when I asked for a speedy session of the Legislature, I did not anticipate that the members would take me so seriously that they would start to debate bills that have not yet been introduced. May I respectfully suggest that the gentleman from Cumberland, Senator Wade, with the cooperation and collaboration of other colleagues in the Senate in the past, has introduced bills covering the freeing of all of the toll bridges in Pennsylvania, and those bills have not been shunted aside but have been passed by the Senate and House and signed by the Governor, and they ran afoul of what some people commonly call the Constitution of Pennsylvania. Now, it is my understanding that the gentleman from Cumberland is attempting to prepare a bill that will affect all of the toll bridges in Pennsylvania, not just those in Cumberland County or Dauphin County, but they will include all bridges, even the bridge with political connections, in Fayette County. May I suggest to the gentlemen on the other side, if they can cook up a bill that is better than the one the Senator from Cumberland is going to introduce, it will be the one that is going to be introduced.

We want to free all the bridges in Pennsylvania, and I am happy to know that it will be a unanimous vote once we get it on the floor.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS THE SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I hope I understood what Senator Wade said in reference to giving the article to the newspapers before the Senator himself had the letter, but this morning before the letter was delivered, I informed the Senator that letters had been written and asked him if he had any objections to the plan. He said "No, you are a member of the Senate and have the right to do whatever you please." So that all of us will know what was in the letter, I am going to take this opportunity to read it:

I am taking the liberty of intruding on a matter concerning which you may have some private plans, though my hope in writing you is that you may give it sympathetic consideration—the elimination of toll bridges.

My suggestion is simply that those members of the Senate and of the House, immediately affected, have a conference and discuss in detail, the best plan for their elimination and draft a bill accordingly—thus doing away with four or five plans and a like number of bills.

If you are disposed to consider my suggestion, I would appreciate if you would refrain from presenting any bills at this time or prior to our conference. If your reaction is favorable to the suggestion outlined herein, I will appreciate hearing from you so that a time and place could be set for the meeting. I might add that the district I represent—Northampton County—has two toll bridges.

A reply at your convenience will be appreciated.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess until two o'clock, for the purpose of a caucus.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, this resolution is presented on behalf of the House. They found out that all of the Democratic Senators were on the committee to go to Washington and now, all the Democratic House members want to go too.

Mr. DENT offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, January 17, 1949.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That Senate Concurrent Resolution, Serial Number 100, adopted by the Senate and concurred in by the House of Representatives, on the fourth day of January, 1949, is hereby amended to read as follows:

RESOLUTION

JOINT LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE BE APPOINTED TO INVESTIGATE AND STUDY COMPENSATION OF STATE OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. HOLLAND and KEPHART offered the following resolution which was twice read, and referred to the Committee on State Government:

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, January 17, 1949.

Whereas, Through the years no intelligent effort has been made toward adjusting the inequities existing in salaries paid those serving the executive, judicial and legislative branches of government. While income of those serving in these particular offices has remained constant, salaries paid for positions of comparative responsibility, education and experience in the business world have risen in proportion to the cost of living with the result that efficient public servants are forced to leave government service to secure the necessities of life and maintain a standard of living consistent with their ability; therefore, be it,

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That eight members of the General Assembly be named as a joint legislative committee to investigate compensation of State officers and employes, four from the Senate to be appointed by the President Pro Tempore, and four from the House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker of the House, with equal representation from the majority and minority political parties in both branches of the General Assembly; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee shall have power to meet, hold hearings and make investigations and studies. The committee shall make a report to the General Assembly, in the form of legislation, which shall be presented to the General Assembly no later than April 1, 1949. The bill shall alter and change the salaries paid to State officers and employes in any manner necessary to adjust such salaries to the cost of living and to equalize such salaries with salaries paid for comparable positions in the business world.

I am sorry also that we cannot give them an appropriation so that we can assure them of a good time.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Lester C. Updegrove offered the following prayer:

Thou who art from everlasting to everlasting, hear us as we humbly pray. May we be conscious of Thy sublime goodness and that great love which wraps a world in its embrace. Do Thou help our country and state in its questions, in the solution of its problems and even in its fears. Dispel all earth-born clouds and be gracious to every State under the folds of its our flag. Show us that our directive purpose may be for God, the State and the Nation. Amen.

The SPEAKER. The Chair at this time wishes to extend to the retiring Chaplain of the House his thanks for the splendid service he has rendered to this House of Representatives.

The CHAPLAIN (Rev. Lester C. Updegrove): Mr. Speaker, I shall always greatly treasure the happy associations which I have so much enjoyed in the past few legislative sessions during my tenure of office. RESOLUTION

HON. ROBERT E. WOODSIDE REQUESTED TO ADMINISTER OATH OF OFFICE

Messrs. BRUNNER and ANDREWS offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 17, 1949.

Resolved, That the Honorable Robert E. Woodside, a judge learned in the law, of the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County, be requested to administer the oath of office, required by Article VII of the Constitution of Pennsylvania to the Members-elect present in the Hall of the House, who have not taken the oath.

OATH OF OFFICE ADMINISTERED TO MEMBERS-ELECT

The SPEAKER. The Members-elect who have not taken the oath of office will now present themselves to the bar of the House where the oath will be administered to them by the Honorable Robert E. Woodside.

The oath of office was then administered to Hon. Benjamin S. Altshuler from Philadelphia County and Hon. Andrew Kondrath from Berks County.

THANKS EXTENDED TO HONORABLE ROBERT E. WOODSIDE

The SPEAKER. The Chair extends the thanks of the House to the Honorable Robert E. Woodside, a Judge of Common Pleas of Dauphin County, for administering the oath of office to the Members-elect.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. BRUNNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, on the opening day of this session the membership was notified that certain Members of this House had agreed to stand aside at that time and not take their oath of office, for the reasons that were expressed at that time. These Members have now as Members-elect presented themselves to the floor of the House and have taken their oath, and are Members of this body, qualified to act as such.

A search of the authorities, both as to procedure and the law, forced us to the conclusion that the orderly way to transact the business of this House with regard to the seating of these Members was to have the oath of office administered to them and then should any qualification questions arise, any questions as to their constitutional qualifications, they be presented to the House by the proper procedure, to be heard by the proper Committee.

There has come into my hands, from certain citizens of Berks County, a petition questioning the constitutional qualifications of one of its Members, and on behalf of these citizens of Berks County, I file that petition.

PETITION

PROTESTING THE SEATING OF ANDREW KONDRATH

Mr. BRUNNER presented a petition protesting the seating of Andrew Kondrath, representative of the first legislative district of Berks County (Reading) signed by four citizens of that County, duly authenticated, as follows:

TO THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF PENNSYLVANIA:

SUBDIRECTED TO THE HONORABLE HERBERT SORG,
SPEAKER OF THE SAID HOUSE:

PETITION PROTESTING THE SEATING OF ANDREW KONDRATH, REPRESENTATIVE OF THE FIRST LEGISLATIVE DISTRICT OF BERKS COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA (READING)

The Petition of the undersigned, citizens and electors of the First Legislative District in and for Berks County, Pennsylvania (Reading), respectfully represents:

1. That Andrew Kondrath was duly elected a member of the House of Representatives of the State of Pennsylvania, from the First Legislative District of Berks County, Pennsylvania (Reading), on November 2, 1948.

2. That at the time of his election, the said Andrew Kondrath was not duly qualified to hold the office to which he was elected, for the reason that when on the 12th day of July, 1943, said Andrew Kondrath registered as a voter, he gave Pennsylvania as the place of his birth, when in fact and in truth, the said Andrew Kondrath was born in Hungary.

3. That the foregoing fact is made more emphatic by the fact that on the 20th day of December, 1948, the said Andrew Kondrath reregistered as a voter at Reading, Berks County, Pennsylvania, at which time, he gave as his place of birth, Hungary.

4. That the said Andrew Kondrath became a citizen by derivative naturalization through his father, Andrew Kondrath, Sr., who was naturalized March 5, 1928, in the United States District Court at Pittsburgh, Certificate No. 2716849.

5. That the said Andrew Kondrath when he signed the registration card on July 12, 1943, took a false oath, which he knew or should have known, at the time the oath was administered, was false.

6. That the aforementioned registration cards are on file in the Berks County Court House at Reading, Berks County, Pennsylvania.

7. That for the reasons aforesaid, the said Andrew Kondrath should be expelled from the House of Representatives of the State of Pennsylvania; and therefore, your petitioners request the said House to investigate the matter.

And they will ever pray.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 15th day of January, A. D. 1949.

William O. Huey, Alderman
My Commission expires January 4, 1954

The SPEAKER. The resolution will be filed with the Chief Clerk and referred to the appropriate Committee after the report of the Committee on Committees has been presented to and adopted by the House.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

In the matter of procedure with reference to the qualifications of the two Members who have been sworn in today, I have been in agreement and have been a party to the arrangements that were effected.

It was my conviction on the day on which the House met to organize, that had the question of the eligibility of any Member been raised in that unorganized caucus, probably it would have been possible to have delayed the action of this House for twelve, twenty-four or even forty-eight hours because of the parliamentary situation that would have developed, and a group of men would not have become Members of this House. They would not be subject to any rules and would be quite without official status. So, I agreed, in the interest of peace, harmony and getting along with business that we would have the two Members stand aside, and I am now in agreement with the arrangement that has been made.

As the Majority Leader knows, as the Speaker knows, and as every lawyer in this House knows, if it was possible to have a Member set aside, a person who has a valid certificate of election, if it were possible to have him set aside merely because the question was raised as to his eligibility, if that were possible, I assure you that I would have filed at least seventeen allegations of inability to serve, and would have questioned the rights indeed of the whole Republican side of this House to sit in the deliberations today. Any rule of law that leads to an absurdity is obnoxious to our system, and so in agreement with the Majority Leader and in keeping with what I believe to be sound parliamentary practice, I offer the following resolution.

RESOLUTION

Mr. ANDREWS offered a resolution which was read as follows: (Subsequently marked Resolution No. 1)

In the House of Representatives, January 17, 1949.

Whereas, Benjamin S. Altshuler was, at the general election on November second, 1948, duly elected by the electors of the Third Legislative District of the County of Philadelphia to represent them as a Member of the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth, and now serves as such Member; and

Whereas, After said election, and before the term of office of the Members of the House of Representatives elected thereat began, certain duly qualified electors of said Third Legislative District filed a petition in the Court of Common Pleas No. 7 of the County of Philadelphia, in the form of an election contest, alleging that said Benjamin S. Altshuler had not been an inhabitant of the district for one year next before the election on November second, 1948, as required by the Constitution, Article II, Section 5; and

Whereas, Said Court of Common Pleas No. 7, by an order entered November 29th, 1948, quashed said petition and the proceedings thereon, without considering the merits thereof, for the reason that the court had no jurisdiction thereof, and that the question of the qualification of a candidate elected a member of the State Legislature is within the jurisdiction of the legislative body itself, under the provisions of Article II, Section 9 of the Constitution; therefore be it

Resolved, That the question of the qualification of Benjamin S. Altshuler to hold the office of Member of the House of Representatives be referred to an appropriate committee of this House for investigation, and to inquire and determine whether or not said Benjamin S. Altshuler, in fact, is and had been, for a period of one year next before his election, an inhabitant of the Third Legislative District of the County of Philadelphia, from which he was elected, and to report their findings with appropriate recommendations to the House of Representatives.

The SPEAKER. The resolution will be filed with the Chief Clerk and referred to the appropriate Committee after the report of the Committee on Committees has been presented to and adopted by the House.

RESOLUTION

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, the Republicans do not need to listen in; I am speaking solely to Democrats. It is forbidden under the rules to criticize the other Chamber on the floor of this House. I do not suppose it is wrong to refer to the Senate, however, as sloppy legislators.

The other day I came across a resolution appointing fifteen Senators and thirty Members of the House as a delegation to go to Washington. In the usual senatorial fashion they have passed that resolution without making any connections, arrangements or anything of that kind at Washington. There was no Washington base, there was no provision for transportation; it was just something thrown into the air.

Since the Senate resolution came over, I have been in contact with Washington, and your Chief Clerk has been in contact with Washington. I have been in communication with Congressman Walters of the House, and they say that Washington now is so full of people that nobody has a place to hang his hat. The whip of the House, Congressman Walters, said, "My God, I have seven tickets, all I have and all I can get. If the ninety-one delegates come down from the House I will divide seven tickets among them."

Some further things, and Republicans can listen in on this, I want to compliment the Speaker or whoever is responsible for the fact that we have a Legislative Journal upon our desks. I believe the arrival of the Legislative Journal for January 4 was almost coincident with the arrival of the Legislative Journal for the last day of the 1947 session. I think it was close as to which one arrived first, and I now rise for the purpose of inquiring from the Majority Leader, whether it is to be the purpose, his purpose, the purpose of this House, to see that in this present session the Legislative Journal is placed upon the desks of the Members on each successive day.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. BRUNNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, may I say to the gentleman from Cambria, that I too have served in this House for a great many years, and have seen the Legislative Journal arrive on the desks of the Members late, and certainly not as it has today, giving us the minutes of the opening day of this Session

I will say this to him and to the Membership of this House, that if it is at all possible to prevail upon those who handle the Journal and if it can be printed and made available for the Membership on each successive day of the Session, we will do our best to see that that is done.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, do we or do we not have a contract with some one for the printing of the Legislative Journal, and if so, what are the specifications in the contract as to the delivery of the Journal?

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, we have a contract. In reply to the gentleman from Cambria as to the specifications, I have no knowledge.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, will the Majority Leader at his leisure ascertain the specifications and report to the House?

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. ANDREWS. I thank the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to compliment the Official Reporters on the splendid job they have done with the Journal so far in this session.

Almighty God, the King Eternal, from whom proceedeth all power and dominion, both in heaven and on earth, we humbly beseech Thee to look with favor upon Thy servants, the members of this deliberative and legislative body, the Senate of our Commonwealth, and all others in positions of authority and trust. Respectfully submitted,
WELDON B. HEYBURN, Chairman.

The PRESIDENT. The report will be noted in the Journal and will appear in the Appendix.

COMMUNICATION

Philadelphia, Pa., January 15, 1949.

To the Honorable, the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

You are hereby respectfully requested by the undersigned, members of Quaker City Green Club, Inc., Philadelphia, Penna., to bring about the enactment into law of The House bill which provides for the amendment of Section 699.4 of the Penal Code, being the Act approved June 24, 1939, P. L. 872, prohibiting the performance of so-called worldly employment or business on Sunday, by permitting target shooting, for either competition or practice.

The foregoing is in line with recent legislation in this Commonwealth with respect to motion pictures, base ball, foot ball, musical concerts, polo and tennis.

The requested amendment is in thorough consonance with the National interest, especially because it will serve to make the sportsmen of this Commonwealth, young and old, proficient in the use of fire arms, and thus capable of acting in our National Defense, without prolonged training in the fundamentals, which would be widely and lawfully obtained in lawful recreational sports if the amendment be adopted.

The vote and influence of the Members of the Senate and of the House of Representatives will be deeply appreciated by the hundreds of thousands of patriotic sportsmen of this Commonwealth.

This Petition is forwarded pursuant to proper action taken by this organization.

(SEAL)

ROBERT LOCUST, Secretary.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, what I am about to say is not a remonstrance, it is rather an admixture of a remonstrance and laudation.

Now, Mr. President, I have examined the General Report of the Joint State Government Commission, which has been placed on our desks, and I must laud the work of the Joint State Government Commission, but, unfortunately, there is a "Heel of Achilles" in it, because there is a very flagrant omission. May I direct your attention to pages 19 and 20 of the report. Generally, this report merits a thorough and scientific study in all fields of legislative endeavor. Now, in part 5, on page 19, there are studies initiated by the Joint State Government Commission. There is a study in the field of education, and there is noted that a separate report will be submitted. I understand that today that separate report was submitted. Then there is next the Hatfield Case, and also a notation that a separate report will be submitted. Vocational Education, a separate report will be issued. Legislative Journal, the final sentence is that a recommendation to the Senate will be made. Unemployment Compensation, there is also the notation that a separate report will be issued.

Then, Mr. President, comes the Philadelphia City-County Government Survey, and there is only one statement to the effect that collected data are available for the use of the General Assembly, but there is no reference to any separate report to be issued or enabling legislation to be enacted. The statement says (referring to the Philadelphia City-County Government Survey) "This Survey grows out of the widespread concern of citizens and citizen groups in the Philadelphia area, and is one of necessary interest to the General Assembly." Now, Mr. President, this where we failed to render service to the people of Philadelphia, because there was no separate report issued, no legislative measures submitted to carry out the report. That, in my opinion, which I respectfully submit to this body, has been conducive to the introduction of a ripper of the Registration Commission of Philadelphia.

I am going to speak more about it on Monday. I feel that Senate Bill No. 4, which was introduced yesterday, ripping out the Registration Commission of Philadelphia, to use the statement of Mr. Finnegan, Chairman of the City Democratic Party of Philadelphia, would be a disastrous blow to efforts to insure honest elections in Philadelphia. Mr. Finnegan stated today as follows:

"I charge flatly that the sole purpose of this bill is to set the state for the most flagrant and gigantic attempt to steal an election in the City's history."

There is still time to file a supplemental report to the General Report which we now have in our possession, and submit a report based upon the collected data which is now available. By doing this, this work will be complete and will inure to the credit of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I was amazed to hear the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Stiefel, say that he and the Democratic Party were opposed to Senate Bill No. 4. This is evidently a change of opinion and attitude on the part of that party with respect to this problem. That bill joins together the machinery of the Registration Commission and the election machinery under one head, and attempts to streamline it in the interest of economy. It is supported by every civic organization in Philadelphia, The Committee of Seventy, The Chamber of Commerce, The Bureau of Municipal Research, and The Economy League.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, it may be political expediency to introduce the bill, but primarily senators should be political scientists. I understand that the Institute of State and Local Government of the University of Pennsylvania counseled against the ripper. Now, the Registration Commission is a very important body, and it has a gigantic task to cope with in Philadelphia. I understand that at some future date, you will be taking up the question of the City-County consolidation and under that bill the County Commissioners will be eliminated, so that in two or three years from now, in case Senate Bill No. 4 reaches the stage of fruition, we will have to do something else. Now what will happen when the County Commissioners are eliminated?

Mr. President, I base the contention upon a thorough and exhaustive study made by the Institute of Local and State Government. They are scientists, and they base their findings upon a thorough study. This is the reason why I hope that the Joint State Government Commission is going to intervene in this matter and that they will, to use the expression of John B. Kelly, "put the zippers on the rippers."

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. ROSE and KALANKIEWICZ.

RESOLUTION No. 2.

In the House of Representatives, January 17, 1949.

Whereas, It is the established policy of this Commonwealth as expressed in its laws that existing stream pollution will be eradicated, and none will be permitted in the future; and

Whereas, Governor James H. Duff has wholeheartedly thrown himself behind this necessary program of stream clearance and rehabilitation; and

Whereas, Pollution of streams represents a pernicious threat to the health and well-being of the citizenry of this Commonwealth; and

Whereas, In and about the Philadelphia area, the degree of pollution is presently intense and constitutes a menace to the populace of that metropolis which depends on its surrounding streams for its water supply; and

Whereas, Immediate action to bring about a rapid improvement of the shameful pollution of the streams in and about the City of Philadelphia is imperative; now therefore be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of this House of Representatives appoint a committee of six members of the House to investigate the causes of and remedies for the extreme pollution of the streams in and about the City of Philadelphia, and in so doing to cooperate with the Sanitary Water Board and the Philadelphia Water Supply authorities, and to report their findings and recommendations to the House by the first day of April, one thousand nine hundred forty-nine, to the end that this public disgrace and threat to the public health may be removed; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee created hereby shall have the power to meet and hold hearings in either Philadelphia or Harrisburg or both; and to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman commanding any proper person to appear before it and to answer questions touching on matters with respect to such investigation for and on behalf of the General Assembly and to procure such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any proper person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the Courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of the committee shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before it.

Referred to Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. MILIKEN, BLOOM, CLENDENING and ROBERTSON.

RESOLUTION No. 3.

In the House of Representatives, January 18, 1949.

Whereas, It has been thoroughly demonstrated during the last decade that Federal Social Security benefits are a desirable and necessary part of our economy in the support and maintenance of our aged citizens, their widows and children, and

Whereas, The benefits of Social Security, presently available to only a fraction of the employed citizens of our Nation, should be expanded to encompass all wage earners and the amount of the benefits increased to assure our people of even greater security and protection in their old age; theretofore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby respectfully memorializes the Congress of the United States to both broaden the scope of eligibility for Federal Social Security and increase the benefits payable thereunder.

RESOLUTION No. 4.

In the House of Representatives, January 18, 1949.

Whereas, An acute shortage of low cost housing for families of moderate means continues in the midst of the greatest building and construction boom in the history of our Nation, and

Whereas, The present Federal statutes, while affording broad financial assistance to home owners and home builders, has not stimulated the construction of the type of low cost housing so seriously needed, therefore, be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania memorializes the Congress of the United States to enact legislation specifically designed to afford throughout the Nation and particularly in the heavily inhabited centers, low cost housing within the means of the families presently living in unsanitary, crowded and inadequate living accommodations.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. WORLEY.

RESOLUTION No. 5.

In the House of Representatives, January 17, 1949.

Whereas, the devastations and untold sorrow produced by Wars have demonstrated that peace cannot be maintained through preparations by individual nations for defense against war and that enduring peace can be attained only through the establishment of justice administered according to law on a basis that will eliminate resort to war for the settlement of international disputes; and

Whereas, the Constitution of the United States under which the union of independent States has been affectually preserved for one hundred fifty-nine years affords a pattern for a federation of the nations resting upon limited delegated powers so as to attain the essential minimum of centralized control in international affairs with the maximum of self-government in national affairs; and

Whereas, only by widespread education can public opinion be formed to support an effective world government designed to insure justice through laws; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania affirm its belief in the following principles:

1. World peace must rest upon the solid foundation of justice administered according to law.

2. The present Charter of the United Nations can and should be utilized through proper revision thereof or amendments thereto to provide a world government under law consisting of judicial legislative and executive branches with necessary checks and balances analogous to those provided by the Constitution of the United States the legislative powers should be limited specific and clearly defined without authority to intervene or act in any matter which is essentially within the domestic or home rule jurisdiction of any nation the laws to be applicable to and enforced against individuals as well as nations and to provide regulation and control of atomic energy and other means of war the legislative body might well be organized on a bicameral basis with weighted representation in one chamber and equal representation in the other each nation should be free to determine for itself the method of selecting its members of the legislative body in order that they may carry out the will of the people they represent the issues to be decided by the votes of the individual members rather than by nations the judiciary should be given the power to in-interpret the Charter as well as to construe legislation and to determine whether any organ of the United Nations has exceeded the powers granted by the Charter.

Be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be sent to the President, the Vice President, President Pro Tempore of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States and to each of the representatives of the members of the Security Council of the United Nations.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS—

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Cambria arise?

Mr. ANDREWS. I rise concerning a matter involving the high privilege of this House.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria will state the matter involving the high privilege of this House.

Mr. ANDREWS. I refer the Members to page 48 of the Legislative Journal of the House of January 4, the first column, fourth line, and there, Mr. Speaker, I see the evidence of a fell conspiracy. There is recorded the name of James L. Gaffney; and what is in front of his name? The letter "R". What does the letter "R" stand for? Error—the gentleman states. It stands for Republican.

Now, everybody knows that no fellow with the name of Gaffney is or ought to be the kind of a fellow with the letter "R" in front of his name, and, Mr. Speaker, it is evidence of a desire on the part of the Majority Leader to place his brand and trade mark upon men on this side of the House. I can understand why he wants to do it, when I see the evidence of the dwindling ranks over there. He has placed his brand and his trade mark on distinguished Members of the House like the gentleman from Cameron, puts the letter "R" to his name, steals him and gets him over there. I want to say to him and to the Members of this House that he cannot steal Gaffney; that Gaffney is a Democrat, he is going to stay a Democrat, and if he wants to reinforce his dwindling staff, he has got to go some other place to seek them.

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ANDREWS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know whether the gentleman from Easton has been attending the Republican Caucuses?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, there has been no crossing the line since the time when the then Majority Leader in the House sent the well known Republican from Cambria County, from Johnstown, with instructions to attend both caucuses, which he well did for several weeks.

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, inasmuch as we need and can use one more vote on this side of the side, and of course, are unwilling to surrender the gentleman from Cameron, will the gentleman surrender to this side of the House the gentleman from Easton?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, we most certainly will not, and I will further inform the Majority Leader that not only will we not surrender Gaffney, but we more than half suspect that before the session closes we will have to least thirty now on that side of the House over here with us, shoulder to shoulder on many matters.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. BRUNNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I wonder if the gentleman is referring to the same period that he wondered in the session of 1939, when he said "We are going to go along with this program," and he was forced to stand up at that time and say "What happened?"

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. LOVETT asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEES TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. REAGAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to hold a special meeting of the Committee on Agriculture in the conference room at the rear of the House.

Mr. ROYER obtained unanimous consent to hold a meeting of the committee on Military Affairs in the conference room to the left of the rostrum.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

MONDAY, January 24, 1949.

The Senate met at 4:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore (M. Harvey Taylor) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. REED O. STEELY, D. D. S., offered the following prayer:

O God, our help in ages past, our hope for years to come, in Thy care we are safe. We thank Thee for Thy guiding care in our history and for Thy blessing upon our national life. We bless Thee for our homes and for our loved ones.

We are happy in the thought of the growing sense of unity among the nations and for the nearer approach of world peace.

We rejoice in freedom and liberty to do the right.

Thy goodness leads us to repentance. Forgive us and save us from the evils that would destroy us. Our hope is in Thee. We believe the Lord of Hosts is with us.

We ask for Thy continued blessing upon our great Commonwealth and upon all persons who bear responsibility for guidance in these perilous days. May the people enjoy Thy blessings as the one whose God is the Lord.

May Thy special blessing rest upon the members of the Senate.

Teach us to see as Thou seest, in order that we may recognize worth and nobility in those whose modes of thought, habits of life, and racial heritage differ from our own. Enlarge our sympathies. Chasten our ambitions. Magnify unto us the superlative blessings of peace, and grant unto us an increasing sense of responsibility and privilege as co-laborers with Thee in the building of Thy Kingdom among men.

May we all with quiet hearts and free consciences praise and magnify Thee, our Lord God, for ever and ever. Amen.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, there appears to be some misunderstanding with regard to the bills introduced for the purpose of streamlining Philadelphia's government.

I propose to explain and give reasons why I advocate their adoption by the Legislature. Today I will take up Senate Bill No. 4 which deals with the consolidation of the Registration Commission with the County Board of Elections. Tomorrow I will speak on Senate Bill No. 3 dealing with the consolidation of the City and County.

Senate Bill No. 4 consolidates the Registration Commission with the County Board of Elections. The Registration Commission is eliminated. Its duties are taken over by the County Board of Elections—in other words, the County Commissioners. This is not a new idea. It was first suggested and recommended in the Official Report of the Philadelphia Charter Commission to the Governor and the General Assembly. This Commission was appointed by Democratic Governor George H. Earle and had as its chairman, Thomas Evans.

In discussing the Commission's recommendation with regard to this, the Official Report states, at Page 38. (I might say in passing that this report can be found in the Legislative Journal, Vol. 5, Appendix Index 1939, at page 5690.) I am now quoting:

"The County Commissioners are responsible for the entire election procedure." (This is under the new plan that the Charter Commission proposed.) "They are both the registration and election authority, the Registration Commission being abolished . . . The County Commissioners are made the sole local election authority; all registration and election functions being unified under their jurisdiction. The Structure of the local governmental organization is simplified by this merger of separate offices which in reality perform one continuous function. In all other counties of the state, except those of the first and second class, the County Commissioners are now responsible for the entire election process—both registration and election activities. By unifying and consolidating the above activities in one agency, much confusion and delay should be eliminated; for these inconveniences to the electors probably are inherent in a set-up which has one office responsible for the registration of voters and another accountable for their actual voting.

The County Commissioners' office will thus be a unified one devoted only to a single purpose—the administration of the entire election procedure from the registration of voters to the certification of local election results."

A draft of the bill carrying out such recommendation is found on Pages 110 and 111 of this Official Report, and I might say in passing that in the Legislative Journal of 1939, which I have referred to, that bill appears at page 5735, and the bill there printed and sponsored by this group is substantially the same as Senate Bill No. 4, introduced by me.

I am only interested in this legislation which is designed to carry out this idea because I feel that it will bring better government to Philadelphia. If it is thought that the bill proposed by the Charter Commission in 1938 does that job any better than the bill offered by me, I have no particular pride of authorship and I would not object to having it substituted in place of my bill.

In September of 1948 Thomas Evans, the former Chairman of the Charter Commission, published a pamphlet called "Demand for Action." His stated objective is good government for Philadelphia and on page 5 he recommends as part of the legislative program for 1949 as follows, and I quote:

"Repeal of the Registration Commission Act and transfer of its functions to the County Commissioners, who will, upon consolidation being effected, become City Commissioners."

At the hearing before the Joint State Government Commission on July 19, 1948, Harry Butcher, representative of the Committee of 70, stated, and I quote: "The Registration Commission has high peaks during registration season, and during the election season it is very quiet so a lot of wasted energy between the two boards is eliminated if they are brought together. I think we would have a good registration machine here. It should be under the County Board of Elections the same as every other county with the exception of Pittsburgh and Scranton, where you have permanent registration acts. Our neighbor in Delaware County does an excellent job in its Bureau of Registration under the County Commissioners."

Subsequent to that date five most important civic organizations in Philadelphia; the Bureau of Municipal Research, Chamber of Commerce of Philadelphia, Citizens' Council on City Planning, Committee of Seventy, Philadelphia Committee of Pennsylvania Economy League published a pamphlet entitled "How to Modernize Philadelphia's Government." In it they recommend consolidation of the Registration Commission and the County Board of Elections. Their reasons for this requested consolidation are found on Pages 29 to 31; part of which I quote: "In Philadelphia our overlapping election machinery results in the highest annual cost per registered voter of any major city in the United States. We have two separate agencies to do the work that should be handled by one. The registration of voters in Philadelphia is considered a separate and distinct function beyond the jurisdiction of the County Board of Elections. This can be compared to having two conductors on every street car; one to receive the fare and pass out transfers and the other one to ring up the fare."

To register voters in Philadelphia, there is a Registration Commission of 5 members, a special counsel and a permanent staff of 141 employees. The Commission spends approximately $486,000 annually, including an $382,000 payroll.

To conduct elections we have a three-man board, a special counsel and a permanent staff of 80 employees with a payroll of more than a quarter million dollars. In every other large city in the country, the registration of voters and the conduct of elections are considered related functions and are handled within one department under the jurisdiction of a small commission. Since the work of registering voters and conducting elections in Philadelphia is seasonable and largely confined to short periods of time within the year, the consolidation of these duties under one administrative body would effect real economies through the year-round employment of a permanent staff of the now existing two boards.

In addition to economies, better administration and enforcement of election and registration laws should result. Consolidation of these overlapping departments in our election system relates only to the City of Philadelphia and is an important part of the legislative program for 1949.

The Legislature can help solve this problem by consolidating these duties under a three-man Board of Elections or a Commission of Elections."

The only possible way that this request can be carried out is to eliminate the Registration Commission because the County Commissioners are required by the Constitution and can not be eliminated. Furthermore, that same constitution requires that the County Commissioners be elected rather than appointed.

Any criticism of the consolidated Registration Commission and the County Board of Elections on the ground that it is a body elected by the voters of Philadelphia rather than appointed by the Governor, as the Registration Commission now is, is entirely unsound and without foundation. In the first place, permitting the people of Philadelphia to choose its own officials is an exercise of Home Rule which we of the Republican Party are advocating. It is clearly inconsistent with long established principles of self-government that the officials who register our electors and conduct our elections here in Philadelphia should be appointed from the State Capitol.

Furthermore, we in this Country believe in the principle that our governmental institutions exist by and with the consent of the governed; this means by the vote of the people. All our institutions are based on faith in the people and those who criticize the plan of consolidation on the ground that it permits the people to vote for those officials have, evidently, lost faith in the people; we of the Republican Party have not.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, the famous French philosopher, Voltaire, said that that he would rather have Mephisto legislate and Gabriel execute, than Gabriel legislate, and Mephisto execute.

The plan under Senate Bill No. 4, which I call a ripper Registration Commission bill, is an attempt to place the elections in Philadelphia under the jurisdiction of Mephisto.

Now, Senator Kephart mentioned several agencies which are in favor of Senate Bill No. 4, but he forgot the most important agency, which is a scientific body which made a very thorough study of this problem; this is the Institute of Local and State Government of the University of Pennsylvania, and that report, which is now in the files of the Joint State Government Commission, advocates just the opposite, it advocates the transfer of the elections functions of the County Commissioners to an elections commission, which will embody the functions of the Registration Commission and the functions of the County Commissioners. Mr. President, that has not been mentioned, and that is the reason why last Tuesday I remonstrated against the failure to file a report on the part of the Joint State Government Commission. I am very happy to state that on Wednesday, January 19, 1949, an editorial appeared in the Philadelphia Inquirer, under the title: "No Half Way City-County Merger Plan." The editorial which I will ask to have spread upon the Legislative Journal, finishes with the following statement:

"The Kephart proposal should be scrapped."

Now, I feel that this is a very important measure, and I appeal to the membership of the Senate to study and peruse the report of the Local and State Government Institute of the University of Pennsylvania, which appears in the files of the Joint State Legislative Government Commission. If they do that, they will think twice before they will vote for Senate Bill No. 4, and, above all, the time has arrived for the up-state members of the Senate and the General Assembly to come down to Philadelphia and study the situation—seeing is believing—and then they will realize that the purpose of Senate Bill No. 4, is to deliver the death knell to honest elections in Philadelphia.

Mr. President, I ask that the editorial which appeared in the Philadelphia Inquirer as of Wednesday, January 19, 1949, be spread upon the Legislative Journal.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. If there is no objection, it will be spread upon the Legislative Journal.

"NO HALFWAY CITY-COUNTY MERGER PLAN"

"Philadelphia wants to get rid of its costly and out-of-date burden of dual city-county government. It wants a modern, streamlined administrative system that will promote efficiency and economy.

"It cannot hope to achieve those goals by means of the consolidation bill introduced at Harrisburg by State Senator Kephart at the behest of the local Republican organization.

"This measure would not place the county offices under the city government, as has been widely urged, but would merely reduce their number.

"Those remaining would obtain more powers and patronage than they now possess, by assuming the functions of certain departments slated for abolishment.

"This is not true city-county consolidation. All it would accomplish, in effect, is the elimination of four existing offices, those of Coroner, Register of Wills, Receiver of Taxes and Prothonotary.

"The idea back of consolidation has been to eradicate a system that has proved unsatisfactory, expensive and even harmful to the people of Philadelphia. Protected by their constitutional status, the county offices have operated as a law unto themselves, subject to no supervision by the Mayor and, exempt from Civil Service rules, have provided a comfortable haven for political drones.

"With the constitution amended to remove them from their special category, it has been hoped that unnecessary county departments could be abolished, others merged, Civil Service introduced and the Mayor and Council given supervision over those continued as city offices—with the exception of possibly the City Controller and the District Attorney, who would remain elective officials.

"It will be seen that the plan presented to the Legislature by Senator Kephart falls considerably short of such hopes. It amends the constitution, but only in part. It would retain constitutional safeguards for the county jobs—to be called city jobs under the suggested program—not only of Controller and District Attorney, but of Recorder of Deeds, Sheriff, City Treasurer, Clerk of Courts and County Commissioners.

"These would continue as elected officials, and there would be an arbitrary shuffle of authority to give them more power and more jobs, with the duties of Coroner added to those of Sheriff, Receiver of Taxes to Treasurer, Register of Wills to Recorder of Deeds and Prothonotary to Clerk of Courts.

"Most needless appendage to this set-up is its retention of the County Commissioners after the county government is ostensibly abolished. In the other counties of the State the Commissioners are the actively governing authorities, but in Philadelphia most of their duties are performed by Council and the Mayor and his department heads.

"The Philadelphia County Commissioners administer just a few scraps of authority still left to them. Under them are the Bureau of Weights and Measures and the Board of Elections, and they also act as the disbursing agency for the courts. For this the three Commissioners are paid $8800 each yearly.

"It seems evident that the Bureau of Weights and Measures performs a police function and should be placed in the Department of Public Safety, that the duties of the Board of Elections could be combined with those of the Registration Commission, outside the jurisdiction of the County Commissioners, and that a clerk of courts could handle the disbursement of funds. The Governor now names the members of the Registration Commission and it would be in the best interests of the citizens if he would appoint those who would head a new board of registration and elections.

"The Organization plan not only would preserve the County Commissioners but under a separate bill would wipe out the independent Registration Commission and hand over its duties to the County Commissioners.

"The Republican leaders and legislators would do well to think twice before attempting to railroad such proposals to passage. Half-baked consolidation plans are not going to fool anyone into thinking that they are the solution to Philadelphia's ills.

"The bill, also presented under Organization auspices, providing home-rule authority for re-writing of our city charter, is soundly based. But it would be largely nullified by accompanying it with a watered-down version of city-county merger. The Kephart proposal should be scrapped."

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I have in my hand here a report of the Institute of Local and State Government of the University of Pennsylvania, referred to by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Stiefel, and on page 37, that report states as follows:

"It would be administratively advantageous to abolish the Registration Commission and transfer its functions to the suggested new Elections Commissions, thus bringing all elections functions into the same department where they can be more readily coordinated."

That is what my bill proposes to do. The only difference is, since the County Commissioners are required to be elected, we believe that an elected commission should do the job. We also feel that we have confidence in the people, in their right to vote, and for that reason also, we think that the proper repository for this function is the County Commissioners.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, under the legislation which is pending and which will be introduced, there is a proposal to consolidate in Philadelphia, the County Commissioners and the City Government. Now, that will eliminate the County Commissioners, so that two years from now or three years from now, you will have to come again and find a new repository and repeat again the same act.

Now, Mr. President, the proposal of the Local and State Government Institute of the University of Pennsylvania calls for the creation of a new elections commission which will embody the functions of the Registration Commission and the elections functions of the County Commissioners, but it does not recommend the transfer of the Registration Commission's functions to the County Commissioners. The County Commissioners are now on their last lap, their days are numbered, so why transfer it to the County Commissioners?

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I do not intend to enter into any quarrel with my good friend, Senator Kephart. In fact, I feel if we start dilly dallying with the absorption of this commission with the other and bringing in this department with the other, we are going to waste the time of this Senate and time will pass and the people of Philadelphia will not be served.

Everything boils down to one point. I don't think there is one member of this Senate who would stand the business that the politicians of Philadelphia have been giving to the people of Philadelphia. I do not think there is a man in this room who would stand for it. The people are being asked to pay their tax bills after they have already made those payments to the Receiver of Taxes' office. These men have been charged by the same members and the same party with having defrauded the people of Philadelphia out of thousands of dollars, and you know, when they speak about a million dollars, it must be more than a million dollars, because they would not give out the right figures when it has to do with members of their party.

There is one particular individual in the city of Philadelphia, one of those precinct leaders, who has had the callousness and audacity to steal as much money as to buy a home in Ocean City for $40,000, and to place it in the name of his sister, and he is still a free citizen in Philadelphia, walking the streets.

I say, Mr. President, that if we are going to continue talking about uniting this Commission and the City of Philadelphia, and doing this in the City of Philadelphia in order to improve conditions, we are going to lose the main point. The main point is, are we real men in this Senate, are we really interested in the City of Philadelphia, so that we can knock out these men who are not of the calibre of the Penrose and McQuays of years ago; at least they were men that knew how to punish and put the people who were wrong in their right place, but today, at the head of the City of Philadelphia—and I do not mean Bill Meade—there are other individuals who are considered, in my opinion, as scum, because that is all they are, the scum, when they permit thievery and dishonesty; men who do not believe in integrity, men who haven't the least idea of what it is to be good and right for the people of a fine city like the City of Philadelphia. So, I say to Senator Kephart and anybody else in this room who intends to present bills, let us get down to the real facts, let us boil this situation down to one word. Are we going to give Philadelphia a just government, are we going to tell these men who are trying to deprive the citizens of Philadelphia of an honest government, instead of going out and confronting themselves to the right thing, and doing what is right.

Mr. President, I do not intend to enter into any quarrel with any senator. In fact, I did not read Senator Kephart's bill—it may have plenty of merit—but I feel that Philadelphia should not suffer again a moment of passive action in the Senate of Pennsylvania. It is our duty, and there is not a man in this room, as I said a minute ago, that would stand for anything that is wrong, so why should we not take action and take it darn quick. People have been accused of stealing thousands of dollars in Philadelphia, and they are still walking the streets of Philadelphia, but the boy that would steal a pint of milk would get three months in jail. Perhaps a month afterward, somebody makes a mistake, the first mistake in his life, did not have any intention to do wrong, and he gets six months or one to three years, but the thieves who knew what they were doing, formed a group and conspired to defraud the people of Philadelphia, they are still walking the streets, so let us get down to real action and stop this business of uniting this commission and that commission, and see that a real remedy is given to the City of Philadelphia.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, one of the most fundamental principles of our Constitution is the right to trial by jury. I believe in that principle, I think it is one of the real fundamentals of democracy on which we exist, that and the right to vote and elect our public officials.

Now, Mr. President, I have said that our philosophy in the bills that I have presented rests on the right of the people to vote. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator DiSilvestro, has alluded to some people in Philadelphia who have been charged with crime. It is true that some of them are Republicans. However, they are not going scott free. There has already been one indictment of the man to whom Senator DiSilvestro referred, although he did not mention the name, and there has been another indictment. At the first trial, the jury disagreed, and it is again in the process of being heard by a jury. They are the ones to judge whether he is guilty, not us. There are also indictments against the other individual that he referred to, when he referred to a conspiracy of men who had deprived the city of funds, and they will come to trial in due season, and I trust, in our jury trial system to see that justice will be done, and good government will still remain in Philadelphia. There is nothing that the Republican Party has not done that could have been done, that would make for better government down there. We are prosecuting these people, and that is all that can be expected.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, to relieve Senator Kephart of any doubt as to whom I meant, I was not referring to John O'Malley. I will take care of him at a different time. I referred to the Foss crowd, that group of conspirators.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, in summing up for the Senators from Philadelphia, and that includes all, I would like to say, first, I do not envy Senator Kephart his job, but what you have just witnessed gives you an idea, just a little idea, of what the situation is in the City of Philadelphia. We have seen some of the dirty linens flaunted before us, and before the Session is much older, you will see much more of the dirty linens, which I think should bring to your mind very forcefully the one big problem we have, aside from the administrators and administration, and that is always a problem. There is what we consider only one great remedy, and that is city-county consolidation, and the question of the Registration Commission and the County Commisisoners, and all of the rest are involved.

I would like you to keep that in mind. It was good for me to see the good Senator from Philadelphia, Senator Kephart, who had to get up within a week after he introduced a bill, to find himself in the position where he almost had to defend it. I take my hat off to the press of the City of Philadelphia for that. It was good, too, to hear the good Senator refer to Democratic proposals of ten years ago, and that will give you an idea that the Republicans from Philadelphia are ten years behind the times, but we are away from that now—this is 1949—and I do hope we can get down to a real good City-County consolidation for the benefit not only of the citizens of Philadelphia, but for the benefit of all the citizens of the Commonwealth, and I would like the boys from outside the city of Philadelphia to keep that in mind during the session. Let us not try to make it a Republican or a Democratic proposition; we are interested in the citizens and if we do not want to see dirty linens flying here all during the session, I think if we get down to business we can do a good job for the citizens of Philadelphia.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WADE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, because of the debate that took place here on the floor last week, and also because the toll bridge situation in Pennsylvania has been a burning problem for twenty years or more, I just want to tell the members of the Senate that the committee of attorneys which has been working on that legislation has been very active during the last week, and hope that by the end of this week, ready for introduction next week, to have the bills that we consider will be a bullet proof plan to free the bridges of Pennsylvania of tolls.

I want to say to my colleague on the other side of the Senate that we welcome any plan that they have. The purpose of the whole movement is to free the bridges of tolls, and we welcome their plan or plans. Theirs may be better than ours when it is finally decided.

RESOLUTION

FIXING LAST DAY FOR INTRODUCTION OF BILLS

Mr. BRUNNER offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration. The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 24th, 1949.

Resolved, That Thursday, March 3, 1949 be fixed as the last day for introduction of bills in the House of Representatives during this regular session, except bills making appropriations and raising revenues.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the Resolution?

It was adopted.

RESOLUTION

Mr. WEISS offered a resolution which was laid over for printing.

FORMER MEMBER WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes a former Member of the House, the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Arthur J. Hall. The Chair is very happy to note that the gentleman is present.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. SPEAKER. Instead of introducing a resolution at this time, I desire to file a request. Members of the House are presumably familiar with the School Health Act passed at the 1947 session of the General Assembly. The Act provides for medical and dental examinations of all children of school age during the time they are members of the first, third, fifth, seventh, ninth and eleventh grades of any school in the Commonwealth and also for medical and dental examination for teachers, janitors, cooks and other cafeteria help, and all others employed by the schools within the Commonwealth, the examinations to be given at least every two years.

Since the School Health Act has been in effect since June 1, 1945 it should be possible to at least begin checking on its practical operation. To what extent have the medical and dental needs that have been revealed as a result of the examination of first grade children been met by the time they have entered the third grade?

To what extent are parents cooperating with the medical and dental examiners? Has the School Health Act actually done anything except create a growing file of needs which should be given attention, but which are not actually attended to? There are various other angles incident to the operation of the School Health Act which perhaps should be inquired into. In view of the importance of this matter, we are requesting that the House Committee on Public Health and Sanitation make such inquiries as will enable it to report authoritatively as to what actually has been accomplished through the passage of Act 425 enacted at the 1945 session of the General Assembly. In far too many instances perhaps, the General Assembly enacts laws designed to serve a public need, but fails to follow through and ascertain whether objectives which a particular piece of legislation was designed to serve have actually been reached. And so, for the reasons stated, and for other reasons which could be stated, we request that the Public Health and Sanitation Committee make inquiry concerning the practical operation of the School Health Act and report its findings to this House prior to the time the General Assembly is asked to pass upon a School Health Act appropriation.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. LEE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, as Chairman of the Committee Health and Sanitation, I will be very happy to develop that information for the benefit of the Members of the House.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests that Members introducing resolutions send at least five copies to the desk. The Reference Bureau is delivering eight copies to you. All extra copies are needed by the Official Reporter and Recording Clerks.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. MORAN. Regarding resolutions, it is not clear to me, Mr. Speaker, whether you mean Joint Resolutions of the House and Senate, amending the Constitution, or resolutions just to be presented to the Chair. Is it necessary that they all be presented by five copies?

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman, the Chair wishes to advise the gentleman that he has reference only to those resolutions which are presented to the House in the usual manner, and not those which taken the usual course of a bill. Not Joint Resolutions, but House and Senate Concurrent Resolutions. Only House and Concurrent Resolutions are referred to by the Chair in making that request.

MEMBER CONGRATULATED

The SPEAKER. The Chair at this time desires to felicitate the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Wood, dean of the House on this, the anniversary of his birth.

FORMER MEMBER WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes also to welcome to the Hall of the House a former Member from Perry, Mr. R. M. Barton. The Chair is delighted to note his presence in the House again.

SENATE

TUESDAY, January 25, 1949

The Senate met at 1:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Daniel B. Strickler) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. REED O. STEELY, D. D. S. offered the following prayer:

Our God and Father, we would in the words of the Psalmist exclaim: "The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance . . . Thou maintainest my lot. The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places yea I have a goodly heritage."

We beseech Thee to take possession of this restless world and transform it by Thy Grace. Set up Thy banner in every land and in every heart.

Be pleased to bless with wisdom and good judgment the members of this law-making body, the Senate. Direct the movements of government, enter the marts of trade, and fill the earth with righteousness and peace.

We are weary of having our own way. Establish Thy throne in our hearts. Thy way is Truth; Thy will is holiness, Thy constraint is liberty, Thy law is love. Make us willing subjects of Thine.

May Thy Kingdom come, and Thy will be done on earth as it is in Heaven; for Thine is the Power and the Glory, forever and ever. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

COMMUNICATION

SAVING FUND SOCIETY OF GERMANTOWN AND ITS VICINITY

Presiding Officer of the Senate,
Harrisburg, Penna.

Dear Sir:

In accordance with Article 13 of our Charter, we are enclosing a copy of the 94th Annual Statement of the Saving Fund Society of Germantown and Its Vicinity.

Very truly yours,

H. H. HEWETT,
Treasurer

The PRESIDENT. The communication will be noted in the Journal and the report will be printed in full in the Appendix.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, there seems to be considerable misunderstanding in the public press concerning Senate Bill No. 3, the purpose of which is to merge the City and County of Philadelphia.

For sometime past there has been much agitation for City-County consolidation. At the 1945 session of the Legislature I introduced a bill to accomplish this purpose and my bill passed the Senate. The present bill introduced by me has the same objective although it is somewhat different in form. I wish it understood that I have no pride of authorship in the form of the bill and if the same objectives can be carried out with a different wording, I will be glad to support it. However, it is important to keep the objectives and the means and limitations in view.

It is universally recognized that a constitutional amendment will be required to carry out City-County consolidation. Mr. Kauffman, Chairman of the Chamber of Commerce of Philadelphia, voiced the viewpoint of the five leading Civic Organizations, the Chamber of Commerce, the Bureau of Municipal Research, the Citizens' Council on City Planning, the Committee of Seventy, the Philadelphia Committee of Pennsylvania Economy League, in the following language:

"We recognize that this would require an amendment to the Constitution."

The consolidation objectives of these five Civic Organizations, as stated in the pamphlet "How to Modernize Philadelphia's Government" at pages 7 and 8 are as follows:

"It is sometimes said that complete consolidation is desirable for Philadelphia because city and county governments are wastefully duplicating each other's work. But duplication has never been a serious problem and is not now.

It is said also that consolidation would enable Philadelphians to discontinue some county functions that have outlived their usefulness. This is not correct either, for all the present activities of County officers would have to be continued.

What advocates of consolidation want is that all the present functions of county officers be performed by city officers, and that as many as possible be performed by appointed city officers."

Senate Bill No. 3 accomplishes these objectives by authorizing the Legislature or a Home-Rule Commission to give City Officials the power to perform the functions of those offices which are now county offices. The only difference I can see between the request of the five Civic Organizations and Senate Bill No. 3 is that they favor giving the Mayor power to appoint all officials of the consolidated City-County; whereas Senate Bill No. 3 provides for a reduction in the number of new officers and their election. In other words, Senate Bill No. 3 strikes off fetters imposed by the present constitution and adds none.

This difference of opinion whether we should have appointed officials or elected officials takes us into a discussion of fundamental principles of Government.

We, in this country, have always believed in the principle that our officials govern, and our governmental institutions exist by and with the consent of the governed. We have always believed in the right of the people to vote for their public officers.

I do not need to remind you that the great and basic differences between our form of government and that of Communist Russia is whether the people are free to elect their own public officials. When Russia took over Poland and the other satellite states the freedom of the people to elect their public officials died and dictatorship marched in.

In the history of this country we find that one of the most precious heritages our ancestors fought for was the freedom of self-government as expressed by the voice of the people at elections. In recent years, due to the complexities of society, there has grown up in this country, a group of appointed public officials known as administrators or administrative boards such as the Public Utility Commission and the Liquor Control Board, etc., and I need not remind you that the results of such a system are none too happy. These administrative boards are autocratic and dictatorial; they are responsible to no one; they are a law unto themselves. The reason for this bad situation is that they are appointed and not elected by the people, and therefore, are not responsive to the will of the people.

In like manner in connection with this problem, the election of one officer, the Mayor, who appoints all other officers will result in their being responsible to him and they will no longer be responsible to the people. This is clearly undesirable.

Furthermore, to concentrate so much power in one man, the Mayor, is the first step toward dictatorship. With so much power he will be able to create a personal organization and perpetuate himself in power indefinitely. We have all seen examples of this.

In addition to the foregoing, in eliminating certain officers, it is necessary to remember that Philadelphia is a part of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and a certain amount of uniformity with the rest of the state must be continued in effect. We in Philadelphia can not expect to secede from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and have a separate government all our own. It is for this reason that certain offices must be retained as such. The most we can do is to provide that their functions be performed by the officers of the consolidated City-County. Also, while we can reduce the number of elected officials, so that the people will be able to more intelligently express their will, we can not countenance the disfranchisement of the public.

Mr. Justice Sterne of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania in a pamphlet entitled "A Discussion of the Principles of Freedom" issued by "Forces United" has stated:

"The right to vote is the most basic and fundamental right of our political system. It is the foundation of democratic government which assumes that all rights belong to the people. Government can have only those rights given them by the people and the vote is the means by which they are chosen."

We of the Republican Party have faith in the people and in their intelligent exercise of this inalienable right to vote. We are opposed to great concentration of power in one man and dictatorship. It is for this reason we feel that a minimum number of officials of the consolidated City-County should be elected rather than appointed. As I said yesterday, the Republican Party has faith in the people.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, in connection with the statement made by Senator Kephart, I would like to rise on a question of legislative inquiry. I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KEPHART. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I would like to know who is the present head of the Joint State Government Commission, is it Senator Walker or Senator Heyburn.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I would assume that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Stiefel, would know the answer to that question without asking me. Of course, I know it is Senator Heyburn.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I still cling to the statement which I made last week, that the Joint State Government Commission which is in my opinion a very efficient body and makes a thorough and incisive study of a problem, came to Philadelphia and heard a lot of testimony and then was supposed to submit a report to the General Assembly of Pennsylvania pertaining to this survey.

Mr. President, I would like to ascertain from the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, in the absence of Senator Heyburn, as to whether or not the Joint State Government Commission is going to file a report pertaining to the City-County survey in Philadelphia.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. Walker, I understand that you are going to be, in the near future, the head of The Joint State Government Commission. Am I correct in that assumption?

Mr. WALKER. Oh, Mr. President, I desire to thank the gentleman from Philadelphia very much for that rapid promotion, but the new members of the Joint State Government Commission as yet have not been appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate and the Speaker of the House. Those who are presently on that body, their terms expire February 1, or until their successors have been appointed, which is the way I think the law reads. This is the first I have heard I am going to be the new chairman. I hope that the gentleman from Philadelphia can persuade the rest of the members of the Commission that that is so.

Mr. STIEFEL. I will still proceed with my inquiry, and maybe Senator Walker will be able to answer. As the leading and active member on the floor, I would like to know whether the Joint State Government Commission will file a report to which findings concerning the City-County survey in Philadelphia.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, it is my understanding that the Committee of the Joint State Government Commission intends to file a report. Of course, Mr. President, I am only, I think about one seventh or one twelfth of that committee, but it is my understanding Mr. President that such a report will be filed.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, the reason I am making this inquiry is because in the report which was filed and placed on our desks the statement pertaining to the City-County survey in Philadelphia is rather important, because there is no intimation that a report will be filed, and in my opinion, I would rather listen to what is embodied in that report than to the statements of the various civic groups which were mentioned by Senator Kephart.

I feel that this matter pertaining to the situation in Philadelphia requires a very thorough study before we come to any definite conclusion.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President and members of the Senate, I listened with a great deal of interest to my good friend, Senator Kephart, trying to explain away the bills which he introduced last week to the satisfaction of the press in Philadelphia.

Thus far, the only criticism of these measures has been editorials in the Philadelphia Inquirer, and the Evening Bulletin of that city. I will not go to the trouble of reading in detail the contents of the editorials, except to say that one is entitled "Fake Consolidation," a re-print from The Evening Bulletin of January 4. The other one is entitled, "No Half Way City-County Merger Plan," an editorial which appeared in the Philadelphia Inquirer as of last Wednesday. Another one is entitled, "The Immovable County", which appeared in The Evening Bulletin, Saturday, January 22.

It is good sometimes to be able to point to the press of your own town with pride, when it takes up an issue which of interest and concern to the citizens of the city. I repeat again, I listened with interest to my good friend, Senator Kephart, and I think that while the essay he submitted to the members of this Senate was interesting, it twisted quite a bit, and it twisted to this point, it has nothing to do with bureaucracy, it has nothing to do with dictatorship. We in this country have a democracy, we have it in Washington where the only two people we elect are the President, the Vice President and the Legislature. Every one else is appointed, and if there is any criticism to be leveled at any department, the Executive is the one who has to take it and explain away that criticism. We have a Commonwealth which is run on the same principle; we elect only five of our state officials, in addition to the Legislature, and that is the Governor, the Lieutenant-Governor, the Secretary of Internal Affairs and our fiscal offices, and as far as I am concerned, we could do away with at least two of those elective offices, and make them appointive.

There is no reason why, when we get down into the lower strata of government, that we have to elect more officers and more officials and, if anything, the situation should be reversed. The difficulty in Philadelphia, and probably in many places, is that we have too many elected officials, and when we say we are opposed to the election of too many officials, it does not mean we are interested in dictatorships. The result can only be a better government with a responsible head, and if any criticism is to be leveled anywhere, the Mayor would not be in position to shake his head and say, "I have no control over that department", because he is elected by the people or vice versa.

I think, Mr. President, that is the real issue here. We are not taking away from the people of Philadelphia by our proposal that will be a real City-County merger, the opportunity to elect responsible officials to policy making offices. Those should be continued, but beyond that, there is no reason for it. It can only mean an expense and removal of the control and responsibility and I think that is the reason the large newspapers in Philadelphia came out the way they did, and I am certain they will not accept Senator Kephart's lovely essay as an excuse to stop hammering away at his proposals.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I would like to read an editorial that appeared in one of the Philadelphia papers, so that it will not be assumed that all the papers in that city are opposed to the plan of the Republican organization. Of course, if you read the editorials that Mr. Rosenfeld spoke about, you will find that in reality the papers favor the plan, except for certain details, and those details, more or less, hinge on whether the people should vote for certain officials or should not vote for them. We in the Republican Party in Philadelphia, as I said before, believe in the people and their right to vote. I do not think, for instance, take the Sheriff's Office, where we are proposing to eliminate one elected official, the coroner, and place his duties in the Sheriff, and we are proposing that he should be elected. I have taken the trouble to investigate the question of elective sheriffs and I find that there is no other city or county in the nation where the Sheriff is appointed, they are all elected. Why should we have an appointed official in Philadelphia County? No other county in Pennsylvania has an appointed sheriff.

"CITY-COUNTY MERGER PLANS"

"Continued attempts to disenfranchise Philadelphia voters through a proposed merger of city and county departments, headed by appointive rather than elective officers for the purpose of concentrating power and patronage in the hands of a few self-seeking individuals, have taken a new form. These attempts now are concentrating upon trying to defeat the proposals offered the legislature by Sen. A. Evans Kephart, aimed at increasing the efficiency of the Philadelphia governmental system primarily because the Kephart plans do not fit with theirs. The Kephart proposals include an amendment to retain the constitutional status of the elective offices of city controller, district attorney, recorder of deeds, sheriff, city treasurer, county commissioners and clerks of the courts. They would combine the office of coroner with that of the sheriff, the duties of the register of wills would be merged with the recorder of deeds, the receiver of taxes' tasks with the treasurer's department and the prothonotary's post with the clerk of the court.

"In a separate bill, Senator Kephart proposes to eliminate the registration commission and shift its election duties to the county commissioners, thus concentrating the voting machinery under the jurisdiction of one unit and fixing the definite responsibility with that department. This appears to annoy the opponents of the measures inasmuch as it would balk any possible manipulation with the balloting processes.

"Naturally, the element beating the drums for the elimination of constitutional safeguards on elective offices are opposed to anything that would block its scheme to bring these posts within the scope of appointments, with the possibility of making such officers subservient to the wishes of the appointing powers, rather than to the people.

"The whole hue and cry against the Kephart measures reveals the power-seeking group is not so much concerned with intelligent streamlining of the administrative phases of the municipal and county government as it is with gathering unto itself the reins through which its members had hoped to achieve their own specious purposes.

"It is obvious, if the scheme advocated by them is analyzed objectively, their plan would accomplish no lasting good. It would save no money, because the work still would have to be done and employes would have to be paid to do it. In addition it would take away from the citizens the right to vote upon the names of the man who would be candidates for the offices, establishing a virtual dictatorship under future mayors.

"Any such a system is nefarious. It is against the principles of American political science, that hinges on free elections, and it would produce in Philadelphia a condition that would leave the people little recourse in the event of dissatisfaction with the appointed officials. There is grave doubt as to whether any method of consolidation is needed but if certain changes are regarded as reasonable, the Kephart plans would seem to serve the purpose, without putting the city in the hands of a group of political highbinders."

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, I note again with interest that my good friend Senator Kephart, did not give us the name of the newspaper that carried that editorial. I would like to debate with the writer of that editorial at any time. However, that is neither here nor there. I do not ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Kephart, to give us the name of that newspaper, but I say to him that the score is at least two to one.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, the newspaper, which I assumed Mr. Rosenfeld would know, is one of general circulation in the city of Philadelphia, the Daily News. It isn't a question of which newspaper, it is a question of the contents of the editorial.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. FRAZIER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. FRAZIER. Mr. President, yesterday, as you probably know, the President pro tempore of this body ever thoughtful of the welfare of athletics and particularly amateur athletics, and cognizant of what has been going on throughout the nation with these cheap gamblers who have been endeavoring to corrupt even the youth of America, introduced a bill to curb their activities. We felt it was so important that a special meeting of the committee on State Government was called this morning and I have the honor of having been directed to report out that bill as committed.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. FRAZIER, from the Committee on State Government, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 114, entitled:

An Act to amend sections six hundred fourteen and six hundred fifteen of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine, (P. L. 872), entitled "An act to consolidate, amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth," relating to bribery in athletic contests and soliciting or accepting a bribe in athletic contests.

Mr. BERGER, from the Committee on State Government reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 104, entitled:

An Act to add clause (k) to section one thousand three hundred seven of the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177), entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools, or Teachers Colleges; abolishing, creating, reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments, boards, and commissions; defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers, and of the several administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers; fixing the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and certain other executive and administrative officers; providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers, and of all deputies and other assistants and employees in certain departments, boards, and commissions; and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employees of certain departments, boards and commissions shall be determined," incorporating certain functions of the State Council of Education now provided for by other legislation repealed hereby.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, a week ago yesterday I presented a bill to create an investigating committee to abate the smoke and soot nuisance. While at a news stand over the week-end, my eye was attracted to a title in a magazine, a magazine I have never bought and never read, the "Woman's Home Companion."

What attracted my eye was this title, "Smoke, The Silent Murderer", and I thought since that article in the magazine related to the bill I presented, and since it is very timely, and since, at least in my opinion, it ought to be read by every person, especially legislators who have an interest in the general welfare and the health of the citizens of the Commonwealth, I thought I would ask the privilege today to read some passages from this article.

Mr. President, after explaining what smoke did in and around San Francisco Bay, around the town of San Bruno, New Orleans, and Milwaukee, it came to Donora, and this is what it said.

"But the worst proof of all came in the little industrial city of Donora, Pennsylvania, where thirteen thousand people live under the smokestacks of steel mills, railroad yards and a big zinc smelter. Donora has its own sign at the city limits; it reads Next to Yours the Best Town in the U. S. A. But the townspeople really know better. Their homes are seldom free of soot and fumes and there are long stretches of barren earth where no grass can grow. On the farms around the town the plants are scrubby and the wool of the sheep is grimy black.

"(One day in Donora the wind stopped blowing and a fog settled down. As the smokestacks puffed their dirt and poison into the air, the fog became thick enough to cut with a knife. The sun was blotted out the town was in darkness. Its people soon discovered that they could hardly breathe the heavy air.

"On the third day of the smog everything in Donora was black and greasy to the touch. Still the townspeople waited and prayed for a wind to blow it away—like most Americans, they regarded smoke as a necessary evil and were willing to tolerate it.

"That night they discovered that they had tortured their bodies beyond endurance. People woke gasping in their beds, choking for breath. Doctors were called out; one of them went down a street administering adrenalin—to help stimulate overburdened hearts—almost as fast as he could sterilize his needles.

"One man's heart stopped beating and then another. Emergency call went out for more adrenalin and for oxygen tents. In all, four hundred citizens were seriously stricken and hundreds of others fled the town. By the time the wind finally came and the smoke disappeared, twenty had died. A member of the city board of health cried out in horror. "These people were murdered—murdered by something in the air.)"

"(Medical authorities have long known that smoke is a killer—sometimes striping swiftly and dramatically as in Donora)"

* * * *

"(You are not safe merely because your city boasts that it has a smoke ordinance—most cities have smoke ordinances but few of them work.)"

* * * *

"(Medical researchers cause cancer in mice by injecting them with a coal tar mixture very similar to the one you are breathing. And Dr. Charles S. Cameron, medical and scientific director of the American Cancer Society, recently listed smoke pollution as one of the factors that may favor development of cancer in human beings.)"

* * * *

"(Dr. Clarence A. Mills, the nation's top authority on the effect of smoke on the human body, has compared the amount of smoke pollution and the public health records in half a dozen cities. Everywhere his findings are the same. The more smoke there is, the higher the death rate from cancer of the lungs, tuberculosis and pneumonia.)"

* * * *

"(One medical authority thinks that smoke may be a contributory factor in cases of rheumatic fever, which kills about forty thousand people a year—most of them children.)"

* * * *

"(Moreover smoke corrodes buildings, destroys paint, grinds its grit into rugs and curtains and lays its greasy mantle over woodwork and linens.)"

* * * *

"(You will need an expert engineer or a group of engineers to make a survey which will show where the smoke is coming from.)"

* * * *

"(You will then need a law, drawn up by experts to suit your local requirements, and an adequate staff to enforce it.)"

* * * *

"(You can cut down deaths from pneumonia, tuberculosis and lung cancer and reduce your annual toll from colds and sinus infections. You need only public demand, a well-thought-out law and the right enforcement officials.

"You can have clean curtains, fresh paint and unsmudged shirt collars. You can avoid the burden of removing the ten pounds of soot each month found by the Boston chemist. You can have more hours of sunlight, healthier children and better gardens—and freedom from the fear of another Donora.

"No matter what the cost, the program will pay for itself. Your community, even if it tried its best to be extravagant, could not possibly spend as much money eliminating smoke as the presence of smoke is costing you today.)"

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, when I presented my bill last Monday, I presented it because we in Bethlehem, where I live, have a smoke and soot problem. Frankly, it has been an issue there for a number of years, and just recently the city officials held a meeting of the employees in the round house there and asked their cooperation to eliminate the smoke nuisance.

In Bethlehem, we have a large paint mill, and it has been a source of nuisance and inconvenience to all of the people in that locality. Their homes have been practically destroyed and reduced in value from the soot and all that sort of thing that emanates from the paint factory.

We have one of the largest steel mills in the country in Bethlehem, we have four railroads, and several round houses, so that the problem with which we are dealing here exists in my home town, and that is one of the reasons why I am as interested in it as I am.

I spoke to some of the gentlemen on this side about the bill, and they informed me that the bill at this time, perhaps, would not be too popular because it has already effected the coal industry in the western part of Pennsylvania. That may be true, but the point that I am trying to make is this. Science and invention have made progress in many fields, and I say that if this committee is created and it is given encouragement, there is a probability that it may invent something that will eliminate the smoke hazard and the soot hazard, and at the same time not affect the coal industry.

I think we ought to give a committee such as I suggest in the bill a chance to do its work on behalf of the people of this Commonwealth.

I personally think this article is so important at this time that I am going to request that it be made a part of the record. I was told that the members of the Senate frowned on such requests, but if I read the whole article, it would become a part of the record, and for that reason I am going to ask the consent of the Senate to make it a part of the record, and I trust that the committee that has the bill will give it serious consideration, report it out favorably, and support it here in the Senate and in the House, and give this commission which the bill requests be appointed a chance to do this work to abate this smoke nuisance for the general welfare of the citizens of the Commonwealth.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WALKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent at this time to interrupt the reports of committees, in order that I may answer the gentleman from Northampton.

I have no desire to interfere with him in his enthusiasm of the legislation that he discussed, but I think it would be establishing a precedent that would become rather expensive to the taxpayers if magazine articles and books were put into the record relating to bills that are still in committee. I think that the gentleman can accomplish his purpose if he will refer the article to the same committee that has the bill, and give it the opportunity to study it so that we do not clutter the official record of the Senate with magazine articles. I think the gentlemen on the other side will agree that this has been the practice in the past.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, in view of the remarks of the gentleman from Allegheny, I will withdraw my request that the complete article be spread in the minutes of the Legislative Journal.

Pennsylvania's Industrial Economy, I submit the following report:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, and Gentlemen of the Senate, I ask leave to make a few prefatory remarks before introducing the resolution.

Mr. President, this being a Philadelphia week in the Senate of Pennsylvania, I feel I would be remiss in my duty if I did not bring to the attention of this august body certain conditions that exist in Philadelphia, namely, the lack of a state office building. Anybody who has to practice before various boards in Philadelphia knows how difficult it is to peregrinate from one office to the other.

In connection with it, you have probably heard there is a certain wall in Philadelphia, known as the Chinese wall, which soon will be demolished, and by the demolition of this wall, there will be created a very fine spot for the erection of a state house.

Mr. President, in connection with this situation, I offer this resolution.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

URGING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO APPOINT COMMITTEE TO MAKE A STUDY FOR THE ERECTION OF A STATE COURT HOUSE AND OFFICE BUILDING IN THE CITY OF PHILADELPHIA

Mr. STIEFEL offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on State Government:

In the Senate, January 25, 1949.

Whereas, The dispersal and inconvenient location of the offices of the various departments, commissions, bureaus, and boards of our State Government in the City of Philadelphia is not conducive to efficiency and economy and above all not commensurate with the dignity and greatness of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and,

Whereas, The rentals paid by the Commonwealth for its Philadelphia offices for the last two decades would have amply covered the costs of an imposing state-owned building erected structurally and artistically according to the highest and most modern standards of office-building architecture, and

Whereas, The acoustics and accommodations of the rooms occupied by the State Courts in the City Hall of Philadelphia are deficient and functionally inadequate, thus requiring changes that cannot be longer delayed, and

Whereas, There is thus a definite need now extant in Philadelphia for the erection therein of a State Court House and Office Building, and

Whereas, recently the City of Philadelphia and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company have agreed that the so called "Chinese Wall," running from Broad Street Station to 30th Street Station parallel to Market Street be removed and a ninety-feet wide boulevard laid out upon the tract of land now covered by said "Chinese Wall" and that as a part of this development the future width of Fifteenth Street between he proposed boulevard and Market Street is to be fixed at sixty-seven feet and that of Sixteenth Street at seventy-feet, and

Whereas, The execution of the foresaid agreement between the City of Philadelphia and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will place at the disposal of the City of Philadelphia an available site within less than one hundred yards from City Hall having a length of three hundred sixty feet and a depth of two hundred eight feet and thus admirably suited for the erection thereon of a State Court House and Office Building,

Now Be It Therefore resolved (If the House of Representatives concur) that:

(a) The Joint State Government Commission appoint a committee to make a study of the locational and dispersional inconvenience of the several State Offices in Philadelphia and the effect thereof upon the efficiency of the services rendered.

(b) That the City of Philadelphia be urged by the General Assembly of Pennsylvania to place at the disposal of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the aforesaid site for the erection thereon of a State Court House and Office Building.

(c) That His Excellency the Governor of Pennsylvania be urged to order a study by his subordinates of the suitability of the aforesaid site for the erection thereon of a State Court House and Office Building, as well as the advisability of such a project.

(d) That the General Assembly of Pennsylvania enact such legislation that may be necessary for the initiation of the project.

(e) That the Secretary of the Senate forwards copies of this resolution to His Excellency the Governor of Pennsylvania, to the Mayor of Philadelphia, and to the President of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. KEPHART asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, the idea of having a state house in Philadelphia to house the courts of Pennsylvania, and the administrative offices of the executive department of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia, is not a new one. The Republican Party sponsored legislation to carry out that objective as far back as 1945—I think it was even earlier than that—because I recall that at the last Session of the Legislature, we had detailed plans of such a state house to be built out on the Parkway, at about 18th and the Parkway. There was even, in addition to an investigation, an appropriation made for the purpose of commencing this work. I recall at the last session of the Legislature, the Governor felt that prices were too high, I believe, and that the money appropriated for that purpose could be better used for some other purpose, and the bill appropriating the funds for this project was repealed.

Mr. President, I have had it in mind to speak to him and see if we could not get started on the project again this year, so that if building costs come down to any reasonable extent, we could have such a state house in Philadelphia.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I am not trying to steal the thunder from anybody. I introduced a similar resolution during the past session, and I feel that here is a wonderful opportunity to find a lot in the heart of the city of Philadelphia, and I believe in doing that I am not seeking credit for the Democratic party or militating against the Republican party. I am doing it as a citizen of Philadelphia who is attuned to the needs of Philadelphia.

My dear Mr. Sorg:

I do hereby tender my resignation as a member of the Pennsylvania Legislature, representing the First York County District, to become effective Monday, January 5, 1948.

Mr. Herbert P. Sorg, Acting Speaker

Dear Mr. Speaker:

I was elected Mayor of Johnstown on November 4, 1947, and accepted the office by being sworn in at 10 A. M., on Monday, January 5, 1948.

In presenting myself to take the oath as Mayor of Johnstown, I made my election to assume and hold that office, and thereby resigned from the office of Member of the House of Representatives from the first Legislative District of Cambria County, creating a vacancy in the membership of the House.

In order that my position on this may be clear, and in order to enable you, as Acting Speaker of the House, to call a special election to elect my successor in the House, I hereby declare that I am no longer a Member of the House of Representatives, having resigned on the fifth day of January 1948, by taking my oath of office as Mayor.

Yours very truly,
(s) WALTER E. ROSE.

Due to the many duties associated with the office of Finance Director I feel that I would not have sufficient time or energy to conscientiously serve as a legislator.

I will always be grateful for the many courtesies which you and the other members of the legislature have extended to me. The days which I have spent in the legislature I number among the happiest in my life. I hope to be able to pay an occasional visit to the halls of the House in future sessions.

APPOINTING SELECT COMMITTEE

Mr. BRUNNER offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 25, 1949.

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint and designate the chairman of a Select Committee on Memorials, consisting of eight Members of the House, to fix a time and arrange a suitable program for memorial services in memory of Members of the House of Representatives who have died during the interim since the legislative session of 1947.

MEMORIAL COMMITTEE APPOINTED

The SPEAKER. Pursuant to the resolution adopted by the House of Representatives, Tuesday, January 25, 1949, the Speaker appoints as members of the Select Memorial Committee: Messrs. Wood, Chairman, Yeakel, McKinney, Royer, Leisey, Watkins, Stank, Mihm.

WEST READING HIGH SCHOOL WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair welcomes to the House the Ninth Grade Civic Class of the West Reading High School, Berks County, under the supervision of their teachers, Mrs. Greth and Mr. Shalter. They are the guests of the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Weidner.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his parliamentary inquiry?

Mr. ROSE. Will the Speaker inform me as to which Members of the House were members of the Committee that met in Philadelphia, I believe two or three months ago, with respect to the consolidation of the City and County of Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would suggest that the gentleman interrogate the Majority Leader, the gentleman from Montgomery Mr. Brunner.

Will the gentleman from Montgomery permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BRUNNER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman inform me if he was a member of the Joint State Government Commission that met in Philadelphia to discuss and study the City-County Survey of Philadelphia?

Mr. BRUNNER. I was, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, did the gentleman participate in the discussions that took place there and heard the testimony of the witnesses who appeared with reference to the City-County of Philadelphia?

Mr. BRUNNER. I did, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ROSE. It was my understanding, Mr. Speaker, that a report would be made by the Joint State Government Commission with respect to the City of Philadelphia. Has such a report been prepared?

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, I know of no obligation on the part of the Executive Committee of the Joint State Government Commission to make any report, but it did undertake the study.

There is a meeting scheduled for February 1 of the entire Commission, at which time the matter will be submitted to the full Joint State Government Commission.

May I further inform the gentleman that as of today the last of the material which was promised to us at the meetings in Philadelphia was finally received. The gentleman should be informed that at the time of the previous meetings the proponents and opponents appeared before us and made their statements, at which time they promised to submit material to us. All of that material so promised was not received until today; it was not until today that we had before us all of the material.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, may I further interrogate the gentleman?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. BRUNNER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ROSE. Is the gentleman aware of the fact that there have been introduced in the Senate of Pennsylvania certain bills with respect to City-County consolidation and City charter measures?

Mr. BRUNNER. I am informed by the public press that measures of somewhat that nature have been introduced before the Senate.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, is it the information of the gentleman that heretofore a measure has been introduced into the House with respect to City-County consolidation?

Mr. BRUNNER. Will the gentleman please repeat his question?

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I believe the gentleman is informed of the fact that a measure has been introduced into this House with respect to consolidation of the City and County of Philadelphia.

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, I know that a bill allegedly doing that has been introduced.

Mr. ROSE. Is it the opinion of the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, that with respect to these particular measures we should receive a report from the Joint State Government Commission so as to be fully advised as to which will be more beneficial to the people of Philadelphia.

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to reply to the gentleman that the Joint State Government Commission was created by the House for the purpose of making independent studies on its behalf, and at times it has not made reports to this body for reasons best known to itself. I am perfectly willing to trust the Commission's judgment as to whether a final report should be made to this body or not.

Mr. ROSE. I thank the gentleman from Montgomery.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained permission to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I listened with great interest to the interrogation of the lawyers. I listened to the lawyer's question and the lawyer's answer, and I am quite as well informed now as I was when the interrogation began.

Mr. Speaker, we have in this House administration tax bills, administration health bills, administration school bills, administration bills of all kinds. As a rule, the Joint State Government Commission represents the administration point of view, and therefore, I have arisen to express the opinion that since the administration has bills upon everything else, that it is in keeping with the traditions of this House and with traditions of the Joint State Government Commission that there should be submitted bills with reference to Philadelphia that bear the administration imprimatur.

RESOLUTION

Mrs. VARALLO offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk.

INTERROGATION

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogate?

Mr. BRUNNER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, from time immemorial, since the day when the memory of man runneth not to the contrary, the Members of this House have been presented with pretty little badges which they could place upon their waist coat and display to their friends, and I have been wondering whether there is any explanation or reason why the Members of the present House have not been decorated with that unique certificate of eminence, prominence and statesmanship.

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, may I reply to the gentleman that as yet all of the Members' badges and employes' badges have not been received by the Chief Clerk, but in accord with custom, the Members of the press have received theirs, and I know full well that the gentleman from Cambria would agree with me that they were entitled to priority as members of the fourth estate.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, by way of avoiding language which cannot be entered upon the records, the members of the said fourth estate, have commented somewhat adversely upon these badges. I heard intimations that the badges as received and the specifications as submitted to the contractor seem to be somewhat at variance, and I am wondering whether there is any information as to that; as to whether the badges comply with the specifications.

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, as yet we have not heard of such a complaint. Of course, a complaint from the members of the fourth estate would be referred to the Committee on Rules and would be considered in due course.

Mr. ANDREWS. Further, Mr. Speaker, I wonder whether it would not be a matter of interest for this House through a proper committee to ascertain whether over the years, not this year, but in 1947, 1945, 1943, the Members of this House have been decorated with badges that have not compiled with specifications furnished the contractor.

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, I do not know whether the contractors have complied with the specifications in the past—if that is the purport of the gentleman's question. I do know as far as point of delivery is concerned, or time of delivery is concerned, that at all previous sessions we had the badges at the time we took our oath of office. I would suggest to the gentleman that until the badges are delivered to us or to the Chief Clerk and we have an opportunity to determine for ourselves as to the quality of those badges, that he defer action. I anticipate that in the near future the remainder of those badges will be delivered and we will have an opportunity to see them and determine and take whatever action is indicated.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the minority—the Majority Leader. Sometimes I have to survey the House to make certain of the status.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

The matter of the badges may seem trivial at first thought, but it involves a principle of greater importance. It is quite possible to obtain a badge for previous years, it is quite possible to obtain the specifications that were furnished the contractor, and it is quite possible to ascertain whether the badges furnished in previous years have or have not complied with the specifications. If the badges have not complied with the specifications I believe then the appropriate committee of this House, by inquiring further, could uncover various other instances in which the contractor has not complied with specifications, giving rise to the suspicion that it has become the practice in this Commonwealth in minor contracts to frame specifications upon which contractors who are not on the inside could honestly bid while there were contractors who were acquainted with the fact that they did not have to comply with the specifications, could put in a lower bid. I think it is a matter that deserves the attention of His Excellency the Governor and the appropriate committee of this House.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. BRUNNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, during the years that I have had the privilege and honor of serving as a Member of this House, I cannot recall any question raised on the floor of this House as to these badges prior to this time. I think therefore we have the right to assume that they were not only of a proper quality, but that they complied with the specifications as established by the proper department. I am just as anxious as the gentleman from Cambria to ascertain whether those specifications are being complied with, and if at any time I have affirmative evidence to the contrary, I will be glad to transmit it to him for appropriate action by the Members of this House.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT. asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and members of the Senate, I do not usually speak in presenting a bill, but I think this particular bill is of such great importance that it needs a small explanation at least, as to the whys and wherefores for its introduction.

On behalf of Senators Haluska, Barr and myself, and in general, the Democratic Party of the state of Pennsylvania, I wish to present to the Chair a bill calling for the reenactment of The General State Authority. This re-establishes in the Commonwealth an agency and the method by which this agency can construct, improve or extend any of the public facilities of the Commonwealth, and pay for such extension, construction and improvement over a period of years known as "use" years.

It has long been the policy of the Democratic Party to stand for this type of legislation. During the time that this Senate was engaged in discussion and debate as to whether or not this bill or this act ought to be repealed, if the Senate will remember, I stated that if we were to prosper in this Commonwealth, if we were to maintain the standards of government that we are led to believe are common to this Commonwealth, then we would eventually have to re-enact this legislation. There is no question in my mind but what the re-conversion or I might say, the conversion of Governor Duff to this type of thinking—is a great thing and will be a great benefit to the people of this Commonwealth, because we are now in a position, or will be with the enactment of this bill, to give to the future generations the right to help pay for some of the improvements that this generation shall put into the Commonwealth.

Mr. President, I therefore present to the Chair, with a great deal of pleasure, this particular piece of legislation.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. DENT, HALUSKA and BARR read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 168, entitled:

An Act to promote the welfare of the people of the Commonwealth; creating a General State Authority as a body corporate and politic with power to construct, complete, improve, equip, furnish, maintain, repair and operate projects, and to lease the same, and to fix and collect fees, rentals and charges for the use thereof; authorizing and regulating the issuance of bonds by said Authority, and providing for the payment of such bonds, and the rights of the holders thereof, and to enter into agreements with the Government of the United States or any Federal agency, and authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies to grant, assign, convey or lease to the Authority lands of the Commonwealth and interests therein, and to acquire lands therefor; granting the right of eminent domain and providing that no debt of the Commonwealth shall be incurred in the exercise of any of the powers granted by this act.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

INTERROGATION

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. DENT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to ask the gentleman from Westmoreland if the bill he just introduced is an administration bill?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I would say, from the reports that appear in the newspapers, it is.

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, relative to the passage of Senate Bill No. 2, Printers Number 12, I want it thoroughly understood that I do not rise in opposition. I just want to make a few observations that have been called to my attention on certain pertinent factors surrounding the passage of this type of legislation.

Mr. President, I know and every member of the Senate knows that this legislation is intended for the common good, and it is in that spirit that we are voting for it, and I hope that we vote for it unanimously. However, so that the future membership in this Senate will know that there was never any thinking on the part of the members of this Senate to make this a vehicle that could be turned to a very dangerous precedent in this Commonwealth, I want it clearly understood that so far as I am concerned, this particular type of legislation is to endeavor to benefit the under-privileged and poor children of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. There is no desire on the part of myself, and I know I speak for the rest of the members of this Senate, to create an organization or enact a piece of legislation that might set up an agency that would regiment the children of this state into a common pack or common group to be taught ideologies foreign to our own American traditions. I believe and many members of this Senate feel that inherently we would rather see smaller groups under local supervision rather than this type of a recreational center. However, the state has the facilities and I believe that they would be put to better use through this type of a camp than to be left idle as they are at present. However, let us hope that in the future, no grasping politician will seek to use this for his own individual purposes. Let it be said that this Senate, in passing this piece of legislation, is trying to do something for the common people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 118, entitled:

An Act to amend section one thousand eight hundred one of the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177) entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards and commissions defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined" by authorizing the Department of Forests and Waters to enter into agreements for protection of natural deposits underlying property owned by the Commonwealth

And said bill having been read at length the third time, On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I desire at this time to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Indiana permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PEELOR. Mr. President, I yield to the gentleman from Potter, Mr. Berger.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Potter permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BERGER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I wonder if the gentleman could tell me how much money the State receives from these so-called agreements for drilling oil.

Mr. BERGER. At the present time, Mr. President, the State is not receiving any money from the agreements contemplated in this bill.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, does the gentleman know if the State is paying anyone for property that they do not drill on?

Mr. BERGER. I do not quite understand the question, Mr. President.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, my question is, is the State paying anyone for property that they have not drilled on? Are they paying the owner of the property for not drilling?

Mr. BERGER. In one instance, Mr. President, the owner of an interior tract under lease has entered into an agreement with the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, whereby he receives a proportionate share of the royalties accruing from his acreage, as well as certain surrounding acreages owned by the Commonwealth, and that is paid to him in lieu of royalties at the present time because the State is unable to enter into these agreements.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Potter.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Potter permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. BERGER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HOLLAND. In other words, Mr. President, this man is receiving royalties from wells drilled on State property, not on wells drilled on property owned by the individual.

Mr. BERGER. That is correct, Mr. President. That is what we call a unit operation, and is considered good operating practice in the production of gas from deep sands.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, can the gentleman from Potter tell us how much a year the man is receiving

Mr. BERGER. I cannot answer that, Mr. President.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I would suggest that this bill be held over until we have something further on it. It seems that no one knows how much money the State is paying these people out of royalties on wells that are not drilled on his property. It appears to me that if you were fortunate enough to buy a piece of land around the State, you would get a royalty on any gas the State might find on thousands of acres of land, while you may only have a few acres. I believe this bill should be held over until we get a more complete report from the Secretary of Forests and Waters, and find out exactly what we are voting on, and how much money the State would save or how much money the State would get.

Mr. President, oil is a very priceless material right now, it is very high in price, and I would like to know if the State is going to gain by this agreement or whether it can lose by this agreement.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, without any attempt to discuss the merits of the bill with the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Holland, I understand he would like to have the bill go over so that he may receive further information. If that is so, I have no objection to the bill going over, so that the distinguished citizen from Allegheny can obtain this information.

However, if the gentleman from Allegheny investigates this matter, he will find that this bill is for the protection of land that the Commonwealth desires to drill, even if it is exploratory drilling, without endangering the lands that are leased by private industry.

I think the individual that the Senator from Allegheny is referring to, is a distinguished jurist from Westmoreland County. Judge Copeland, I think, is the gentleman he is referring to, and the agreement made with Judge Copeland of Westmoreland County is to compensate him for the natural resources that are being taken by state drilled and state owned wells from their land and drained from his, and I think it was entered into in good faith. I do not think Judge Copeland is the type of individual who would take advantage of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or any of its citizens.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I want to thank the gentleman from Allegheny.

The PRESIDENT. Does the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Holland, desire that Senate Bill 118 go over in its order?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, before the Senator from Allegheny replies to that question, I would like to explain the bill for the benefit of the members of the Senate.

It happens that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania owns a vast amount of land in northern Pennsylvania, and in some large acreages there are found small interior tracts of which the tract in question is one. In order to operate the property, in fairness to both the Commonwealth and to the owner of such small tract, that acreage is combined into a unit of about 200 acres and the well is drilled, and the royalty from that well is distributed in proportion to the amount that the acreage in the private tract and the amount of the Commonwealth's acreage compares to the whole unit.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 118, on third reading, go over in order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I rise on a point of information.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Cambria will state his point of information.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, because of so many conflicting interpretations pertaining to notaries public, I would like to ask for clarification of same. Are the commissions that are granted during the interim to continue, are they reconfirmed at this session, or do they expire at the end of this session?

The PRESIDENT. Are you asking the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, that question?

Mr. HALUSKA. Anyone, Mr. President, who can give me the information.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Fayette, Senator Tarr seems to have the answer.

Mr. TARR. Mr. President, I am sorry that I did not get to talk to my colleague before he arose, but I just returned from a talk with the Governor's Office on the same question, and they informed me that interim appointments will be sent to the Senate tomorrow for confirmation. Due to the fact that many of the commissions have expired on the first, second, third, fourth or fifth of January, they decided to just hold them all over until the first of February.

Now, Mr. President, there has been, and I, too, have received quite a number of inquiries, because a good number of my notaries public have inquired as to whether or not they need a new application or a new fee, and the answer is they do not need a new application, they do not need a new fee, and the Governor's Office is going to send to the Senate tomorrow, a list of the interim appointments.

The PRESIDENT. Does that answer the question of the gentleman from Cambria?

Mr. HALUSKA. That is probably true, Mr. President, but I have had just the opposite information from the Governor's Office, and really and sincerely, I would like to know which is correct, whether they are re-confirmed, or whether they are left to expire at the end of the session. I would like to have a ruling by the Chair, in order that we can be guided by the same. The Senator from Fayette may be right, but I have had the opposite information.

The PRESIDENT. The information requested by the Senator from Cambria is such that it is not an order of business. There are no nominations submitted, and the question is not properly before the Senate.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I rose to a point of information, and I think that as a Senator I am entitled to be informed, so that I can in turn inform my constituency. It may not be an order of business at this particular time, but I am asking for information, and I think I am entitled to it.

The PRESIDENT. Does the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, desire to answer the interrogation propounded by the Senator from Cambria?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I respectfully suggest to the gentleman from Cambria that the Senator from Fayette, Senator Tarr, has attempted to give him the information, and if it is conflicting with information that the gentleman from Cambria received from the same source, may I respectfully suggest, that the gentleman from Cambria go over to the Governor's Office and clear up the matter in the light of the information that was given him in good faith by the gentleman from Fayette, Senator Tarr.

Mr. HALUSKA. I will do that, Mr. President. I thank the gentleman from Allegheny.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WADE read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 169, entitled:

An Act to further amend clause (f) of section two of the act, approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WALKER from the Committee on Rules, reported as amended, House Bill No. 101, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the twenty-first day of January one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. FLEMING AND STUART.

RESOLUTION No. 11.

In the House of Representatives, January 31, 1949.

Whereas, Small claims and conciliation courts, as well as minor offenses courts, have been established and are operating with marked success in a number of jurisdictions throughout the United States; and

Whereas, The present practice in Pennsylvania, before justices of the peace and aldermen, and before the County Court of Allegheny County, as well as the bringing of matters involving small amounts before the various courts of common pleas, is unnecessarily time consuming and expensive to litigants, often results in inequalities and injustice, and places unwarranted burdens on the courts of common pleas and costs on the counties; therefore, be it

Resolved: That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby requested, during the interim between the present session of the General Assembly and the regular biennial session of 1951, to study the problems of just and equitable disposition of small claims and minor offenses, without the expense and delay of present practices; and to present its recommendations together with drafts of proposed legislation for the consideration of the General Assembly at its next regular session.

NAYS—0

NOT VOTING—1

Krise,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

INTERROGATION

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Majority Floor Leader, the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Brunner.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BRUNNER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, now that we have passed The Soldiers' Bonus Bill, with the expectation that the people will pass it in the next election, do you know if the administration has, or do you have any idea as to how we are going to raise the money to pay off the bonds?

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, may I reply to the gentleman from Allegheny, by his own words it would seem that he is premature. The people of this state have not yet had an opportunity to act upon this measure, and I do not personally believe, and I do not speak on behalf of the administration when I say that I do not see personally that this is the time to consider payment of a measure that has not yet formally and constitutionally been adopted by the people of this state.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. That is all, Mr. Speaker.

RESOLUTIONS

Mr. MORAN offered a resolution and asked unanimous consent that it be read for the information of the House.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the resolution to be read for the information of the House? Is there objection?

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection, and consent is not granted.

The resolution will be filed with the Clerk.

Mr. SARRAF offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk.

REPORT OF JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION

Mr. BRUNNER presented a report on behalf of the Joint State Government Commission dated December, 1948, dealing with "Alcoholism."

INTERROGATION

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Brunner.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BRUNNER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the Majority Leader whether this erudite and dry inspired report which he has presented is likely in any way to interfere with the annual party which the gentleman has put on for the delectation of the Members and employees of this House.

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, even though I happen to hold in my hand a glass of water, may I assure the gentleman from Cambria and the 208 Members of this House that the party which it has been my pleasure to throw since 1939, will be held at the appointed time and at the appointed place.

FORMER MEMBER WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair at this time welcomes back a former Member of the House, the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Imbt.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The SPEAKER. The Chair is informed by the Chief Clerk that the files on the desks of some of the Members have disappeared since last week. In the event this has happened as the result of the Members having taken them out for the purpose of filing bills, the Members are requested to leave their bill files on their desks so that the bills may be filed by the Sergeants-at-Arms. This refers to both Senate bill files and House bill files, as well as the Journal files. Please do not lock them in your desks over the week-end..

TUESDAY, February 1, 1949

The Senate met at 12:30 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Daniel B. Strickler) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rabbi PHILIP DAVID BOOKSTABER offered the following prayer:

Let us pray: Oh Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for this our blessed land, America, and this our great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; that those in leadership in this Commonwealth be inspired with the spirit from God on high; that we ask no more than am I my brothers keeper, and that we seek him because we are our brother's keeper; except the Lord buildeth the House, those labor in vain that build it.

We ask Thy guidance in this Commonwealth that we do not desist from our responsibilities as individual citizens in the individual enterprises, everyone with another in our community. We ask Thy blessing upon the Governor of this Commonwealth, and the Presiding Officer, the Lieutenant-Governor of this our Senate, and for all who deliberate that they may be inspired with the spirit of love and fellowship, one with another.

We ask it in Thy name, Amen.

Whereas, the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission has rejected all protests of the public and have announced a determination to construct the turnpike as originally planned.

Now, Therefore, Be it Resolved that the Committee on Highways and Committee on Forests and Waters of the Senate hold public hearings to investigate the proposed construction of the eastern extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike in the vicinity of the ground occupied by the Continental Army during the winter of 1777 and 1778 in the Counties of Montgomery and Chester in the State of Pennsylvania and submit a report as to its findings to the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution is referred to the Committee on State Government.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BARR asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, at the meeting this morning of the Joint State Government Commission, it was brought to our attention that the study, to this moment, that was to have been made by the Joint State Government Commission of the situation in Philadelphia had been done without a resolution being adopted by this Senate.

I have been here now for one month, hearing the gentlemen on the other side say that they want a short and business-like session. If the Joint State Government Commission is going to make any recommendation to the members of this Senate for legislation affecting the situation as it exists in Philadelphia, I see no reason why the Majority Leader should object to immediate consideration of the resolution which has been just sent to the Committee on State Government. I to this moment have purposely kept out of the Philadelphia argument, but this morning after attending a meeting of The Joint State Government Commission, it appeared to me definitely that the gentlemen on the other side want to white-wash this matter in its entirety.

I would, therefore, ask the gentlemen on the Committee of State Government to call a meeting of this committee if possible next week, to consider this resolution, so that The Joint State Government Commission can act on the problem that has been before it since last July, when we held our first hearing in Philadelphia. I for one am not going to sit idly by in the Senate and see nothing done about the situation in Philadelphia.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WALKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, the fault I find with the argument made by my colleague, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, lies in the fact that The Joint State Government Commission is a fact finding body created by the Legislature primarily to hold hearings or investigations or fact finding sittings during the interim session.

It is true that in July of 1948, the Executive Committee of The Joint State Government Commission went to Philadelphia to begin hearings or to hold hearings relating to a legislative solution of the over-lapping governmental problems that were confronting the city and county of Philadelphia. Now that the Legislature is in session, the Joint State Government Commission rightfully assumes that the committees that have already been appointed in the Legislature are the proper bodies to work out the solution in Philadelphia. The Legislature is in session and that problem should be solved by the Legislature. The solution should be approached by the committees in the House and in the Senate and the "buck" should not be passed by these legislative committees in a fact-finding body such as The Joint State Government Commission.

Mr. President, the Commission had no desire to avoid any responsibility, and that is why the motion that was made and passed by the Commission was, in my opinion, a proper one. They merely delivered to the General Assembly the facts they have found and the data that they have in their records in regard to the Philadelphia situation up to this point. The solution is in the proper hands when it is in the hands of the General Assembly: the General Assembly has committees and the Joint State Government Commission did not want to have General Assembly assume that it, the Commission, was attempting to force its way in and usurp the prerogatives of the General Assembly.

For that reason, Mr. President, that action was taken and I think it was proper.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BARR asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I attended the meeting of The Joint State Government Commission this morning, and Senator Walker was there. His opinion this afternoon is just a little bit different than it was this morning. They used as an "out", a political "out" I would call it, the technicality of saying there had never been a resolution passed asking The Joint State Government Commission to study the Philadelphia situation, and it was suggested, not by members of my party but by members of his party, that this resolution be introduced in both Houses. The same resolution that has been introduced here this afternoon is being introduced over in the House.

Now, Senator Walker, I cannot see how you could have changed your line of thinking since this morning.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WALKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I do not want this to become a partisan issue. Slowly but surely the gentleman from Allegheny is suggesting that those of us on this side of the aisle are going to white-wash the Philadelphia story. In due deference to the members of The Joint State Government Commission, may I say—and I am reluctant to do this, because this is the point that slightly irks the gentleman from Allegheny—the motion to take the action that The Joint State Government Commission took was made by the very distinguished gentleman from Cambria, the Minority Leader of the House, and up to this point, this matter of trying to settle the Philadelphia problem by The Joint State Government Commission has been strictly a non-partisan endeavor, and the suggestion of the gentleman from Allegheny that we over here are going to white-wash the Philadelphia story has no finding in fact and is based entirely on his imaginative fears.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. KEPHART asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I cannot understand all this talk about white-washing. Further, I cannot understand what the Senator Barr's tremendous interest is in Philadelphia. It would seem to me that he would have enough to do if he stayed in his own back yard. His own back yard has a little story to it, too.

Going into the history of the Pittsburgh story, I have discovered that there was a Police Lieutenant named Lawrence Maloney appointed out there, and he was in charge of a racket squad. This squad had authority to go all over the city of Pittsburgh, any place it wanted to, and it was not confined to any specific district like the police inspectors in Pittsburgh are. This particular squad made several arrests, hundreds of them, day after day, and the reason that they were able to do that was because the city was being run wide open, and neither the Mayor nor the Police Department were doing anything about it. Then the Democratic Mayor of Pittsburgh fired a police inspector named Florig, and at that point Florig started to talk. He charged that there were numbers games and gambling going on all over the city, that every kind of vice flourished and every racket flourished, and that it did so right under the nose of the Mayor and the Police Department.

The Democratic Mayor of Pittsburgh ignored these charges for a while, he evaded them, but finally when it got too hot for him to save face, he asked the District Attorney for a Grand Jury investigation. The result of that Grand Jury investigation was sixty or seventy indictments, and to date I understand there has been six trials and five of the six who were indicted have been convicted. The Grand Jury report criticized the Police Department, together with the Superintendent and all of the inspectors except one, who has since died.

Mr. President, what did the Democratic Mayor of Pittsburgh do about this criticism that the Grand Jury leveled at him and his administration and at his Police Department? He fired one police inspector, and that one police inspector happened by chance to be friendly to a city councilman who was unfriendly to the Mayor. He did not fire or do anything with respect to the rest of the police inspectors, nor did he do anything with respect to the Superintendent, he has not done anything at all, it seems to me.

Another thing out there, the police are in politics, they are permitted to be in politics, they can be ward committeemen, they can hold ward chairmanships and ward leaderships, and that is not so in Philadelphia. Why does not the Senator from Allegheny, Senator Barr, clean up that situation in Pittsburgh first and get after some of the graft and corruption there before he comes down and wants to concentrate on Philadelphia and accuse us of trying to white-wash the situation down there, when we have no situation to white-wash at all.

Mr. President, I would suggest to the gentleman from Allegheny further that the constitution was amended in 1933 to provide for the consolidation of the city and county of Pittsburgh. Have they ever made any gesture towards carrying out the will of the people in that respect, and if they have, do they want the same program in Pittsburgh that we are being asked to take in Philadelphia? Let him look in his own back yard before he starts after Philadelphia.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I might say that I believe the rest of the Senate and perhaps a few in the audience got the same inference I did from the remark of the gentleman from Philadelphia. When he first rose to his feet he said something about the gentleman from Pittsburgh, Mr. Barr, staying in his own back yard and not interfering in matters pertaining to Philadelphia. I am very much surprised to note that the gentleman from Philadelphia is so well prepared as to the history of the city of Pittsburgh on a moment's notice, and if I weren't such an honest person, I would be a little bit suspicious that he prepared that statement.

However, Mr. President and members of the Senate, the question of what the city of Pittsburgh does is not germane to the subject matter contained in the resolution before the Senate. The question that we wish to determine here is whether or not the Senate of Pennsylvania is going to allow the work already performed by The Joint State Government Commission to go for nothing, whether or not we are going to take advantage of the study made by this Commission which is an agency, an arm, and an integral part of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania. The Joint State Government Commission was created to guide the membership of the Senate and the House in matters that they can not take the time or do not have the time to study fully. So far as the question of the conditions that prevail in Philadelphia is concerned, I do not think anybody in this Senate is naive enough to believe that the original investigation started by The Joint State Government Commission was other than an attempt to withdraw the fire then being aimed at the city-county administration of the city and county of Philadelphia. The only purpose for that investigation, and I stated so in public print at the time, was to try to take away from the charges then being made in Philadelphia the fire as to the wrongs of the administration in that city in performing their duties. There have been charges openly made that there has been malfeasance in office, that there is corruption in high places, that individuals have been charged with taking funds not belonging to them—there have been all sorts of charges and denials. The Senate of Pennsylvania is entitled to know whether or not any truth is contained in these charges. We are not here saying there is any truth in them but we do say we ought to know. The Joint State Government Commission is the proper agency, and if it isn't the proper agency now, then it should never have been allowed to proceed in the first place, it should never have been allowed to go to Philadelphia in the heat of the argument, when the entire population of the city of Philadelphia was trying to find out whether or not there was anything wrong in the city, whether there were any thieves, as the papers put it, and whether or not the Pennsylvania State Legislature allowed The Joint State Government Commission to go into the city of Philadelphia to deliberately undermine the investigation that is being held in this city. I say if we had a proper duty in Philadelphia in July, we have the same duty in February, the same duty in March, the same duty in April. We have a right to know what is happening in the city of Philadelphia, and I think the matters brought before this Senate by the gentleman from Philadelphia are still a part and parcel of the whole scheme. The minute the fire got hot politically in the city of Philadelphia, the politicians in Pennsylvania instigated and promoted a Grand Jury inquest in the city of Philadelphia to withdraw the political fire in the city of Philadelphia.

Those of you who have been in the political game for a good many years have come to learn and recognize the signs of the times and the same act is being put on here today in the Senate.

The fire is aimed at the corruption, as it is charged, in the city of Philadelphia, and not at the conditions surrounding dismissal of a police officer or a magistrate in the city of Pittsburgh, because he was not fit for his job.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. KEPHART asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I think the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, appears to be somewhat confused. The resolution passed by the Joint State Government Commission does return to this body all the work that it did; the complete record is to be sent to the General Assembly for its perusal and for the aid that the Committees of the General Assembly can get from the studies so far to date made.

The only thing the Joint State Government Commission did not do was to make any recommendation as a result of that study.

Now, then, he is also confused about what is occurring in Philadelphia. There are two different situations confronting the public: One is the request for certain legislation which has to do with the fundamental structure of our government in Philadelphia, and the other, which Senator Dent was talking about, and which has very little reference to that problem, is the criminal charges made against certain public officials. Now, one of those public officials, who I personally do not believe was in any way personally dishonest, was removed from office. Proceedings are being brought at the present time against another one whom I personally believe was not personally dishonest, and who is being charged with being more or less the captain of the ship. These are other prosecutions being made in Philadelphia at the present time, and there has been no ducking of the issues down there. If there is anything to be done, it is being done, and the Joint State Government Commission investigation has nothing whatever to do with that situation.

INTERROGATION

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I always pick on Senator Walker, and I am going to do it again. I want to ask him a question.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, being one of the leading spirits and guides and helmsmen of the Joint State Government Commission, I want to ask the gentleman from Allegheny this question: Why is it that all of the studies of the Joint State Government Commission were accompanied by reports, but when it came to the question of the city-county consolidation, a grievous exception was made. The data was submitted, but no report was filed.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I might say to the gentleman from Philadelphia that the matter was before the Commission and they were endeavoring to determine the facts, but up to this time, the time the Legislature convened, they did not have sufficient facts to make a complete report, and all they did on the motion made by Representative Andrews this morning was to deliver the information and the data that they had to the Legislature which is now in session.

As the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Kephart, has pointed out, this question of Philadelphia is now a legislative matter, and the Legislature has committees that can hold hearings and determine the best thing to do to attempt to solve his Philadelphia problem.

The Joint State Government Commission did not file a report simply because it had no recommendation to make based on the information they had received up to this point, and they did not feel they should go ahead with the matter because of the fact that the Legislature is now in session, and this is properly a legislative matter.

INTERROGATION

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Kephart.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KEPHART. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, am I to understand that the premise of your remarks is that the Philadelphia police are not in politics?

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I said they are not entitled to hold positions in a political organization, and they are in Pittsburgh. There they can be ward leaders, or chairmen of ward committees, or committeemen.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BARR asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, this morning when Mr. Andrews made his motion, he said he thought that the members of the Joint State Government Commission were intellectually and politically unfit to make recommendations. That is the reason I took exception. I thought I was both politically and mentally fit to study the matter, and help make recommendations to the Senate and to the members of the General Assembly.

Now, Mr. President, Mr. Andrews was not speaking for me, he was speaking his own mind, and speaking, I think, this morning probably for the majority on the other side.

Mr. President, I do not know who gave the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Kephart, his information, whether it was Mr. Malone or Mr. Walker, but that information certainly was not complete.

First of all, in regard to the consolidation plan in 1933, that you spoke about, the people of Allegheny County did have the opportunity to vote on that, Mr. Kephart, and they rejected it. Our situation is just a little different than that in Philadelphia. There are over 156 political subdivisions, where your county line and city line are contiguous.

Secondly, the gentleman from Philadelphia, referred to the grand jury investigation that was carried on in our city last summer, and he referred to Lieutenant Maloney. May I again remind the gentleman from Philadelphia that Lieutenant Maloney was appointed by the Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh, and given a free hand to go through the city with a so-called racket squad to clean up any rackets that he might find, and as a consequence of the arrests that he made, the Mayor himself in the City of Pittsburgh asked for a grand jury investigation. It was not asked for by the newspapers or any civic body such as you have, but the Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh wrote to the District Attorney, who at that time was having a vacation at the shore, and he had to come home and present a petition to the court for a Grand Jury investigation.

The gentleman from Philadelphia spoke further of a councilman who was unfriendly politically with the Mayor. The Mayor did fire an inspector who was a friend of his, and from that time on, this councilman was unfriendly to the Mayor, but up to the time he fired this inspector, this Councilman supposedly was a friend of the Mayor.

So, Mr. President, the next time in a poker game Mr. Malone give the gentleman from Philadelphia this information, tell him to give it more in detail and more correctly.

RESOLUTION No. 7

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, I call up at this time House Resolution No. 7.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 24, 1949.

In this year of international uncertainties and unrest, when the nations of the World look to the United States of America for guidance, protection and sustenance, and when our own economic structure still faces the problem of post war readjustment, Harry S. Truman was inaugurated as President, and has embarked on the tremendous task of chief executive of the World's most powerful and influential nation, and of coordinator of the destinies of all free peoples.

Upon the success of his administration rest continued prosperity at home, the avoidance of war with foreign nations, and the reestablishment, out of war wrought ruins abroad, of the standards of civilization, achieved through centuries of education and betterment; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concurs), That the General Assembly of Pennsylvania offer its congratulations to Mr. Truman on the occasion of his election and inauguration, and its fervent hope for success in handling the unprecedented problems which lay before him, so that our Nation and other nations espousing the principles of free government may ultimately enjoy the security of lasting peace and economic stability; and be it further

Resolved, That a certified copy of this resolution be transmitted to Harry S. Truman, President of the United States.

JOINT SESSION OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

PRESIDING.

The SERGEANT-AT-ARMS OF THE SENATE. Mr. President, I present the committee appointed to escort the Governor to the Hall of the House.

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, I have the honor to present His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, the Honorable James H. Duff.

The LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR. Members of the General Assembly in Joint Session, it is my privilege and honor to present to you His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, The Honorable James H. Duff, who will now address you.

ADDRESS OF GOVERNOR JAMES H. DUFF

GOVERNOR DUFF. Mr. Lieutenant Governor, Mr. Speaker, Members of the General Assembly.

The Budget Message, with the amplifying statements accompanying it, will be in your hands at the end of this Joint Session.

I know you will agree that a visual examination of the Budget, with the accompanying data, is far ahead of any endeavor on my part at this time to take it up with you verbally.

Therefore, since I have the privilege of your attention, I would like to discuss briefly several subjects about which I think a more general understanding is necessary than that indicated either in my January fourth message or in the Budget data.

By dealing only with these specific subjects now, I do not want to be understood to minimize in any particular whatsoever any of the recommendations that I had the honor to present to you in my message of the fourth of January.

Housing

The first of these subjects which I desire now specially to emphasize is low rental housing. It seems clear to me that at the State level we have the inescapable responsibility of doing something about the housing situation, with particular emphasis on rental properties in the low income brackets. This responsibility is so great that we cannot depend entirely upon action by the Federal Government. Every level of government must accept responsibility for some essential contribution to such a program.

It has been demonstrated that private enterprise at rentals presently being received for low income houses has not been able or willing to build sufficient houses to meet the great demand. I am a firm believer in the proposition that Government should not do things for people that they can do for themselves. The low rental housing situation, however, is a case where people have not been able to produce houses: they must have a place to live. This clearly seems to be a situation where Government at all levels must be concerned with the problem.

After studying the situation, I feel that it would be unwise for the Commonwealth itself to go into the business of building houses. I am convinced that such a program can best be advanced by the Commonwealth subsidizing private enterprise builders up to the point where it will be possible for them to erect houses in the low income group.

The former is a subsidy where groups are encouraged to produce more than they normally produce. I, therefore, propose that the Commonwealth appropriate the sum of fifteen million dollars for subsidies, in the coming biennium, for public housing, especially in the low income brackets. From data presently available, it is fair assumption that a subsidy of between 25% and 35% of cost will make feasible a substantial public program in the Commonwealth in this type of rental houses.

On the basis of these figures, a subsidy of fifteen million dollars would provide for the erection of fifty million dollars in middle and low income bracket houses under this program.

If the Federal Government matches or doubles the State's subsidy in addition to its own separate program, as it has been suggested that it will, it would make possible a program of one hundred or one hundred fifty million dollars of low income bracket houses in the Commonwealth during the coming biennium at the State level.

Legislation will be presented for competitive bidding by those desirous of building these houses under State subsidy; the fixing of the rentals to be paid; the places and types of houses to be built; and the selection of the localities in which this need is most urgent; as well as other provisions to make this program workable on a competitive basis so as to best serve the needs of the people of the Commonwealth.

I feel that in this program there should be a preference for veterans, if such preference can legally be established.

This program is an entirely new departure in Pennsylvania. No such activity at the State level has ever been attempted before. It is a necessary beginning—and only a beginning, because the problem is great.

However, this program, plus the Federal program which is definitely assured, will start a real onslaught against the housing shortage in Pennsylvania, particularly in the low income bracket. It will probably afford as many houses during the coming two years as is practical with the materials and labor available, when taking into account the vast other building construction operations in the Commonwealth.

The low income housing shortage is a very important social problem. Therefore, it seems to me, our approach to it should be with a broad perspective and freed from any narrow or partisan bias. It is certainly something that we all have to do something about.

Highways

As I related to you in January, the Highway Department has informed me that they cannot longer continue to carry forward the highway program that they deem vitally necessary on the basis of the present gas tax. This situation confronts us by reason of our great highway mileage and the vast increase in cost both of building and of upkeep. This difficulty is further expanded as the result of the vast amount of deferred maintenance and construction that accumulated in the Commonwealth during the war period—which backlog has not been caught up with.

The magnitude of the demand for this work is clearly indicated; and it still remains, and this despite the fact that in 1948 the Highway Department carried forward the greatest construction program in its history.

Every user of our highways realizes that in every part of the Commonwealth, in built up areas, in the rush hours, both morning and evening, there is a tremendous waste of time and great inconvenience to everyone caught in these daily traffic slow downs.

If these delays were expressed in terms of the earning power of the people who waste their time daily in these jams, it would amount to such a vast sum of money that no one considering them would hesitate for a moment to attempt their elimination.

In this connection it is most important for all of us to remember that, in considering the problems of the highway, our funds go only half as far as they did at the beginning of World War II. In other words, when we look at the sums that we now appropriate for this work, we must realize when we do look at them that they only buy one-half as much highway as they did at the beginning of the war. Therefore, when you compare the Budget submitted today with the pre-war Budget, cut it in half to determine how it compares with those pre-war years in the amount of work that it will do.

And so that there may be no misapprehension also as to the situation on the farm-to-market roads, I would like to make clear that there has been no disparity in the way of a balanced program during the current administration. In the last two years more money was spent from the Motor License Fund on improving farm-to-market roads than in any two-year period in the entire history of the Highway Department. It is our plan to continue this policy.

In order to clearly illustrate the completeness of the program in the Commonwealth for the past two years, the Highway Department has prepared two maps: one for the year 1947 and the other for the year 1948. These maps will visually express at a glance the completeness and balance of the highway program during the past two years. They will illustrate visually also, better than any words can tell, how balanced the program has been in carrying out the policies of the current Administration. The engineers of the Highway Department have asked me to advise you that they will be glad to appear in all caucuses, Republican or Democratic, to which they may be invited, to produce the detailed maps and all other supporting data to completely explain and define the needs and plans of the highway system in Pennsylvania.

Now, let us take a look at the funds estimated to be necessary by the Department; also their method of determining how they will become available; and why the Department insists that an increase of the tax on gasoline is necessary. The Highway Department estimates they will need a minimum of one hundred million dollars a year for each of the next two years of the coming biennium for construction. Parenthetically, this is less per year than the Highway Department is spending in the last year of the current biennium.

A certain group in the Commonwealth have insisted that the amount of federal aid that will be received by the Department will augment the funds to a degree that will render unnecessary a further increase on the tax of gasoline. Those advancing this argument contend that the Highway Department will receive in the coming biennium by way of federal aid approximately eighty-two million dollars. If this contention were correct it would be an easy solution to some of our problems. However, the Highway Department informs me, which is not correct, that such as estimate of funds for the Department from the Federal Government in the way of highway aid positively will not be received in the coming biennium, and that the contention that it will be received is based on an unfamiliarity with the operations of the highway system and the federal law governing this type of aid.

Instead of eighty-two million dollars, the Highway Department states unequivocally that they will not receive substantially in excess of forty million dollars in cash during the coming biennium in the federal aid program.

In this connection it is necessary that it be clearly understood that the Highway Department cannot concentrate the use of these federal funds in any type of highway construction that they may desire and that they would like to spend it on. They are governed definitely by the laws regulating the federal aid program. The federal aid law definitely specifies that 37% of these funds must be used on primary roads, 42% must be used on urban roads, and 21% must be used on farm-to-market roads. Consequently, to secure federal funds, the Highway Department must match out of our funds, dollar for dollar, on each of the above specified classifications; because unless we do match it both in amounts and in classifications we cannot qualify for and receive such federal aid.

Let us look also as to how these funds come into Pennsylvania. Thereby we can prove conclusively that the Highway Department will not receive approximately in excess of $40,000,000 in the coming biennium.

In 1948-49 the Highway Department will spend for construction more than it will spend in either of the two years of the coming biennium. The Department will spend $103,313,000 in 1948-49. On that $103,313,000, actual federal aid payments to the Commonwealth were only $20,017,000, or nineteen and four-tenths percent of the total.

Since we do not expect to spend more than $100,000,000 a year in each of the two years of the coming biennium for construction, it is clear that we will not receive more than $20,000,000 in federal aid in each of those two years, and that the final $42,000,000 of the Pennsylvania allotment will not be received, on the basis of experience in the Department to date, until the 1951-53 biennium.

The above being so, it is evident that the $82,000,000 federal aid that eventually will come to Pennsylvania more than one-half will not be received until after the end of the next biennium. On the basis of estimated funds for the next biennium, there will be only $120,000,000 available for construction. That means that the Department will be shy approximately $40,000,000 each year in order to carry forward a construction program of $100,000,000 a year for the next two years of the coming biennium. That is less each year, as I have pointed out, than the last year of the current biennium.

Both the Secretary of Highways and the engineers in that Department have unqualifiedly recommended to me—which I pass along to you with my recommendation—that the gas tax be increased one cent per gallon for the next two years over existing taxes, and that any funds found necessary in this construction program in excess of one cent, but not to exceed $40,000,000 more, be raised by the Highway Department for bridges, express highways, or controlled access highways in the Commonwealth, by an Authority.

In this connection I think it is informative to point out that this tax on gasoline will not be in excess of the existing tax on gasoline in our sister States of Maryland and West Virginia, and that the Governor of New York, this last week, proposed an increase in the tax of that State equivalent to the tax herein proposed. And further, as a matter of comparison, I think it ought to be stated that the existing tax on gasoline in Pennsylvania is less, by one-fourth of a cent per gallon, than the existing National average. And whereas twenty-two of the States do not spend the money from the highways exclusively for highway purposes, Pennsylvania spends all of its motor funds for highway purposes, and therefore, the motorists get all the benefit of it.

For the reasons stated, I urge the enactment of the legislation necessary to make effective the recommendations of the Highway Department.

Mental Health

I feel obliged to call your attention further to the urgent necessity for the large amount of funds requested for the mental health program as specified in the Budget.

I realize, as you do, that the funds asked for are great. But I also realize that the urgency of the demand for them is equally great. The chief reason that so great an expenditure of funds has been necessary for mental health in the current biennium, and will continue to be necessary in the next biennium, is that in the past we refused to meet adequately and promptly the challenges of the problems of mental health as they were presented.

Everyone reading the daily papers is obliged to be aware of the variety of problems presented by various phases of the problems of mental illness. The time has come when society must attempt to protect itself against the dangers that we have heretofore refused to provide against. We should no longer continue the practice of awaiting for catastrophies to happen before we are sufficiently stirred up to take some measures to prevent them.

There is a tremendous need in Pennsylvania, as elsewhere, for increased research into the cause of mental illness, and training in the care of those who are mentally ill, as well as provision for the restraint of persons afflicted with certain mental quirks and sexual abnormalities that make them continuous menaces to society. We have arrived at the place where there is need for institutions of the type where we are concerned more with the methods of cure and prevention than merely with the custodial care of the chronically mentally ill.

We need to understand not only the effect of mental pressures that produce bodily ailments, but also bodily ailments that tend to cause mental illnesses. Research has proven beyond question that emotional instability is caused in many people by certain types of physical illness.

Research has also made clear that many mentally ill patients may be prevented from falling into the classification of chronically mentally ill patients if they are received in time and receive the proper treatment and care necessary to restore them to full mental health again.

The great problem of today, when such a high percentage of our population is suffering from mental illnesses, is to treat those illnesses of the mind in the early stages the same as medicine would endeavor to treat physical illnesses in the early stages before they become chronic. Because once mental illness becomes chronic the patient becomes, in all human probability, a permanent charge upon society; while if they are treated early before they do become chronically ill, they can be restored to useful lives in society.

For the above, and the other reasons that I stated in my former message to you, I earnestly hope that the requested funds will be made available for use in the coming biennium.

Parenthetically I would like to tell you this, a very prominent citizen of this state came to see me not long ago on this question. He said "Governor, I hope that you will continue to further the program in its full scope authorized by the General Assembly. I have a daughter who was married to a man in the armed service during the war, and about six months after her husband left she gave birth to a child. About two weeks after the birth her husband was reported missing in action and for a number of weeks there was no report as to anything about him. My daughter went completely out of her mind. We took her to a number of physicians and they said nothing could be done for her except to give her the best possible care, but," he said, "her mother and I were not satisfied until we did everything possible, and we spent twenty-thousand dollars, and today, as the result of the kind of care she got for that kind of money, she is completely well and whole again." He said "I think every family who has had that kind of experience is entitled to that kind of treatment, whether or not they have the kind of money that I had, in order to get it."

Authority

This brings me to an examination of the budget which discloses that a large sum of money is needed for permanent improvements. These improvements are imperatively needed now. To pay for them out of the current General Fund would necessitate large increases in taxes for the General Fund. It is not fair to ask the people of Pennsylvania to pay for permanent improvements wholly out of current revenues, because many of them are of a character that will last for generations.

Granted the necessity for the improvements and the unfairness of asking current taxes to pay the entire cost of permanent improvements, it becomes clear that the only alternative is to pay for them over a period of years.

As we are all aware, the Constitution of Pennsylvania does not permit the borrowing of more than one million dollars as a direct obligation of the Commonwealth without a vote of the people, except in the case of insurrection. This direct obligation method of borrowing money is so cumbersome and time-consuming that it prevents the raising of substantial funds to meet an emergency.

The situation confronting Pennsylvania today illustrates the absolute necessity for borrowing funds to meet a critical emergency for improvements that happen to be permanent in character. The only method devised to free the Commonwealth from the shackles of an out-moded method of financing is by the Authority method, whereby an indirect obligation is created by the payment of rentals for the use of permanent improvements over a period of years until the cost is liquidated. The Authority method has been approved by the highest judicial authority of the State as a method whereby the critical obligations of Government may be met.

I feel there is no alternative at this time in Pennsylvania to an authority as a method for meeting the critical emergency of the Commonwealth today for permanent improvements.

It is clear that the Constitution should have been amended long ago in order to enable the Government of this day and generation to function in a way that the vast demands that modern Government require. Such a situation was not envisaged in the day in which the Constitution was adopted. Since these needed changes have not been affected in the Constitution, it becomes necessary to use the device that has been found practical to meet an emergency. Because after all the purpose of Government is not to defeat the proper and necessary demands and needs of the people, but to make it possible for them to be carried out, not at some future day, but when the emergency exists. They can be carried out in a legitimate way in Pennsylvania as approved by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. I, therefore, feel that this Authority should be created at this time for the purpose of accomplishing the necessary demands of the people of Pennsylvania for permanent improvements outlined in the Budget.

In order to lower the rate of interest and to bring the funds necessary for these permanent improvements within the classification as a direct obligation of the Commonwealth, I suggest that legislation be enacted at this Session to submit for approval by the people as an indebtedness of the Commonwealth the total of such funds as this session of the General Assembly may approve under an Authority.

In conclusion, I would like to reiterate today what I said to you on January 4th, that this is a program to the advantage and for the benefit of all the people of Pennsylvania. It is an endeavor to do what seems to me to be sensible, to be right, and to be necessary. And, after all, that is what government is for—to do the best for the most people.

Thank you very much for your attention.

HOUSE MESSAGE

SENATE CONCURS IN HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

CONGRATULATIONS TO HARRY S. TRUMAN, PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

In the House of Representatives, January 25, 1949.

In this year of international uncertainties and unrest, when the nations of the World look to the United States of America for guidance, protection and sustenance, and when our own economic structure still faces the problem of post war readjustment, Harry S. Truman was inaugurated as President, and has embarked on the tremendous task of chief executive of the World's most powerful and influential nation, and of coordinator of the destinies of all free peoples.

Upon the success of his administration rest continued prosperity at home, the avoidance of war with foreign nations, and the re-establishment, out of war wrought ruins abroad, of the standards of civilization, achieved through centuries of education and betterment; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concurs), That the General Assembly of Pennsylvania offer its congratulations to Mr. Truman on the occasion of his election and inauguration, and its fervent hope for success in handling the unprecedented problems which lay before him, so that our Nation and other nations espousing the principles of free government may ultimately enjoy the security of lasting peace and economic stability; and be it further

Resolved, That a certified copy of this resolution be transmitted to Harry S. Truman, President of the United States.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I have a petition, which I would rather present in the form of a bill, but in order to acknowledge receipt of it publicly, I want to introduce it at this point in order to notify the Chair that I have received from the City Council of the City of McKeesport, and from the Mayor, a bill, with the request to introduce the same on their behalf, asking the Commonwealth and the Highways Department to take over a certain street in the City of McKeesport. The City Fathers there have worked a long time trying to get this worked out. I appreciate their sincerity in attempting to alleviate a very bad condition in the City of McKeesport, and at the proper time in the Senate business I will introduce the bill which they have recommended to us.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. DiSILVESTRO read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 184, entitled:

Mr. T. NEWELL WOOD read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 186, entitled

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

Mr. WALKER read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 187, entitled

An Act to further amend section two of the act, approved the twenty-second day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 720), entitled "An act providing for the taking over by the Commonwealth, under certain terms, conditions, and limitations, of certain streets in cities of the second class, second class A, and third class as State highways, and for the improvement, construction, reconstruction, resurfacing, and maintenance by the Commonwealth of certain defined widths of said streets; imposing duties on such cities and on public utility companies using such streets; providing that no assessment shall be made upon the Commonwealth in the elimination of any grade crossing thereon; authorizing cities, persons, associations, or corporations to enter into agreements with the Commonwealth to bear a portion of the cost of construction or maintenance; providing for the assessment of certain portions of the cost of street improvements on abutting property owners; regulating the replacement of certain facilities of public utility companies; prohibiting the opening of said streets after improvement without a permit, and providing penalty therefor; regulating the maintenance of detours; authorizing the increase of city indebtedness in certain cases; and appropriating money in the Motor License Fund for the purposes of this act," adding new routes in McKeesport Allegheny County.

POINT OF INFORMATION

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Cambria will state his point of information.

Mr. HALUSKA. Up until the Session of 1939, it has been the practice in this Commonwealth to take over a certain amount of township roads. Since 1939, that practice has been stopped, and most of the Senators are receiving requests from back home, from township supervisors pertaining to these roads.

So, Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the majority floor leader, Mr. Walker.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. Senator Walker, as a leader of your party in this Chamber, could you tell us whether or not this administration, during this Session, will have any roads taken over as we have had up until 1939?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, frankly, I do not know the answer to that. The gentleman from Lycoming, Mr. Snowden, who is Chairman of the Highways Committee, is not present, he is temporarily out of the Senate chamber, but he will be here after while. I will be very happy to take the matter up with the administration, or, in company with the Chairman of the Highways Committee, with the Highways Department, to see if I can get an answer to that question.

Very frankly, I hope the answer will be in the affirmative.

Mr. HALUSKA. Thank you, Mr. Walker.

The reason I brought this matter up this morning is that it would be foolish on our part, I think, to present bills—and each and every Senator will have, probably, ten or fifteen bills to present—and then find out it was useless, and if that information can be procured for us, it will be a great help to every Senator on this floor. I trust, Mr. Walker, you will be able to secure that information and let us have it next week.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, this is probably a collateral issue at this stage. I always thought the Legislature decided whether they were going to take over or add to the Highways System.

If the Highways Department has a program, I am for it, but my thought is this, and I would suggest to the gentleman from Cambria that he will never get a bill passed unless he introduces it.

RESOLUTION No. 13.

In the House of Representatives, February 1, 1949.

Whereas, The City of Philadelphia and particularly the citizens of the First Ward thereof, recently experienced a series of underground gas explosions in the vicinity of Tenth and Reed Streets, Philadelphia, on Sunday, January 30th, 1949; and

Whereas, The said gas explosions have menaced the life and personal safety of the citizens and residents of the First Ward as well as the security of their homes, businesses and personal possessions; and

Whereas, The said gas explosions are part of a recurrent series of gas explosions that have occurred in the City of Philadelphia from time to time at frequent intervals; and

Whereas, It is fitting and proper that the citizens and residents of Philadelphia be made more secure from such menace to their life, health, safety and security; and

Whereas, It appears that the City of Philadelphia, as well as others who make use of underground conduits in said city, may have failed to use proper care in the inspection, maintenance and repair of such underground conduits; and

Whereas, It is deemed necessary that a thorough investigation be made in order that the causes of the explosions be determined and a recurrence thereof prevented; and

Whereas, Legislation may be necessary to prevent a recurrence thereof; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of this House appoint a committee of five members, whose duty it shall be to make a careful, thorough and impartial investigation of the causes and reasons for the explosions, and that the said committee shall make a report of its findings and recommendations, together with such drafts of remedial legislation, to this House as early as possible; and be it further

Resolved, That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman, requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them, and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. RESOLUTION No. 14.

In the House of Representatives, January 31, 1949.

Whereas, The noxious and stifling effect of the fumes resulting from industrial production has brought death, misery, fear and trepidation to many, and has caused a feeling of impotence on the part of large segments of the population in the wake of impending disaster stalking an entire community, and

Whereas, at the recent inauguration of Harry S. Truman as President of the United States, many thousands of Pennsylvanians were present; and

Whereas, It is probable that a sizeable portion of the people attending such ceremonies were Pennsylvanians; and

Whereas, At the same time, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania was not represented at the inaugural activities in an official manner; and

Whereas, Many other States and Commonwealths, which were present in small, if not minute numbers of their residents, were represented officially at functions and proceedings relating to such inauguration by various official delegations, bands, floats, and the like; and

Resolved, by the House of Representatives, That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to make a study of the law and rules or regulations of other States and Commonwealths in these United States relating to their official representation at the inauguration of a President of the United States with particular emphasis on the means and methods used to achieve such official representation by other states and Commonwealths, the cost involved and the manner of paying the same, and to report to the next regular session of the General Assembly with its findings and recommendations, including proposed legislation if necessary, to enable Pennsylvania to be officially represented at future inaugurations of the President of the United States in a manner befitting its stature and grandeur.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. McKINNEY. Mr. Speaker, I have the honor to present the report of the Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives, concerning House Resolution No. 1, and ask that it be read for the information of the House.

The report was read as follows:

To the Honorable Herbert P. Sorg, Speaker, and Members of the House of Representatives.

We have the honor to transmit herein a Report of the Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives concerning House Resolution Number One, a copy of the said Resolution is attached hereto, made a part hereof and marked Exhibit A.

On January 19, 1949, House Resolution Number One was presented by the Honorable Hiram G. Andrews, Minority Leader, of Cambria County, Pennsylvania, and on the same day the Resolution was referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

The Committee held a public Hearing at 9:30 A. M., Tuesday, January 25, 1949, in the New House Caucus Room, Capitol Building, Harrisburg, in connection with the said Resolution.

There appeared at the Hearing Isidor Ostroff, Esquire, of the Philadelphia Bar, on behalf of the complainant, who orally made the charges as contained in the said Resolution and also submitted to the Committee two affidavits in support of the Resolution.

Marshall H. Morgan, Esquire, of the Philadelphia Bar appeared for the Honorable Benjamin S. Altshuler and orally stated that the Honorable Benjamin S. Altshuler was a resident of the District from which he was elected and had been properly certified therefrom by the proper election officials of the City of Philadelphia and also presented to the Committee a certified copy of the transcript of a Hearing held in the City of Philadelphia before the Registration Commission on Thursday, October 14, 1948, substantiating the fact that Mr. Altshuler did reside in the District from which he was elected.

At the Hearing the Chairman specifically asked whether or not any other parties in interest wished to appear for or against the Resolution and no one appeared.

The Chairman received a letter from Isidor Ostroff, Attorney for the Complainants, stating that he did not intend to submit further evidence, but that he thought the Committee could secure additional evidence by holding hearings in Philadelphia and by subpoenaing witnesses.

Your Committee unanimously agrees that it does not now have the power of subpoena. Your Committee has no funds with which to hold hearings in Philadelphia. Your Committee unanimously believes that a request for an appropriation to hold hearings on this matter in Philadelphia would be without merit.

Upon the record before your Committee it finds that there is no evidence upon which a recommendation can be made to disqualify the Honorable Benjamin S. Altshuler under Article Two, Section Nine, of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and requests that your Committee be discharged from any further consideration of this matter.

JUDICIARY COMMITTEE OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

JOHN H. McKINNEY,
Chairman.

February 2, 1949.

Secretary,
ROBERT L. KENT

EXHIBIT A

In the House of Representatives, January 17, 1949.

Whereas, Benjamin S. Altshuler was, at the general election on November second, 1948, duly elected by the electors of the Third Legislative District of the County of Philadelphia to represent them as a Member of the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth, and now serves as such Member; and

Whereas, After said election, and before the term of office of the Members of the House of Representatives elected thereat began, certain duly qualified electors of said Third Legislative District filed a petition in the Court of Common Pleas No. 7 of the County of Philadelphia, in the form of an election contest, alleging that said Benjamin S. Altshuler had not been an inhabitant of the district for one year next before the election on November second, 1948, as required by the Constitution, Article II, Section 5; and

Whereas, Said Court of Common Pleas No. 7, by an order entered November 29th, 1948, quashed said petition and the proceedings thereon, without considering the merits thereof, for the reason that the court had no jurisdiction thereof, and that the question of the qualification of a candidate elected a member of the State Legislature is within the jurisdiction of the legislative body itself, under the provisions of Article II, Section 9 of the Constitution; therefore be it

Resolved, That the question of the qualification of Benjamin S. Altshuler to hold the office of Member of the House of Representatives be referred to an appropriate committee of this House for investigation, and to inquire and determine whether or not said Benjamin S. Altshuler, in fact, is and had been, for a period of one year next before his election, an inhabitant of the Third Legislative District of the County of Philadelphia, from which he was elected, and to report their findings with appropriate recommendations to the House of Representatives.

REPORT ADOPTED

Mr. McKINNEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House adopt the report of the Judiciary Committee.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, in view of the unanimous decision of the Committee, I have no disposition to rise in opposition to this motion. I desire, however, to submit the following letter from Mr. Ostroff, to be read into the record, not orally read but simply made a part of the record. It is not necessary to read the letter.

The CHAIR thanks the gentleman. The letter will be made a part of the record.

January 27, 1949.

Hon. John H. McKinney, Chairman
Judiciary General Committee
House of Representatives
Harrisburg, Penna.

Re: Benjamin S. Altshuler

Dear Mr. Chairman:

We have your letter addressed to Mrs. Isidor Ostroff in response to a letter written by the undersigned as attorney for the contestants in the contested election of Benjamin S. Alshuler. This letter was dictated on Friday and written on Saturday, January 22, 1949, making inquiry as to when a hearing would be held, so that testimony could be presented on the petition. Obviously, the letter would not have been written had we had notice that a hearing was to be held in Harrisburg on Tuesday morning. Just as obviously, having received notice of the hearing on Sunday it was impossible to obtain a legislative subpoena and make service thereof on the persons whose testimony is necessary to prove the case against Altshuler so that they could be and appear before your honorable Committee by Tuesday the 25th of January.

We wish to thank you for your courtesy to me at the time of the hearing. However, we wish to make emphatic protest against the refusal to set another date for testimony and the insistence that the best evidence to be supplied shall be by affidavit. We wish to point out to you that so far as the law is concerned testimony by affidavit is absolutely incompetent because it denies Mr. Altshuler his fundamental right to cross-examine the witnesses who appear against him. During these whole proceedings we have steadfastly adhered to the principles of fair play and have not sought to take any tactical advantage of the respondent.

We feel that an unfair burden has been put on us, and if this is the burden in every election contest of this nature then your Committee should make recommendations to the Legislature for modification of the law. We feel that it is the duty of the House of Representatives to purge itself of any improprieties that are involved in seating any member. For that reason we decline to take any further steps so far as amassing evidence or being responsible for the production thereof. We are willing, however, to give you the benefit of our investigation and leave it entirely to you to seek the manner of getting the testimony for the benefit of the House of Representatives.

This decision is made pursuant to consultation with The Democratic leadership in the House of Representatives. Immediately after the hearings on Tuesday, January 25, 1949, we consulted with the Minority Leader and told him that in our opinion nothing would come of the contest as the result of refusal to permit the taking of testimony and depositions in Philadelphia and the refusal to fix another time for taking of testimony in Harrisburg. We asked him whether he would consent to permitting the withdrawal of the contest in view of the fact that nothing would come of it anyway. It was his decision that our contest was started in good faith, that we were sincere in our belief that the Constitution of Pennsylvania is being violated, that the House of Representatives has a duty to try the issue on the facts involved, and that the responsibility for the determination of the proceedings should be that of the House of Representatives and not our responsibility.

Consequently, we are not withdrawing the contest but are giving you the benefit of the reasons for beginning the contest, so that you and your Committee can make disposition thereof as you see fit.

(1) You already have the affidavits of Miss Louise MacMahon, who can testify to conversations held with Mrs. Altshuler at the Altshuler home in the Ogontz Manor Apartments.

(2) You can subpoena the Principal of the Campbell School in South Philadelphia, who can tell of conversations with Mrs. Altshuler at the time of the transfer of her daughter to the new school. The conversations substantially indicated that the Altshuler's were moving from 730 Fitzwater Street to the Ogontz Manor Apartments.

(3) You can subpoena the heads of the Neighborhood Center and the South Philadelphia Coordinating Council, so that they can testify concerning the termination of activity on the part of Mrs. Altshuler in these organizations to improve the conditions in the old neighborhood around 730 Fitzwater Street.

(4) You can subpoena the records of the garage at the Ogontz Manor Apartments in order to show that Mr. Altshuler used to keep his car in the Ogontz Manor Garage every night and take it out every morning until the time of the filing of the Strike-Off Petition with the Registration Commission when he changed garages.

(5) You can subpoena the records of the Ogontz Manor Apartment in order to show that the Altshuler's tried to get an apartment therefor several years, that they turned down a one-bedroom apartment, and that Mr. Altshuler subsequently signed a lease in October, 1947, for the two bedroom apartment in C-44, Ogontz Manor Apartments.

(6) You can subpoena the records of the Abbotts Dairies to show when the Altshuler's stopped taking milk at 730 Fitzwater Street and when they started taking milk at C-44 Ogontz Manor Apartments.

(7) You can subpoena Mr. Frith of Abbotts Dairies, the milk man who makes deliveries on alternate days to the Altshuler Apartment, who has seen both Mr. and Mrs. Altshuler in the apartment and who has had arguments with them since Election Day as to the propriety of the bills.

(8) You can subpoena the records of the Board of Education to show the transfer of Aleida Altshuler from Campbell School to Pennell School and Aleida's present teachers to show that the child attends regularly and comes from the Ogontz Manor Apartments, her registered address.

(9) You can subpoena the employees and tradesmen who do business in Ogontz Manor Apartments to show that the child and her mother and father are there every day.

(10) You can subpoena Mr. Altshuler's insurance policies to show that the furniture and furnishings at C-44 Ogontz Manor Apartments are insured in his name, and in his name and his wife's name, and in his wife's name.

You could put Mr. Altshuler on the stand and examine him. His immunity from process which we might issue against him while the Legislature is in session does not protect him against any inquiry by the Legislature itself.

We want to state emphatically that we will not take any further steps in this contest. The rest is up to you to decide whether or not your Committee will countenance stultification before the House in glossing over this infraction of the Constitution of Pennsylvania. We refuse to be put in the position of being a persecutor or prosecutor. We have done our duty as a patriotic citizen in bringing these facts to your attention.

Very respectfully yours,

ISIDOR OSTROFF.

On the question recurring.

Will the House adopt the report of the Judiciary Committee?

It was adopted.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Majority Leader, the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Brunner.

The SPEAKER. May I inquire of the gentleman for what purpose he wishes to interrogate the Majority Leader.

Mr. BRETH. For purposes regarding this bill and for others.

Mr. SPEAKER. The gentleman desires to interrogate the Majority Leader for information concerning the bill before us.

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, may I yield to the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Thompkins.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cameron permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. THOMPKINS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, is it true that House Bill No. 7 and the next ten bills appearing on the calendar are concerned with food and drink and the safeguards surrounding the people in regard to their health.

Mr. TOMPKINS. It is, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, is this Bill No. 7 and the other bills following it, up to and including No. 17, administration bills?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, they are not; they are Departmental bills.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, is it true under the present bills as they now are without these amendments, that the violators must be held for court.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman please repeat his question.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, as the law now provides is it not true that any violators must be held for court action?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Technically so, yes sir.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman what he means by "technically."

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, where they are defined as a misdemeanor they should be held for court.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, are they not already defined as misdemeanors?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, in the present bill, yes.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman understand that any violator would be held for court?

Mr. TOMPKINS. They would be, yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, what happens in the event that these bills pass?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, in the event that these bills pass, for the first offense they would not be held for court. They are what are known as a summary proceedings over which a justice of the peace has final jurisdiction. If he can pass final judgment, appeals, are allowed by petition to the court and by special allowance of the court. The appeals would not be a matter of right.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman were a magistrate and I were a violator and convicted, what becomes of his record in the case?

Mr. TOMPKINS. The record remains in the justice of the peace's docket.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, these bills provide, do they not, that the second offense is a misdemeanor?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Yes, they do, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, is it true that they must be held for court and cannot be fined?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, suppose I came before the gentleman a second time, what would he do?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would hold the gentleman for court if it were shown to me that the gentleman had been properly convicted in a summary proceeding heretofore for the same offense.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, how could it be shown to the gentleman?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, by the Department of Agriculture, who are the sole enforcing agent under the Bill.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, how would they show it to the gentleman?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, they keep a central record in Harrisburg of all violations.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, suppose I were caught in Erie County at one time and in Philadelphia County another time, what would happen.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, they would know from their central records and they could identify the gentleman as being the same party which would constitute a second offense in the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, how long does it take those records to go to the central office and become available throughout the State of Pennsylvania?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, that is a question I could not answer. I imagine it is quite expeditious.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, suppose I were operating pretty fast, what length of time would you say that I could be caught under the provisions for this Act, and on the second offense, properly returned to court?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I wouldn't care to give the gentleman the days and hours on that. The field force is under orders to make a daily report, in connections with those violations.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, is it true that already magistrates and squires have been fining violators, under the present act instead of holding them for court actions?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, to my knowledge, I have no personal knowledge of that but from information received I would say that that has happened in some instances.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, would it be true that these bills are being rushed thru for that reason?

Mr. TOMPKINS. No, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BRETH. That is all.

Mr. Speaker, these bills concern food and drink and the safeguards concerning the public regarding what they eat and what they put on their table. I have looked them over. They have been passed in 1897 on thru 1905, 1911, 1921, and 1925, and so on. No legislature, not even the legislature the last time, in 1947 or 1945, has seen fit to change the provisions of the original legislation for passing these bills, which have made them a misdemeanor, and, therefore allowed by the court.

The idea in mind in the original legislation in passing these bills was to protect the public in their food and drink and also to make the violators stop and put them out of business and penalize them, if they so deserve. Under these bills a violator can be taken before a summary court, pay fine and very little publicity results. For instance, if he were an operator, a big operator, and in this state today it is common knowledge that meat, in particular, horsemeat, is being adulterated with regular meat, or the regular meat is being adulterated with horsemeat, if I were an operator and had agents, and one of my agents could be caught and fined, it would not affect me at all as an operator; another could be caught in Philadelphia and it would not affect me as an operator there, and so on throughout the State. Under the present bill, if one of my agents were caught, he would be taken to court and in all likelihood he would squeal on me as an operator, and the resultant publicity would serve the people where they desire to be served in putting full protection in regard to food and drink in the hands of the law, in the right manner. These bills to my mind leave loopholes in the matter of food and drink which concerns all the people. It has been said variously that the courts in some cases in the state are jammed, because when these violators come before a squire they are returned to court and thereafter the Grand Jury, sees fit not to take action. May I say that that might happen in certain areas, such as Allegheny County, Philadelphia County and perhaps in other areas.

But in my rural county of Clearfield, I am sure that any violations of the food and drink law brought before a magistrate and sent to court, he would be tried in court, and we the people of Clearfield County would be getting justice under the law as it is now proposed, and I doubt if the people of my county and other counties, the majority of the counties, the vast majority of the counties, would get the proper protection.

Mr. Speaker, I want at this time to read from an article which has appeared in the paper this morning, which is pertinent to this matter. It is a column by Joseph Miller in the Philadelphia Inquirer and I quote:

"While there is much agreement that legislation generally is a healthy thing, nevertheless, there should be no steamroller sessions with bills jammed through without the proper consideration and study."

Along that line I say surely there is some remedy that can be solved to bring about a smoother action, you might say, in regard to these unjammed courts, rather than penalizing fifty or sixty counties who are willing to operate under the present legislation for the full protection of their citizens.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I frankly oppose these bills full. I think that if I were a racketeer I would welcome a change in the bills. I, therefore, ask each of the Members of the House to give them the consideration that is their due, and not open up these loopholes to racketeers in the important matter of food and drink.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, my desire to interrogate the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Breth.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Clearfield permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BRETH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, has the gentleman from Clearfield made a comparison of the penalties and provisions of the acts which are new in force and those which are proposed in the present bill?

Mr. BRETH. I have.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, has the gentleman noted the comparison of the severity of the penalties, between the two bills?

Mr. BRETH. I have.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, how many arrests have been made in Clearfield County for violations of any of these acts last year?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I don't know.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, have there been any, to the gentleman's present knowledge?

Mr. BRETH. I don't know, Mr. Speaker. Nevertheless may I interpolate, it doesn't matter if there aren't any. There may be.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker has the gentleman made a comparison of the penalties in regard to his local merchants, as between the present bill and the proposed bill?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, on this matter of penalties, it does not mean a thing to my mind, because, regardless of the penalty before a summary court, it does not receive court action, and the public does not get the information that it does get out of a misdemeanor and a court action.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I wish to state that the present bills are the outcome of recommendations by the Department of Agriculture as a result of their experience over the years in the enforcement of the laws that are now on the statute books—the bills that affect the public health, the small merchant and the regular merchant, in this respect.

I might say that a major portion of the violations arise from packing goods, that is goods which are packed by a large distributor, which will be found on the shelves in many of the stores throughout the Commonwealth. When these violations occur the merchant is brought in, and in many instances, and in most instances, the distributor responsible for those goods on the shelves comes in and pays the fine and makes a correction of the violations for which they have been fined. If the large distributor does not come in and make a correction after it has been called to his attention, and there has been a merchant prosecuted and convicted in a summary proceeding, which carries a fine, of not exceeding $200 in the present bill and a jail penalty not exceeding 60 days, as compared with the old bill, with a fine of not less than $25 or more than $100, with a jail penalty of 30 days, either or both, then if that distributor does not see fit to correct the defects in his products, we then have an instrument for bringing that party in for a second time, charging him with a misdemeanor. Then we have penalties not exceeding $500 or six months in jail, either or both. If the violator is a persistent violator, you would have a much heavier penalty to bring in a persistent violator than you would have under the present acts which still carry a minimum fine of $25 and a maximum fine of $100.

The same thing would apply in connection with those who are selling goods in the open market, oysters, soft drinks, milk and so forth, if the goods happened to show up as being adulterated, and violation is called to their attention, and the violation is corrected, they can be disposed of by a summary proceedings. However, if they are persistent violators, they can be brought in and the additional penalties provided and these bills can be made use of. In other words, five hundred dollars, where under the present bills, they are limited to one hundred dollars or six months. Under the present bill you are limited to 30 days, 60 days or 90 days.

These bills have been drafted in conformity with a yard stick used by the Joint State Government Commission to make uniform penalties in matters of this kind throughout the state of Pennsylvania. We feel in the first instance that we are giving the small merchants an opportunity to get the matter corrected. It is true, perhaps, that you have an occasional deliberate violator. If that is the case and he persists going about his work selling adulterated food, and he is brought in for the second time, I do not believe you will find mercy shown to that violator. We feel that it works two ways, in the case of a deliberate violator, he might get off alright for the first time, and we have a club to use for the second violation.

However, in the case of ninety-five per cent of those that are brought in, who are your local merchants, who have goods on their shelves for which they are not responsible, we are trying to give that merchant a break in the passage of these proposed bills, which are now before you.

Mr. BANE. Mr. Speaker, I have listened with considerable interest to the debate on these measures, and in the consideration of them there are certain things which I think we ought to first understand.

The debate, I believe, is wandering afar afield. We have had on our statute books for a considerable number of years measures designed for the purpose of protecting the health and the general welfare of the public in this matter of pure food. These bills have nothing to do with the prescription or manner of deciding what shall or shall not constitute pure food. Those are already set up in the law. The only thing that these particular bills do is to prescribe the manner of the punishment for any violator who violates the provisions of the acts themselves.

I come from a county where I have practiced law for approximately eighteen years. I must agree with my colleague from Clearfield, that I do not recall that our court calendar is overburdened with cases arising out of the violations of the pure food laws. Therefore, as far as my own county of Fayette is concerned, I can argue intelligently to this august body, taking these cases out of the hands of the court and placing them in the first violation in the hands of the Justices of the Peace, alderman or magistrate, is going to materially help our court calendar. However, I should like to point out to the gentleman that in this entire period of time I have had but one case in eighteen years for violation of the pure food laws. It was very simple and a minor infraction and the gentleman involved in this particular case was adding artificial coloring to ice cream. He was engaged in the manufacture of ice cream. I know nothing about the chemical contents of that particular ice cream, and neither do you unless you are a chemist, however, I was advised by the chemist in the Department of Agriculture that this coloring matter contained a certain amount of acid which was injurious to the personal health of the individual eating the ice cream. That sort of a case brought into our courts was a subject of such a minor nature that in the end the defendant would have to pay if he was found guilty, at least three to four times for the penalty which he will have to pay by the alderman's fine had the case been brought there. I would like the gentleman to keep in mind that we are not here trying to decide how these laws should be enforced or what these pure food laws should be; we are talking about the violations of these particular pure food laws. If you want to take the floor and argue that these violators ought to go, then we ought not to try to arrest anyone, but if you would like to imply that anyone who violates a law ought to go free then there isn't much we can say in regard to debating these particular bills.

I take a position opposite to that of my colleague the gentleman from Clearfield. I believe that in minor cases, that they ought to be tried before a magistrate, alderman or justice of the peace. I have sufficient faith in that body that no enforcement officer is going arbitrarily to arrest any individual for the violation of the pure food laws unless he is violating it. If the case is proved in court he is going to find the gentleman guilty and impose a fine. The answer to that is this, this body has invested in the motor vehicle code jurisdiction in the justice of the peace to try all minor violations of the motor vehicle code. I have no statistics but I dare say for every violation of the pure food laws, there are five-hundred violations of the motor vehicle code.

If a citizen should be charged with violation of one of these acts and were brought before an alderman and arbitrarily found guilty, you have as much right to come in and file an appeal before the court from the summary conviction as you would have for the motor vehicle code. I submit to you, gentlemen, this is a far more expeditious and better method of getting it to the ear of the court and go before a grand jury, because if you are appealing from a summary conviction the court will grant an appeal and set a date for a hearing and take testimony on the matter. In a misdemeanor the alderman has no jurisdiction except to make a return to the court. That return then goes to the grand jury, and if it gets by the grand jury, it goes on your criminal calendar and comes up for action in criminal court. If that defendant is found guilty he has those additional costs to pay.

In answer to Mr. Breth's charge if he were a fast operator and he could beat this rap, I think you will agree with me that he has answered his own argument. If we have someone who is a fast operator, as far as violating the pure food laws, he ought to be stopped and stopped rapidly. It is true that our administrative affairs function rather slowly, but eventually they catch up with a persistent violator, so that if he gets by with a first offense in one or two different districts, they will catch up with him and when they do, the gentleman is in serious trouble.

Therefore, I submit to you, perhaps we are making a mountain out of a molehill so far as these measures are concerned. They only prescribe a form of punishment for those who violate the pure food laws, and I submit that this House should pass these measures.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins.

Mr. SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cameron permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman find anything in the present act where the department picks up a violator, suppose in the city of McKeesport, whereby they have to take the violator to the nearest justice of the peace or alderman or do they haul him into Pittsburgh?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, there is nothing in the act to my knowledge requiring the taking of that person to the nearest available magistrate.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Would it be possible, under the act, if a man is arrested at Pittsburgh, Allegheny County you could then take him to Westmoreland County and give him a hearing before a squire there?

Mr. TOMPKINS. No. Mr. Speaker, the prosecution must be made in the county in which the violation occurs.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, as I understand, under the present law the fine is $25.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Not less than $25., Mr. Speaker, nor more than $100. They vary with all the bills, but that is substantially the amount.

Mr. SPEAKER. Who gets the fine?

Mr. TOMPKINS. That fine goes to the Department of Agriculture, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Does the gentleman think that the Department would have any objection to holding these several bills up and amending them, providing that the $200 fine shall go to the local municipality where the offense is committed?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I cannot answer that question.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman think that would be a good amendment?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, in my opinion, no.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Why, Mr. Speaker, it is home rule, isn't it?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, the fine in this case, under your theory, the fine which is levied under the motor vehicle code should go to the local municipality, where the provision was made to go to the commission.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, under the motor vehicle code, I would say that probably half of the fine would go to the local municipality and half to the revenue department.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, that is only in case that a local municipality passes an ordinance, which they are authorized to do by the legislature.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, I think under the existing law the fine, which is five dollars under the motor vehicle code goes to the local municipality.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I believe that you must have a local ordinance in order to do so.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, I think that argument is beside the point. I am interested in getting $200 for my local borough.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I think that the gentleman's wishes are most worthy, but after all these fines are used as a part of the cost of administration of the bureaus which we have set up to enforce our laws and to protect the people from violations of the pure food laws.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, am I to understand that the $200 will go to the Department of Agriculture?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, whatever the amount of that fine is or whatever amount might be levied. The bill reads "Not exceeding $200." It might be a lesser fine.

Mr. GUARNIERI. Mr. Speaker, the interchange of debate and discussion of the bills has been most interesting. May I assure you that I speak for the masses of the people of Philadelphia, the great mass of the people, my constituents, and particularly the great mass of people in South Philadelphia. I am sure, Mr. Speaker, that what I am about to say represents the sentiments of the majority of my colleagues, our constituents from Philadelphia, especially on the Democratic side of the House.

I have noticed in the interchange here the use of the words "minor violation". A minor violation should be disposed of by a summary proceeding before a Justice of the peace or alderman. I want to say this, there is no minor violation when you deal with food, because food affects every child, the masses of the people, and there is no minor violation. If anything, I say that the penalty should be made stronger than ever. Furthermore, why should we worry about the persistent violators? There should be no persistent violators when we deal with the adulteration of food. Why should we have a change in the law to minimize the penalty and allow it to be dealt with by a Magistrate or a Justice of the peace. In the first instance the violation should be at least a misdemeanor and with a higher penalty. I am not concerned with the question as to whom the fine shall be paid. Why should we worry in Philadelphia or any other county as to by whom shall the fine be paid? I am interested in protecting the public health and the public safety. It is not my desire to penalize the small merchant. There has been some opinion expressed here that the small merchant is penalized under the present law, prior to the proposed change in the law. Perhaps the answer to that would be this, as my colleague has noted, that we might protect or we can protect that merchant who is innocent and without knowledge of what goods he has on his shelves, which may be adulterated by changing the law in another manner so as to include the matter of knowledge. We do have penal statutes which provide for such things. If that is the purpose of the legislation, let us do it in that manner by changing the mental element required for the fine instead of making it easier for the violators to go on with greater impunity. I say that no violation is a minor violator; it should not be so considered and thereby endanger the lives of the public.

In the matter of the summary offenses, various arguments have been made to you on the point as to how the administration acts in the counties, as to how the Justice of the Peace in County X has a knowledge of what is going on in County Y, Z, or what have you. There is no such thing as safeguarding the people. I say this, that the best evidence would not be productive merely because I come before a justice of the peace and he says "Guarnieri has violated this law before; this is his second offense." I say to you that we should have greater care and greater precaution in the handling of these matters, that they should be given publicity and notoriety in the handling of them, and that the local merchant, knowing that the penalties are higher and that he will have to face a grand jury and a court of trial, he will move with greater caution.

So, Mr. Speaker, I say let us do away with this proposed legislation; let us for the time being adhere to the laws on the books and let us look into the matter with greater caution and greater concern, and we can change the law to protect the innocent violator but I say, gentlemen, for God's sake, not in this manner.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Lycoming County, Mr. Ray L. Riley.

Mr. RILEY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say that if a mere oyster can cause all this discussion, I shall eat no more of them.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I wish to concur with the remarks of the gentleman from Lycoming Mr. Riley and also to concur in the remarks of the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Bane. I had intended to make some extended remarks on this subject, but in view of the statement of the gentleman from Lycoming, Mr. Riley, I simply want to concur in the remarks of the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Bane, and I ask the House to give favorable consideration to this measure.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the majority leader, the gentleman from Montgomery County, Mr. Brunner.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BRUNNER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, in the discussion of these bills, there was a question raised as to whether or not they were administration measures. Would the gentleman from Montgomery please explain to this House what an administration measure is?

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, I would say that an administration measure is a measure which has been requested of the legislature by the administration, in the hope that the legislature will see fit to enact through the House and the Senate, and if enacted the administration will see fit to adopt it by signing it.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, in other words, the gentleman says that this is an administration measure, is that correct?

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has heard a reply made on this floor, to which I can subscribe. This is a departmental bill and is not an administration measure.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, a departmental bill—is that not a part of the administration?

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, the Departments of this administration from time to time see fit to improve the legislation under which they operate. They make these suggested changes to this body while it is in session, in the hope that they can more efficiently operate thereafter. These bills are in that category.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman from Montgomery say that the Department of Agriculture is not a part of the administration?

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, it is definitely a part of the administration.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman say that a bill recommended by the Department of Agriculture was not an administration measure?

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, this bill is recommended by the Department of Agriculture. It is being recommended by the Department of Agriculture, but it is not necessarily recommended by the Governor of this Commonwealth. I do believe that they are in this category, should they be passed by the legislature in proper form, they will be signed and enacted into law.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman whether the Department of Agriculture has not taken this matter up with the Governor.

Mr. BRUNNER. I believe that it has, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman say that it has the blessing of the Governor?

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, I have not been told by the Governor that he would sign this bill or the kindred bills on the calendar if they are passed, but I believe that they would be signed.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, in other words, the gentleman will admit that these are administration measures?

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, I specifically deny to the gentleman that they are administration bills.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I always like it to be fair in these matters. I notice that in the beginning that our Majority Floor Leader passed the buck to a man whom we registered as a Democrat in the beginning of this legislative session. We do not like to argue with ourselves. We like to talk to the opposition once in awhile. We like to be fair about it. In these particular bills I do not believe we are adding strength to the present law. I think we are taking away from the strength of the present law. The gentleman from Philadelphia says "What is a minor violation." When you poison people, is that a minor violation? Under this law, when food goes into the stomach that is what happens. They say "You can eat it"; it might take a long time to kill you, it might take one hundred years and you would be dead at the end of one hundred years.

My friends, I want to say to you that I agree with my colleague in opposition to this legislation. I do not believe we are strengthening the law; we are weakening it.

I ask my colleagues to vote against this bill.

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cameron permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WEISS. Will the gentleman from Cameron tell the Members of the House just what changes this bill and the succeeding bills will make in the present law?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, in House Bill No. 7, and this would go substantially for all of the other bills in this series, the offense is made a misdemeanor in the first instance. It carries a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars, nor more than two hundred dollars, or thirty days in jail. That is a fixed fine and a fixed number of days in jail. Under the proposed legislation for the first offense, it would be a fine not exceeding two hundred dollars or not exceeding sixty days in jail, either or both. In the case of a second offense, it is a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars or an imprisonment not exceeding six months, either or both.

I would call to your attention the fact that you have a flexible rule to use in connection with the imposition of penalties under the proposed act. There is no minimum fine or imprisonment.

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, I direct the gentleman to page 3 of House Bill No. 7, Printer's No. 35, line 8, which states among other things, for violations of the provisions of this act or any rule, regulation or order made pursuant to this act,—does the gentleman have that page, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Yes, I do, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, under the old act was it possible to fine an individual for a violation of any rule, regulation or order by the department?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Yes, Mr. Speaker, it would, if you will refer to page 2, lines 6 and 7.

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman have a copy of the 1925 pamphlet laws?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I do not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, if I told the gentleman that I checked the 1925 pamphlet laws and the 1934 pamphlet laws, and if I told him there isn't anything in the act which states about any rule, regulation or order, would the gentleman then state that there is a penalty change in the act?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would say that.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Will the gentleman please get a copy of the 1925 Pamphlet laws?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I am willing to take the gentleman's word for that.

Mr. WEISS. That is all.

Mr. Speaker, I want to point out to the Members of the House that the changes in this bill and the succeeding bills in this matter were called to my attention by the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, and I want to give him credit. He asked me to be his legal advisor in this instance. He called to my attention that none of these acts or proposed changes contained any reference about rules, regulations or orders in the department, whether the orders would be discriminatory, arbitrary or otherwise. In other words, under the provision of this act, any order regulation or rule made by the department would make it possible for any individual to violate the rule, regulation or order of the department, without any of these individuals having notice of the rule, regulation or order, and say "you are guilty of that particular offense". If that is the case, I am just wondering, and I believe that Mr. Brown, who is the constitutional authority of the House, would have to answer that, if that change is contemplated in the act, that that change should be put in the title of the act, because the title of the act only refers to a change in the penalties, and it has nothing to do with the rules, regulations or orders of the department.

I feel under the circumstances that if the department wants these items in, they should put them in the title, and the Members should note that in addition to a change in the criminal provisions of the act, they are also changing the law so that any violation of a Departmental rule, regulation or order makes them subject to a fine.

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, I think this is the first occasion when a bill has been presented to this House and has been discussed at length. I think that the membership now has had enough opportunity to make up its mind. I subscribe to the fact that this bill is acceptable and I trust that the membership will vote "aye".

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. Lovett, Weiss and Breth.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 101

An Act to amend the act approved the twenty-first day of January one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 3) entitled "An act relating to officers and employes of the General Assembly fixing the number qualifications compensation mileage and duties of the officers and employes of the Senate and of the House of Representatives providing for their election or appointment term of office or of service removal and manner of filling vacancies and making appropriations to the Senate House of Representatives and Legislative Reference Bureau" by changing the compensation of the officers and employes of the Senate and the House of Representatives and making appropriations

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments. The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1, page 3, line 9 by striking out the words and figures "eight thousand dollars ($8000)" and inserting in lieu thereof the words and figures "nine thousand dollars ($9000)"; page 3, line 12, by striking out the words and figures "six thousand five hundred dollars ($6500)" and inserting in lieu thereof "seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7500)"; page 3, line 15, by striking out the words and figures "five thousand five hundred dollars ($5500)" and inserting in lieu thereof the words and figures "six thousand dollars ($6000)".

Amend Section 2, page 4, lines 5 and 6 by striking out the words and figures "one thousand nine hundred eighty dollars ($1980)" and inserting in lieu thereof the words and figures "two thousand eight hundred dollars ($2800)".

Amend Section 3, page 7, line 2 by striking out the words and figures "eight dollars ($8) each" and inserting in lieu thereof the words and figures "fifteen dollars ($15) each"; page 8, line 15 by striking out the words and figures "one thousand six hundred fifty dollars ($1650)" and inserting in lieu thereof the words and figures "one thousand eight hundred dollars ($1800)".

Amend Section 4, page 9, lines 11 and 12 by striking out the words and figures "two hundred ten dollars ($210)" and inserting in lieu thereof the words and figures "two hundred twenty-five dollars ($225)".

Amend Section 6, page 10, lines 11 and 12 by striking out the words and figures "two thousand four hundred twenty dollars ($2420)" and inserting in lieu thereof the words and figures "two thousand five hundred dollars ($2500)".

Amend Section 8, page 13, line 11 by striking out the words and figures "eleven dollars ($11) each" and inserting in lieu thereof the words and figures "one message clerk at a per diem compensation of twelve dollars ($12) one assistant message clerk at a per diem compensation of eleven dollars ($11)".

Amend Section 2, page 23, line 1 by striking out the words and figures "one thousand dollars ($1000)", and inserting in lieu thereof the words and figures "seven hundred fifty dollars ($750)"; page 23, line 5 by striking out the words and figures "seven hundred fifty dollars

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, inasmuch as the gentleman from Cambria and I are co-sponsoring this measure, so far as my sponsorship is concerned, I move that we do concur in the amendments inserted in the bill by the Senate. I yield now to the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I concur in the amendments from the Senate only as a result of Senatorial duress. If we do not concur in the amendments of the Senate the increases in the compensation to the House employees will be delayed. My objection to the bill is that the grand exalted Whip in the Senate on the minority side, who now only has fifteen stragglers to care for, has a contingency fund of $1000, while the militant and courageous mininority Whip of the House who has ninety-one Members to care for, half of them stragglers, only gets $750. I hope that justice will prevail in the end and that our courageous Whip will ultimately be placed upon a financial parity with the grand exalted Whip in the Senate.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

viction for any subsequent violation of this act such person shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100) nor more than two hundred dollars ($200) and by imprisonment in the county jail of not less than ninety days nor more than six months] Any person copartnership association or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act or any rule regulation or order made pursuant to this act shall for the first offense upon summary conviction thereof be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding two hundred dollars ($200) and in default thereof such person or the responsible officers and agents of the corporation or association shall be sentenced to undergo imprisonment for not more than sixty (60) days and for a second or subsequent offense be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500) or in the case of individuals and the responsible officers and agents of corporations and associations to undergo imprisonment not exceeding six months or both

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, with the consent of the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Breth, I would suggest that on the succession of bills to which we are now devoting attention the initial roll call will be the roll call of all of them.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 9, as follows:

An Act to further amend section three of the act approved the eighth day of June one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 712) entitled "An act relating to milk providing for the protection of the public health and the prevention of fraud and deception by regulating the sale of milk skimmed milk and cream providing penalties for the violation thereof and providing for the enforcement thereof" making first violations of said act summary offenses instead of misdemeanors and changing penalties

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JIM asked for and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, on January 4th I was sworn in as a member of the House of Representatives in the General Assembly. For me to have the honor of being elected and serve here in the Capitol in Harrisburg has been a long and strenuous endeavor.

I was born April 27, 1893 in Whitney, Pennsylvania in Unity Township, first district of Westmoreland County, and have lived in the community of Latrobe all my life.

I am married and have three children.

My Work History: Office Work—Clerk—Bookkeeper—Manager and now Salesman.

I have rendered service in Latrobe in many civic affairs; Past President of two organizations, one civic and the other social.

The first time I was a candidate was in the primary election of 1934, at which time I ran on both tickets—the Democratic and Republican. I carried only one precinct at this primary election. I was a candidate in the primary election of 1936 on the Democratic ticket and according to the counting, lost by only one vote. However, through a re-count and court decision, a precinct in which I had received a majority vote was thrown out on account of irregularities by the election board. I lost the nomination. Since the results of the contest were not satisfactory to me, I formed a new party and ran as an independent candidate on the Peoples' Protective Party at the November election of 1936, and carried one precinct. I was a candidate at the Primary Election of 1940 and lost one of the nominations by 65 votes.

During the regular session of 1941 and the special session of 1942, I was a clerk of committees in the General Assembly. While the special session of 1942 was in progress I resigned as a clerk and filed my petition as a candidate for the General Assembly at the Primary Election of 1942. I lost the nomination. I was a candidate at the Primary Election of 1944 and again in the Primary Election of 1946, losing one of the nominations by seven votes. A candidate at the Primary Election of 1948, I was nominated and elected at the General Election on November 2, 1948.

In my ambition to be a representative in this assembled body, I have tried all means allowed under the laws of the Commonwealth, first as a candidate of the Republican and Democratic Parties in the primary election of 1934; second as an independent candidate, the Peoples Protective Party; General Election of 1936 and finally on November 2, 1948 I was elected. I was a candidate on and off from 1934 to 1948, in all nine times, my name appeared on the ballot ten times. During my campaign of 1934 and 1936 I did not have a car, I walked, traveled by street cars, borrowed a car or went out with a friend that had a car. During the campaigns 1940 to 1948 I traveled in my Ford Coupe distributing my hand cards. Mostly house to house personal visits. This is what I have done to be here today to represent the people of my district and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The first district of Westmoreland County comprises a territory of about thirty-five miles wide and thirty miles long and a registration of twenty-eight thousand voters. 11 Boroughs—9 Townships.

A district of many natural resources—farming, industries, historical and religious interest. The natural resources are: woodland, timber, coal and natural gas. There are plenty of streams in and about the ridges which makes for excellent fishing. We can also lay claim to plenty of wild game. There are three to four hundred deer killed each year.

The Ligonier Valley and townships are surrounded with many beautiful and producing farms. The Ligonier Valley, where the Rolling Rock farms are located, is the only place in Pennsylvania which holds a steeplechase each year. Skiing is a winter sport in the Ligonier Valley mountains.

Industries—manufacturers of high speed steel products known throughout the United States are located in Latrobe, Pa. Glass industry, Mt. Pleasant, Pa.—Derry, Pa., known as a railroad town where are located many railroad employees. Our chief industry, coal mining by product coke—and timber being cut from the woods.

Historical—Fort Ligonier was built in 1758 by Colonel Henry Bouquet the first English Fort to be built west of the Alleghenies.

Pershing Park wherein and about the forefathers of former General John J. Pershing of World War I landed and lived. A tablet is erected in this park in the memory of Frederick Pershing, 1824-1794, dedicated by General John J. Pershing A.D. 1923. This park is now owned and kept up by the AMVETS of Latrobe, Pa., about two miles from Latrobe.

Johnston House—Wm. F. Johnston, Governor of Pennsylvania, 1848-52, was born near here in 1808. This house built by his father in 1815, was his boyhood home. Known as the Kingston House, it has been cited as a fine example of Colonial Style. Constructed of wood and stone, cobblestones under the sod, it originally was a tavern where horses and men rested on stagecoach runs. The oak floors still remain and the window is still there through which liquor was sold. It is not subsidized by the state and has been owned by the Johnstons for five generations. Descendants of Johnston are now living in it. This house about two miles from Latrobe.

Religious interests—One of the oldest Presbyterian Churches, called Salem Presbyterian Church, located in Derry Twp., is about 163 years old and services are still held there in a brick building built in 1848. A cemetery with many epitaphs engraved on the stone are still legible. Salem cemetery is located on a steep hill. Why the early settlers selected this spot for a cemetery I cannot understand or answer.

St. Vincent Arch Abbey and College where the first Order of St. Benedict was founded in 1846 and the only Arch Abbot in the United States located near Latrobe, Pa., over 100 years old. The present St. Vincent site was at one time known as Sportsman's Hall, a log cabin dating back to 1790. This was a place of worship used by the first settlers of the community.

Roads—The Forbes trail, made in 1700 led to Fort Ligonier, Fort Duquesne now Pittsburgh. Route 30 Lincoln Highway, and Route 22 William Penn Highway. The Pennsylvania turnpike known as the "Super Highway" are the main roads passing through the first district of Westmoreland County.

Sports—Latrobe the town where Professional Football was first played. John K. Brallier, now a Dentist was the first football player to play for money. On September 3, 1895 in a game he played he received $10.00. A recreation field now being developed with a Hall of Fame for Professional Football, recognized and endorsed by the National Football League.

Streams of Water—The Loyalhanna Creek, head waters starts in Laurel Hill Mountains derived its name from Indians of the territory. Jacob Creek—Indian Creek. We are bounded by the Conemaugh and Kiskiminetas river.

Airports—The Hill Airport on the Lincoln Highway located near Latrobe. The New Alexandria Airport located on the William Penn Highway, New Alexandria, Pa.

Miscellaneous—Stahlstown, Pa.—Perhaps the only place in Pennsylvania where for many years past they gather in the Fall at a reunion for the benefit of churches in that community and present a Flax Scutcheon—demonstrating the weaving of flax into cloth for wearing apparel as the early settlers did and a program including men on guard for attacks from the Indians.

State Forests—State Game land reserves and many State Parks are located in the first district.

State Parks—The Keystone State Park located in Derry Twp., comprising over 800 acres of land is now being developed by the state. When this park is completed, it will be one for recreation facilities of fishing, boat riding, swimming—the woods abounds with wild game—deer, foxes, and many other small game in the Park area.

Schools—St. Vincent Abbey and College, located near Latrobe, Pa., Kiski Prep School located near Saltsburg, Pa., St. Xavier Academy for boys and girls located near Latrobe, Pa.

Hospitals—Torrance State Hospital, Torrance, Pa., Latrobe Hospital, Latrobe, Pa., The Frick Memorial Hospital, Mt. Pleasant, Pa., The McGinnis Hospital, Ligonier, Pa., the Bethlen Home for Children, and the Aged, Ligonier, Pa.

Boy Scouts—Camp Wesco, Stahlstown, Pa., Twin Echo Camp, R. D. New Florence, Pa.

Railroads—The Pennsylvania Railroad, Ligonier Valley Railroad from Latrobe to Ligonier and Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

These are a few of the many assets that are located in the first district of Westmoreland County where I have campaigned to be a member of the General Assembly.

In the first district of Westmoreland County we have many of the things that make Pennsylvania a great state for life and industry.

My hobbies—Campaign 1934-1948. Candidate nine times.

Sports—Hunting deer and small game.

Baseball—I am a second Rosy Rosewell, as far as the Pittsburgh Pirates are concerned. I want them to win baseball games, when they lose a game, the Manager, the players are at fault.

Football—I see a few games each year and listen to broadcasts on the Radio at every opportunity.

Civic Affairs of the Community—Always ready to render any service for humanity and the betterment of our community.

For this privilege of presenting my views of Democracy in the Working, I am grateful to the Speaker and give many thanks to the Members of this body.

With God's guidance, by the will of the people for the people, I shall use my convictions with sincere and honest judgment to render service to the best of my ability to the people of my district and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. SCANLON and ROSE. RESOLUTION No. 16

In the House of Representatives, February 2, 1949

Whereas, The Joint State Government Commission has held preliminary hearings in the city of Philadelphia in the matter of Philadelphia Government and its legislative problems; and

Whereas, The Joint State Government Commission was limited in its scope of subject matter covered by its investigation; and

Whereas, The Joint State Government Commission has today ceased the function in this capacity of an investigating body in the problems confronting the city of Philadelphia; and

Whereas, This investigation is properly a matter before the Joint State Government Commission and important to all the people of the State; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby instructed to continue its study into the matters pertaining to the city of Philadelphia, namely the laws of the Commonwealth affecting the city and county government, the charges and counter charges of malfeasance and corruption in office of elected and appointed public officials, the charges of undue political interference and pressure upon the administrative bodies of the city and county of Philadelphia; and be it further

In the House of Representatives, February 2, 1949

Whereas, Members of the General Assembly have been asked to sit in judgment upon proposals embodied in the executive budget calling for the expenditure during the next biennium of one billion dollars, and

Whereas, Appropriations suggested in the budget call in many instances for the expenditure of round sums for purposes which are set forth only in general terms, the result being that if the appropriations are authorized upon the basis set forth, the departments asking for such round sum appropriations are in effect asking for blank checks, and

Whereas, The Budget Office is furnished by the Commonwealth's various departments, bureaus and commissions with itemized budget requests, and

Whereas, In the course of its routine operations the Budget Office may scale departmental requests arbitrarily without regard for the actual departmental needs, and

Whereas, Members of the General Assembly, in order to act intelligently upon departmental budget requests, cannot do so if it relies entirely upon Budget Office decisions as to relative need, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Budget Secretary is instructed, when Members of this House so request, to furnish them with exact copies of the budget requests compiled by the Commonwealth's various departments, bureaus, and commissions in the form in which those requests were originally filed with the Budget Secretary.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE CHAIR

The PRESIDENT. An effort has been made to improve the public address system, the amplification system here in the Senate Chamber. Some of the members have complained that they have not been able to hear, even when the microphones are used. We have been experimenting with this system for the past week to try to improve it, and I would like you, at the end of the Session, to report to me if you can not hear satisfactorily the various microphones, whether it is the one at the rostrum, or at the Clerk's desk, or the individual microphones in the Chamber.

I would suggest that when the members use the microphone they speak into it, so that the speaking part of it is at the level with the mouth of the speaker.

RESOLUTIONS

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, to voice the sentiments of the largest segment of the population in the 5th Senatorial district, I wish to present the following resolution.

MEMORIALIZING THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES TO INSTRUCT DELEGATES OF THE UNITED STATES IN THE UNITED NATIONS TO LODGE THEIR PROTESTS AGAINST THE TRIAL OF JOSEPH CARDINAL MINDSZENTY

Mr. STIEFEL offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations:

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, February 7, 1949.

Whereas the entire civilized world is shocked by the current trial of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty in Hungary, and

Whereas the aforesaid trial is reeking with prejudice and political machinations, and

Whereas Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty, is a great humanitarian whose timely help during the Nazi regime in Hungary saved from the German hangmen hundreds of thousands of their victims regardless of race or religion, and

Whereas this persecution of great religious leader is contrary to the principles of American Democracy.

Now Therefore be It Resolved, that the Senate of Pennsylvania memorialize His Excellency the President of the United States to instruct the delegates of the United States in the United Nations to lodge at once their protests with the proper authorities of the United Nations against the trial of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty and voice their abhorrence with the practices that have been displayed by the Hungarian Court during the aforesaid trial

And Be It Further Resolved, that the Secretary of the Senate forward copies of this resolution upon its adoption to His Excellency the President of the United States and to the Secretary of State.

REQUESTING SUPPLEMENTAL STATEMENTS OF EXPENDITURES FROM THE VARIOUS DEPARTMENTS, BOARDS AND COMMISSIONS

Mr. YOSKO offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, February 7, 1949.

Whereas, His Excellency, James H. Duff, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, submitted the 13th and 14th Biennial Budgets of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the biennium, June 1, 1947 to May 31, 1949 and from June 1, 1949 to May 31, 1951, calling for the expenditure during each biennium of one billion dollars, more or less, and

Whereas, In the printed Budget Report submitted by the Governor, expenditures of departments, boards and commissions are listed only for the fiscal year, June 1, 1947 to May 31, 1948. Therefore, expenditures made by said departments, boards and commissions from June 1, 1948 to the present time are not available to the Appropriations Committee and Members of the Pennsylvania Senate and House of Representatives, which is important for a proper analysis of the budget requests of said departments, boards and commissions for the biennium beginning June 1, 1949 and ending May 31, 1951, and

Whereas, Appropriations requested by the various departments, boards and commissions for the biennium beginning June 1, 1949 and ending May 31, 1951, appear in the printed Budget Report in round sums and only in general terms, and

Whereas, In order for the Members of the Senate and the House of Representatives to act intelligently on said budget requests, they should have available to them copies of the budget requests as submitted to the Budget Bureau for their examination and study, and

Whereas, Budget requests submitted by the various departments, boards and commissions to the Budget Bureau have been changed in some instances by the Budget Bureau, and

Whereas, It is important to the Members of the Senate and the House of Representatives to have knowledge of said changes in order for the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives to intelligently compute final approval of appropriations to the various departments, boards and commissions, and

Whereas, If the Members of the Senate and the House of Representatives make final appropriations without thoroughly auditing and/or analyzing expenditures made during the biennium beginning June 1, 1947 and ending May 31, 1949, and the change or changes made by the Budget Bureau of budget requests and the original budget requests filed by the various departments, boards and commissions, it would be equivalent to the Members of the Senate and the House of Representatives writing blank checks as appropriations to the various departments, boards and commissions for the biennium beginning June 1, 1949 and ending May 31, 1951, and

Whereas, Inquiry in the office of the Chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee disclosed that only one copy of the original budget requests as submitted by the various departments, boards and commissions, is available to the total Membership of the Senate and the House of Representatives, and

Whereas, For practical reasons and for the convenience of the Members of the Senate and the House of Representatives, additional copies of said original budget requests is necessary and important and should be made available to the Members of the Senate and the House of Representatives for their use at all times, therefore be it

Resolved, That the various departments, boards and commissions having submitted a statement of expenditures for only the fiscal year June 1, 1947 to May 31, 1948, shall submit a supplemental statement of expenditures to March 1, 1949.
